Life at Four Corners Carol Coburn,1992 Defined less by geography than by demographic character Block Kansas in many ways exemplifies the prevalent yet seldom scrutinized ethnic religion based community of the rural Midwest Physically small the town sprang up around four corners formed by crossroads Spiritually strong and cohesive it became the educational and cultural center for generations of German Lutheran families In this book Carol Coburn analyzes the powerful combination of those ethnic and religious institutions that effectively resisted assimilation for nearly 80 years only to succumb to the influences of the outside world during the 1930s and 1940s Emphasizing the formal and informal education provided by the church school and family she examines the total process of how values identities and all aspects of culture were transmitted from generation to generation

Literary Theory and the Claims of History Satya P. Mohanty,2018-07-05 At the core of postmodern thought especially in literary theory is the belief that such ideals as truth reason and objectivity are social constructs that have no universal or trans historical validity In exploring this constructivist view Satya P Mohanty examines its underlying epistemological claims and their social and political implications His book points the way toward a critical alternative to the epistemological and cultural relativisms Mohanty grounds his critique in readings of some of the major figures of postmodernism including Paul de Man Louis Althusser Fredric Jameson and Jacques Derrida and analyzes the views of Mikhail Bakhtin C S Peirce Hilary Putnam and Richard Rorty particularly their notions of language and referentiality Mohanty defends a post positivist realist conception of objectivity as a legitimate ideal of all inquiry He outlines a realist theory of social identity and multicultural politics which sees radical moral universalism and cultural diversity as complementary not competing ideals
