Shackelford, Virgil Zeigler-Hill,2019-10-21 The latest volume in this multidisciplinary series on key topics in evolutionary studies Evolutionary Perspectives on Death provides an evolutionary analysis of mortality and the consideration of death Bringing together noted experts from a variety of fields the books emanate from conferences held at Oakland University and are dedicated to providing wide ranging and occasionally provocative views of human evolution The volume on death covers topics from biology anthropology psychology sociology and philosophy with contributors addressing how evolution informs the process of comprehending grieving depicting celebrating and accepting death Among the topics covered Evolutionary perspectives on the loss of a twin Nonhuman primate responses to death Death in literature Witnessing and representing the death of pets The role of human decomposition facilities in shaping American perspectives on death This insightful volume showcases groundbreaking empirical and theoretical research addressing death and mortality from an evolutionary perspective demonstrating the intellectual value of an interdisciplinary approach to understanding psychological processes and behavior Chapter 6 of this book is available open access under a CC BY 4 0 license at link.springer.com      Death in the Victorian Family Patricia Jalland,1996 This enthralling book explores the experience of dying death grieving and mourning in the years between 1830 1920 Victorian letters and diaries reveal a deep preoccupation with death because of a shorter life expectancy a high death rate for infants and children and a dominant Christian culture Drawing upon the private correspondence diaries and death memorial of fifty five middle and upper class families Pat Jalland shows us how dying death and grieving were experience by Victorian families and how the manner and rituals of death and mourning varied with age gender disease religious belief family size and class She examines deathbed scenes good and bad deaths funerals and cremations mourning rituals widowhood and the roles of religion and medicine      The Right to Be Protected from Committing Suicide Jonathan Herring,2022-06-16 This book argues that suicidal people have the right to receive treatment and for reasonable steps to be taken that they are protected from killing themselves Those suffering threats to life from mental health issues deserve the same protection as those who face threats to life from ill health or violence from others The book explores the ethical and legal case for giving those beset with suicidal thoughts the treatment they need and for reasonable steps to be taken to prevent them attempting suicide Debates around suicide tend to be dominated by cases involving those with terminal medical conditions seeking assisted dying But of those wishing to die it is far more common to find middle aged men and young people oppressed by mental health and personal problems Too often the woeful failure in the funding of mental health services in the UK means that suicidal people are denied the support and help they desperately need This ground breaking book makes the legal and ethical case for recognising that the state and public authorities have a duty to provide and implement an effective suicide prevention strategy
