

3. In a company the 200 employees are classified as full-time workers, part-time workers or contractors.
The table below shows the number of employees in each category and whether they walk to work or use some form of transport.

	Walk	Transport
Full-time worker	2	8
Part-time worker	35	75
Contractor	30	50

The events F , H and C are that an employee is a full-time worker, part-time worker or contractor respectively. Let W be the event that an employee walks to work.

An employee is selected at random.

Find

- (a) $P(H)$ (2)
- (b) $P([F \cap W]')$ (2)
- (c) $P(W | C)$ (2)

Let B be the event that an employee uses the bus.
Given that 10% of full-time workers use the bus, 30% of part-time workers use the bus and 20% of contractors use the bus,

- (d) draw a Venn diagram to represent the events F , H , C and B , (4)
- (e) find the probability that a randomly selected employee uses the bus to travel to work. (2)

The Geopolitics of Spectacle Natalie Koch,2018-06-15 Why do autocrats build spectacular new capital cities In The Geopolitics of Spectacle Natalie Koch considers how autocratic rulers use spectacular projects to shape state society relations but rather than focus on the standard approach on the project itself she considers the unspectacular others The contrasting views of those from the poorest regions toward these new national capitals help her develop a geographic approach to spectacle Koch uses Astana in Kazakhstan to exemplify her argument comparing that spectacular city with others from resource rich nondemocratic nations in central Asia the Arabian Peninsula and Southeast Asia The Geopolitics of Spectacle draws new political geographic lessons and shows that these spectacles can be understood only from multiple viewpoints sites and temporalities Koch explicitly theorizes spectacle geographically and in so doing extends the analysis of governmentality into new empirical and theoretical terrain With cases ranging from Azerbaijan to Qatar and Myanmar and an intriguing account of reactions to the new capital of Astana from the poverty stricken Aral Sea region of Kazakhstan Koch's book provides food for thought for readers in human geography anthropology sociology urban studies political science international affairs and post Soviet and central Asian studies

Budget Justice Celina Su,2025-09-09 A bold vision that empowers communities to solve our cities most pressing problems Amid political repression and a deepening affordability crisis Budget Justice challenges everything you thought you knew about dull and daunting government budgets It shows how the latter confuse and mislead the public by design not accident Arguing that they are moral documents that demand grassroots participation to truly work for everyone the book reveals how everyday citizens can shape policy to tackle everything from rising housing and food costs to unabated police violence underfunded schools and climate change driven floods and wildfires Drawing on her years of engagement with democratic governance in New York City and around the globe Celina Su proposes a new kind of democracy in which city residents make collective decisions about public needs through processes like participatory budgeting and in which they work across racial divides and segregated spaces as neighbors rather than as consumers or members of voting blocs Su presents a series of interludes that vividly illustrate how budget justice plays out on the ground including in depth interviews with activists from Porto Alegre Brazil Barcelona Spain and Jackson Mississippi and shares her own personal reflections on how changing social identities inform one's activism Essential reading to empower citizens Budget Justice explains why public budgets reflect a crisis not so much in accounting as in democracy and enables everyone especially those from historically marginalized communities to imagine and enact people's budgets and policies from universal preschool to affordable housing that will enable their communities to thrive

Sustainability Transition Geoff Desa, Xiangping Jia, 2022-11-09 This book uses a historical and modern lens to reimagine the role that Extension could potentially play in catalyzing reciprocal co learning relationships between Land Grant Universities and their diverse local constituencies The establishment of statewide extension systems was once seen as a way to ensure that Land Grant Universities would be accessible and responsive to all of a state s residents Extension systems continue to offer a front door to a major public university in almost every county of the United States but they tend to be viewed primarily as a way to translate science or distribute information from the university to the public This books argues for the importance of Extension and shows that we are conceiving of this system too narrowly Only by retelling the stories of the Extension and getting people to see themselves as part of the story can we imagine a different future in which state universities and land grant colleges engage more authentically and equitably in two way relationships with their local
