Hope and Kinship in Contemporary Fiction Gero Bauer,2024-01-11 Explores the emphasis that contemporary novels films and television series place on the present arguing that hope emerges from the potentiality of the here and now rather than the future and as intimately entangled with negotiations of structures of belonging Taking its cue from an understanding of hope as connoting an organizing temporality one which is often presumed to be projecting into a future Hope and Kinship in Contemporary Fiction challenges this understanding arguing that hope emerges in practices of relationality in the present disentangling hope from a necessary correlation with futurity Through close readings of contemporary works including The Road The Walking Dead Cloud Atlas Sense8 The People in the Trees and A Little Life Gero Bauer investigates how these texts explore structures of kinship as creative and affective practices of belonging and care that claim spaces beyond the heterosexual reproductive nuclear family In this context fictional figurations of the child often considered the bearer of the future are of particular interest Through these interventions into definitions of and reflections on fictional manifestations of hope and kinship Bauer s analyses intersect with queer theory new materialism and postcritical approaches to literature and cultural studies moving towards counterintuitively hopeful readings of the present moment

The Eclipse of the Demos Kyong-Min Son,2020-04-30 As populism presaging authoritarianism surges worldwide and political rights and civil liberties erode pundits politicians and political scientists agree democracy is in crisis But where many blame the rise of neoliberalism Kyong Min Son suggests that a longer historical perspective is in order His book The Eclipse of the Demos traces the crisis of democracy back to a fateful transformation of democratic theory during the Cold War when the idea of the demos a public body configured for the common good gave way to a view of democracy as an instrument used by individuals to serve their private interests While the postwar pressures of totalitarianism and communism did not directly cause this transformation Son contends that they did activate instrumental democracy s three constitutive motifs fear of the masses faith in rational systemic management and an ambivalence about the relationship between capitalism and democracy Forged of these elements drawn from disparate intellectual traditions instrumental democracy displaced a citizenry disposed to judge competing public claims according to the principles of the common good and political equality In the instrumental model citizens are seen as consumers whose political claims are equivalent simply because each is willing to pay the same price a vote It is this transactional view of democracy Son argues that led to the unchallenged dominance of finance capital and growing social divisions that have fueled the rise of neoliberalism The Eclipse of the Demos envisions an answer to our present predicament a democracy that rests on a demos engaging in collective inquiry and judgment rather than on a group of individuals concerned exclusively with their private welfare By providing a clearer understanding of democracy before neoliberalism this book begins the hard work of realizing that vision Life-Destroying Diagrams Eugenie Brinkema,2022-01-14 In Life Destroying Diagrams Eugenie Brinkema brings the insights of her radical

Criminal Ingenuity traces a series of linked moments in the history of this transfer of cultural power from the sphere of the word to that of the image Ellen Levy explores the New York literary and art worlds in the years that bracket O Hara's lament through close readings of the works and careers of poets Marianne Moore and John Ashbery and assemblage artist Joseph Cornell In the course of these readings Levy discusses such topics as the American debates around surrealism the function of the token woman in artistic canons and the role of the New York City Ballet in the development of mid century modernism and situates her central figures in relation to such colleagues and contemporaries as O Hara T S Eliot Clement Greenberg Walter Benjamin and Lincoln Kirstein Moore Cornell and Ashbery are connected by acquaintance and affinity and above all by the possession of what Moore calls criminal ingenuity a talent for situating themselves on the fault lines that fissure the realms of art sexuality and politics As we consider their lives and works Levy shows the seemingly specialized question of the source and meaning of the struggle for power between art forms inexorably opens out to broader questions about social and artistic institutions and forces the academy and the museum professionalism and the market and that institution of institutions marriage
