chapters on the subject Foreign Direct Investment and the Multinational Enterprise Steven Brakman, Harry Garretsen, 2008 The multinational firm and its main vehicle foreign direct investment are key forces in economic globalization Their importance to the world economy can be seen in the fact that since 1990 foreign direct investment has grown more rapidly than the world GDP and world trade Despite this the causes and consequences of multinational firm activity are little understood and until recently relatively unexamined in the theoretical literature This CESifo volume fills this gap examining the multinational enterprise MNE and foreign direct investment FDI from both theoretical and empirical perspectives In the theoretical chapters leading scholars take a wide range of modern analytical approaches from new growth and trade theories to new economic geography industrial organization and game theory Taking current theoretical work on MNE and FDI as a starting point and aiming to extend the existing theoretical framework the contributors consider such topics as investment liberalization and firm location tax competition and welfare consequences of FDI and outsourcing The empirical chapters test several of the key hypotheses of recent theoretical work on MNE and FDI examining topics that include productivity effects on Italian MNEs the different effects of outsourcing in Austria and Poland location decisions of MNEs in the European Union and other topics Contributors Oscar Amerighi Bruce A Blonigen Steven Brakman Davide Castellani Ronald B Davies Alan V Deardorff Fabrice Defever Harry Garretsen Anders N Hoffman Andzelika Lorentowicz James R Markusen Charles van Marrewijk Dalia Marin James R Markusen Alireza Naghavi Helen T Naughton Giorgio Barba Navaretti J Peter Neary Gianmarco Ottaviano Alexander Raubold Glen R Waddell Steven Brakman is Professor of Globalization in the Faculty of Economics at the University of Groningen Harry Garretsen is Professor of International Economics at the Utrecht School of Economics Utrecht University

Investigating Rollenwahrnehmung, Perspective and Space through Virtual Reality related Game Interfaces Daniel P. O. Wiedemann, 2021-01-03 This book is the publication of my PhD dissertation and is written in the corresponding style The included research provides explorations and investigative reflections on Rollenwahrnehmung a newly coined phrase meaning role perception fulfillment Perspective and Space through Virtual Reality VR game interfaces A number of important topics will be addressed like the creation of new experiences in the context of VR the extension and new development of various interaction paradigms various User Experience UX aspects and user guidance in a sophisticated new medium Placed in the field of design practice this research focuses on the creation of digital gaming artifacts while extrapolating insights and guidelines concerning VR interfaces Hence this practice based research is derived from a portfolio of specifically developed interactive artifacts following the methodological approach of Constructive Design Research These include the VR related games Nicely Dicely LizzE And the Light of Dreams and Gooze They were used for various Lab experiments and Showroom presentations while continually being refined throughout an iterative process Nicely Dicely is an abstract game based on physics In Local Multiplayer up to four players are able to compete or collaborate It is not a VR game per se but features both Monoscopic and 3D Stereoscopic Vision modes which were tested in an experiment on their effect on Player Immersion LizzE And the Light of Dreams is a Singleplayer 3rd Person Hack and Slay game based in a fantasy universe In an experiment the game was used to primarily investigate in which ways 3rd Person VR games can work for a broad audience regarding camera behavior Gooze is a 1st Person VR puzzle game taking place in a realistic horror environment with supernatural aspects It was designed with diverse VR interaction technologies in mind and offers users different options to play the game depending on available hardware and preferences The Locomotion and Virtual Object Interaction mechanics were tested in an experiment regarding their UX In summary this book illustrates various game interface and VR designs informing the emerging field of VR game development of the relationship between UX interfaces and gameplay Furthermore guidelines for designing and developing specific aspects of VR games were identified and each single artifact can be used as a design and development precedent for practice and academia

Augmented Reality Andrew Yeh Ching Nee, 2011-12-09 Augmented Reality AR is a natural development from virtual reality VR which was developed several decades earlier AR complements VR in many ways Due to the advantages of the user being able to see both the real and virtual objects simultaneously AR is far more intuitive but it s not completely detached from human factors and other restrictions AR doesn t consume as much time and effort in the applications because it s not required to construct the entire virtual scene and the environment In this book several new and emerging application areas of AR are presented and divided into three sections The first section contains applications in outdoor and mobile AR such as construction restoration security and surveillance The second section deals with AR in medical biological and human bodies The third and final section contains a number of new and useful applications in daily living and learning
