 control programs From Incarceration to Repatriation Susan C. I. Grunewald,2024-07-15 From Incarceration to Repatriation explores the lives and memories of the nearly 1 5 million German POWs who were held by the Soviet Union during and after World War II and released in phases through 1956 seven years longer than the prisoners of any other Allied nation Susan C I Grunewald argues that Soviet leadership deliberately kept able bodied German POWs to supplement their labor force after the end of the war The Soviet Union lost 27 million citizens and a quarter of its physical assets during the war motivating Soviet leadership to harness the labor of German POWs for as long as possible Engaging with recently declassified documents in former Soviet archives archival material from multiple German governments as well as innovative use of digital humanities methods and geographic information system GIS mapping Grunewald demonstrates that Soviet authorities detained German POWs primarily for economic rather than punitive reasons In fact the GIS mapping of the historical materials makes it clear that most of the four thousand POW camps across the USSR were strategically located near industrial infrastructure and natural resource sites that were critical to postwar economic reconstruction From Incarceration to Repatriation is the first book to draw together the distinct fields of Soviet and German history to provide a more nuanced and comprehensive understanding of German POW captivity in the USSR during and after World War II Attending to the ways that the memory of German POWs remains in circulation in both the former Soviet Union and Germany

 DiBacco,Lorna C. Mason,Christian G. Appy,1991 China's Globalization from Below Theodor Tudoroiu,2021-09-09 This book analyzes the Chinese centered globalization from below brought about by China s entrepreneurial migrants and conceived of as a projection of Chinese power in the Belt and Road Initiative partner states It identifies the features of this globalization from below scrutinizes its mutually reinforcing relationship with China s globalization from above and shows that these two globalizations are intrinsically related to the construction of a new international order It outlines how the actors in China s globalization from below include Chinese emigrants who are located in informal transnational economic networks It reveals that Beijing has enacted many laws that compel these emigrants to contribute to the development of their country of origin but also influences them through the successful promotion of a specific type of deterritorialized nationalism and that China is ready to impose harsh punitive actions on political elites in partner states which fail to protect its migrants or limit their economic activities Finally it argues that China s globalization from below is fundamentally different from the non hegemonic globalization from below represented by among others Lebanese and East Indian traders and that China s globalization from below is rather a self interested national strategy intended to support the construction of a Chinese centered international order Foreign Aid Appropriations, 1948-1951 United States.
