Open Learning as a Means of Advancing Social Justice Tabisa Mayisela, Shanali Govender, 2024-01-23 This volume investigates the uptake of open learning in South African Technical Vocational Education and Training TVET colleges and higher education institutions Comprised of 16 studies focused on activities at a range of colleges and universities across the country these chapters aim to promote a better understanding of open learning practices across the Post School Education and Training PSET sector including issues such as recognition of prior learning access for students with disabilities work integrated learning professional development novel student funding mechanisms leadership for open educational practices institutional culture student support blended and online learning flexible learning online assessment open educational resource development models and funding and micro credentials This collection of peer reviewed chapters contributes to understanding the ways in which South African PSET institutions and educators are interpreting open learning as a means of advancing social justice It includes a historical and contemporary understanding of the economic cultural and political obstacles facing PSET drawing on Nancy Fraser s theory of social justice as participatory parity to better understand the ways in which open learning may address systemic social injustices in order to allow South African students and educators to thrive This volume emerges from research conducted by the Cases on Open Learning COOL project an initiative by the Department of Higher Education and Training in partnership with the Centre for Innovation in Learning and Teaching CILT at the University of Cape Town UCT in South Africa

Extractive Industries and Changing State Dynamics in Africa Jon Schubert, Ulf Engel, Elísio Macamo, 2018-07-04 This book uses extractive industry projects in Africa to explore how political authority and the nation state are reconfigured at the intersection of national political contestations and global transnational capital Instead of focusing on technological zones and the new social assemblages at the actual sites of construction or mineral extraction the authors use extractive industry projects as a topical lens to investigate contemporary processes of state making at the state corporation nexus Throughout the book the authors seek to understand how public political actors and private actors of liberal capitalism negotiate and redefine notions and practices of sovereignty by setting legal regulatory and fiscal standards Rather than looking at resource governance from a normative perspective the authors look at how these negotiations are shaped by and reshape the self conception of various national and transnational actors and how these jointly redefine the role of the state in managing these processes for the greater good Extractive Industries and Changing State Dynamics in Africa will be useful for researchers upper level students and policy makers who are interested in new articulations of state making and politics in Africa

Origin and Evolution of the Cape Mountains and Karoo Basin Bastien Linol, Maarten J. de Wit, 2016-09-03 This book describes the latest research on the geological geochemical geochronological biological and geomorphic evolution of the unique and relatively pristine landscape of the Cape Mountains and the Karoo Basin a region in South Africa that is currently being targeted for shale gas exploration and development With up to date graphics maps drill core and seismic data it offers the latest observations and synthesis and highlights areas of ongoing research The work presented also considers a wider connection of the Cape Karoo system to other basins in Central Gondwana including South America thus following in the footsteps of A L du Toit Clearly there is still much to be learned before shale gas development can be considered and this book provides some timely perspectives

Information Technology in Environmental Engineering Jorge Marx Gómez, Brenda Scholtz, 2016-02-04 This book presents new concepts as well as practical applications and experiences in the field of information technology for environmental engineering. The book has three main focus areas: firstly it shows how information technologies can be employed to support natural resource management and conservation; environmental engineering scientific simulation and integrated assessment studies. Secondly it demonstrates the application of computing in the everyday practices of environmental engineers, natural scientists, economists and social scientists. And thirdly it demonstrates how the complexity of natural phenomena can be approached using interdisciplinary methods where computer science offers the infrastructure needed for environmental data collection and management scientific simulations, decision support, documentation and reporting. The book collects selected papers presented at the 7th International Symposium on Environmental Engineering held in Port Elizabeth, South Africa, in July 2015. It discusses recent success stories in eco-informatics, promising ideas and new challenges from the interdisciplinary viewpoints of computer scientists, environmental engineers, economists and social scientists, demonstrating new paradigms for problem solving and decision making.
