Explanatory Models, Unit Standards, and Personalized Learning in Educational Measurement William P. Fisher Jr., Paula

J. Massengill, 2022-10-15 The papers by Jack Stenner included in this book document the technical details of an art and science of measurement that creates new entrepreneurial business opportunities Jack brought theory instruments and data together in ways that are applicable not only in the context of a given test of reading or mathematics ability but which more importantly catalyzed literacy and numeracy capital in new fungible expressions Though Jack did not reflect in writing on the inferential constructive processes in which he engaged much can be learned by reviewing his work with his accomplishments in mind A Foreword by Stenner's colleague and co author on multiple works William P Fisher Jr provides key clues concerning a how Jack's understanding of measurement and its values aligns with social and historical studies of science and technology and b how recent developments in collaborations of psychometricians and metrologists are building on and expanding Jack's accomplishments This is an open access book CHINUA ACHEBE Rose Ure Mezu, 2006-06-15 Achebe The Man and His Works uses the critical essay format to assess Chinua Achebe as a person a writer and the inaugurator of the literary tradition of cultural nationalism It progressively and thematically analyses his novels and works comparing them with those of African literary and cultural groundbreakers in the Diaspora including the pioneering works of Olaudah Equiano and Zora Neale Hurston The book is a unique and fresh addition to the body of writings on Africa's most respected novelist widely acclaimed as the father of modern African literature and generally believed to be one of the 100 most important writers of the 20th and 21st centuries A must read Literature in the Secondary School Arthur N. Applebee, 1993 Presenting findings from a wide ranging study this book considers the present state of literature teaching in American middle and secondary schools Probing both context and the instructional approaches the book shows a discipline staffed by teachers better educated than their predecessors but carrying heavy class loads and isolated from current thinking in literary criticism and pedagogy The book is based on a series of four interrelated studies 1 a series of case studies of English programs with local reputations for excellence 2 a study of book length works that are required reading for high school students as well as the book length texts required in public schools grades 7 12 and in Catholic and independent schools grades 9 12 3 a survey of content and approaches in nationally representative samples of English programs in public Catholic and independent schools plus schools whose students consistently win National Council of Teachers of English NCTE Achievement Awards in Writing and 4 analyses of the selections and teaching suggestions offered in widely used anthologies Chapters of the book are Introduction Studying the Teaching of Literature Conditions for the Teaching of Literature The Curriculum as a Whole Selections Chosen for Study Selections Available in Literature Anthologies Classroom Literature Instruction Instructional Materials in Literature Anthologies Writing and Literature The School Library and Students Reading and Conclusion A description of methods and procedures for the four studies and a list of the most frequently anthologized selections by genre are attached Contains 87 references and 90 tables figures RS Reading for Redemption Christian R. Davis, 2011-02-07 The goal of this book is to define and explain the archetypal pattern of redemption that underlies our whole notion of resolution in literature and to demonstrate through multiple examples that successful literature poems and stories that have shown endurance or popularity uses this pattern in specific ways This theory should help readers to interpret both particular works of literature and the general notion of literature The pattern of redemption employed here in its ideal form involves the sacrifice of an innocent redeemer to save something that has been lost Because this pattern of redemption is typically associated with Christianity this book can be taken as proposing a Christian theory of criticism Current textbooks on literary criticism and theory cover a range of perspectives such as Marxism feminism multiculturalism reader response and queer theory but they invariably ignore the field of Christian criticism Therefore this book may be most useful as a supplementary text for courses in literary criticism that might include a Christian perspective At the same time however the terms and methodology proposed here are not exclusive to or dependant on Christian beliefs so readers of all types may find this approach useful The greatest strength of this book is its application of the theory to numerous examples from a wide range of genres and periods of literature testing the theory on classical and Shakespearean works such as the Iliad and Odyssey Hamlet and Coriolanus best sellers such as The Lord of the Rings Le Petit Prince Valley of the Dolls and Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows horror stories such as Frankenstein postcolonial novels such as Things Fall Apart and The Kite Runner and lyric poems Consequently even readers who are skeptical of the assumptions used here should find the many concrete examples thought provoking Prentice Hall Literature Prentice-Hall, Inc,1996 Teaching and Testimony Allen Carey-Webb,Stephen Benz,1996-07-03 Contains narratives of the experiences of teachers using the testimonial of Rigoberta Menchu a Guatemalan Indian woman who won the Nobel Peace Prize in 1992 Includes background essays on Menchu and the role of her story in political correctness debates
