The Rise of Consciousness and the Development of Emotional Life Michael Lewis, 2013-10-16 Synthesizing decades of influential research and theory Michael Lewis demonstrates the centrality of consciousness for emotional development At first infants competencies constitute innate reactions to particular physical events in the child's world These action patterns are not learned but are readily influenced by temperament and social interactions With the rise of consciousness these early competencies become reflected feelings giving rise to the self conscious emotions of empathy envy and embarrassment and later shame guilt and pride Focusing on typically developing children Lewis also explores problems of atypical emotional development Winner m William James Book Award Society for General Psychology APA Division 1 Best Books for Children, Preschool Through Grade 6 ,2006 Update to the ...
