Subject: Thank You For Training Me for Cricket Match

Dear _____ (Name of the Recipient)

I am writing this letter to thank you for training me for today's match. I am grateful to you for being my cricket coach for the past 4 years. It is because of your efforts that I have become better at the sport. I could hit 104 runs in today's match and also contribute to my team's victory. I am glad to have a coach like you.

Even on days when I am not in a good form, you do not give up on me. You have also taught me the skill of never giving up. It is only because of your guidance and patience that I could make a place for myself in the _____ Team. Every time someone appreciates my game, I feel thankful to you for teaching me. I owe all my success to you.

I am grateful to have a hardworking coach like you. Thank you for training me to be great at the sport.

Sincerely,

The Electrical Journal ,1911 Handbook of Clinical Behavior Therapy with the Elderly Client Patricia A. Wisocki, 2013-11-21 Although we speak of the elderly as if there were one body of people with common characteristics older adults are more heterogeneous than any other population. People over the age of 65 are also the fastest growing segment of the population in the United States currently numbering 25 million. The majority of older adults reside in their communities; a small fraction of them are cared for in institutions. Most may expect to experience some kind of physical impairment. Approximately a quarter of the population may expect to suffer a mental health impairment. While traditional therapies have not been especially effective for older adults, behavior therapy has shown exceptional promise as a treatment modality. This book presents a comprehensive explication of the relatively new field of behavioral gerontology. It was written for the clinician interested in the interaction of medical, environmental, and psychological variables and their effects on treatment of elderly clients and for the researcher who will be looking to extend knowledge about interventions with this population. It will be useful for the graduate student in clinical psychology as well as the experienced clinician who will want to include the elderly in his or her therapeutic population.

Multilingual Perspectives in Geolinguistics: 2nd Edition is a publication of the American Society of Geolinguistics created with the active participation of its Japanese membership. The 2nd edition is a significantly expanded version with new chapters contributed by special request of the editorial staff. The editors in chief are Professor Wayne Finke of Baruch College, City University of New York and Professor Hikaru Kitabayashi of Daito Bunka University. The object was to offer potential readers a more complete introduction to current literature dealing with geolinguistic themes than was the case with the first edition, with Geolinguistics being defined as the study of languages and varieties of language in contact and/or conflict. This 2nd edition also contains many small corrections to the original text and it is to be hoped that it will offer a more satisfying experience than was possible with the first edition, which due to its historical interest is being kept in print for the time being.
