The Objectives and Contents of and the Working Methods in Consumer Education for Teacher Training Kaija Kärpijoki, 2000 Sammandrag      Reconceptualizing Plato's Socrates at the Limit of Education James M.

Magrini, 2016-11-25 Bridging the gap between interpretations of Third Way Platonic scholarship and phenomenological ontological scholarship this book argues for a unique ontological hermeneutic interpretation of Plato and Plato's Socrates. Reconceptualizing Plato's Socrates at the Limit of Education offers a re-reading of Plato and Plato's Socrates in terms of interpreting the practice of education as care for the soul through the conceptual lenses of phenomenology, philosophical hermeneutics, and ontological inquiry. Magrini contrasts his re-reading with the views of Plato and Plato's Socrates that dominate contemporary education, which for the most part emerge through the rigid and reductive categorization of Plato as both a realist and idealist in philosophical foundations texts, teacher education programs. This view also presents what he terms the questionable Socrates as teacher model, which grounds such contemporary educational movements as the Paideia Project, which claims to incorporate through a scripted curriculum with Socratic lesson plans the so-called Socratic Method into the Common Core State Standards Curriculum as a technical skill that can be taught and learned as part of the students' critical thinking skills. After a careful reading incorporating what might be termed a Third Way of reading Plato and Plato's Socrates, following scholars from the Continental tradition, Magrini concludes that a so-called Socratic education would be nearly impossible to achieve and enact in the current educational milieu of standardization or neo-Taylorism, Social Efficiency. However, despite this, he argues in the affirmative that there is much educators can and must learn from this non-doctrinal re-reading and re-characterization of Plato and Plato's Socrates.      Arguments for Learning Bill Cope, Walter

Feinberg, 2025-03-11 Almost every educational idea worth a thought has been considered at the University of Illinois and anything worth trying has been tested. In this history of ideas, Bill Cope and Walter Feinberg chronicle the intellectual lives of education thinkers at the university while tracking the development of educational ideas and practices in general. Cope and Feinberg draw on conversations, narratives, and archival research that reveal how different generations explored their role in defining and carrying out the College's multifaceted mission. Their account raises critical questions about the character of learning, the aims of teaching, and the nature of teaching as a profession. At the same time, the authors address issues that range from the role of schools in fostering individual and collective identity to the introduction of computer-mediated and online learning. Cope and Feinberg examine changes in self-understanding about fundamental ideas and chart how the College evolved from its original narrow mission of training children's schoolteachers to embracing global perspectives. A wide-ranging portrait of an institution, Arguments for Learning uses the School of Education to tell the stories of thinkers dedicated to the idea that education can change the world for the better.      Rethinking Education for a Global, Transcultural World Encarna Soriano, 2015-04-01 The global networking promoted by technology, globalization, and migration that are occurring at a large scale requires school systems that develop in the students new types of skills based on the ability to understand the world and its problems and instill a sense of responsibility and cooperation to enhance the resolution of the great problems of mankind Rethinking education is essential in a global transcultural changing and communicated world Throughout the book Rethinking Education for a Global Transcultural World is argued and analyzed how to build relationships between the school and society and the possibilities of transcending the barriers in different national contexts Chile Israel Mexico Morocco Poland and Spain The main goal we want to achieve with the contributions made in the book is to know how education systems and schools in different countries respond to the social changes caused by globalization migration and new communication technologies The authors are professors of different scientific disciplines and different faiths cultures and points of view living the realities described in the chapters and thinking from these realities how to improve and how should be the education in a global challenging and ever changing world We stress the importance of this book and its implications in the education of children and youth and in the preparation of teachers For this reason this is a book designed for teachers of primary and secondary schools parents principals supervisors university teachers who prepare school teachers university students and those who want to know and think about education in a global and intercultural world and new forms of communication to face learning whether at local or at world level The mission of all is continue building education and to facilitate this work in this book are presented contributions and recommendations of professionals around the world that will allow the reader to know analyze understand and appreciate the importance of education to prepare students to function with open and critical thinking in a global world The chapters do not offer a panacea but offer many ideas on how through education prepare citizens for a global and transcultural society

Plato's Socrates, Philosophy and Education James M. Magrini, 2017-12-01 This book develops for the readers Plato's Socrates non formalized philosophical practice of learning through questioning in the company of others In doing so the writer confronts Plato's Socrates in the words of John Dewey as the dramatic restless cooperatively inquiring philosopher of the dialogues whose view of education and learning is unique 1 It is focused on actively pursuing a form of philosophical understanding irreducible to truth of a propositional nature which defies transfer from practitioner to pupil 2 It embraces the perennial on the wayness of education and learning in that to interrogate the virtues or the good life through the practice of the dialectic is to continually renew the quest for a deeper understanding of things by returning to reevaluating and modifying the questions originally posed regarding the good life Indeed Socratic philosophy is a life of questioning those aspects of existence that are most question worthy and 3 It accepts that learning is a process guided and structured by dialectic inquiry and is already immanent within and possible only because of the unfolding of the process itself i.e. learning is not a goal that somehow stands outside the dialectic as its end product which indicates erroneously that the method or practice is disposable For learning occurs only through continued sustained communal dialogue

Cooperative Flourishing in Plato's 'Republic' Carolina Araújo, 2022-12-01 In this pathbreaking interpretation of Plato's foundational text of political philosophy Carolina Araújo reveals how the Republic remains ripe for an interpretation grounded in notions of cooperation flourishing and justice relevant to the diversity of contemporary life Plato's Republic has the Greek name of Politeia that Araújo translates as the way of life of the citizens not the State or the form of government as it more traditionally rendered Plato's treatise Politeia depicts the rich array of patterns emerging from human interaction and enquires into the best amongst them Cooperative Flourishing in Plato's Republic returns to these important questions about society how to live with a vast diversity of personalities with different interests and abilities all of them trying to flourish and asks how best can we share our environment With rigorous philosophical analysis of the Greek text accompanied by original translations of the most important passages Ara jo upends mainstream scholarship to progress Socrates bottom up view of politics and rejects previous readings of the Republic as a proto totalitarian text psychological study or lengthy analogy By defending a theory of Platonic justice that is rooted in cooperative flourishing the public education of all citizens and the contribution of philosophers to political life the beautiful city which Plato called Kallipolis emerges as a hopeful possibility
