Modeling should:

- be presented in an authentic, enthusiastic and engaging way.
- include any prompts that will be available for students (graphic organizers, charts, etc.).
- show students how to use the steps of the strategy and effectively utilize self-regulation procedures.

Stage 4: Memorize It

- Students participate in activities to help them memorize the strategy and their personalized self-instructions.
- Students who have difficulty with memorization can be provided with prompts (cue cards with steps).

Stage 5: Support It

- Students will gradually take responsibility for using the writing strategy and self-regulating procedures.
- Teacher provides differentiated levels of support according to students progress.
- Student should be independent after writing 2-4 compositions.

Stage 6: Independent Performance

- Students independently use the writing strategy and self-regulation procedures.
- Teacher and student continue to apply plans for generalization and maintenance to evaluate efficacy.
