The Gem Collector , GEM COLLECTOR; I'M AS BROKE AS THE TEN COMMANDMENTS" P. G. WODEHOUSE., 2020

The Gem Collector Sir Pelham Grenville Wodehouse, 2020-09-28 The supper room of the Savoy Hotel was all brightness and glitter and gayety But Sir James Willoughby Pitt baronet of the United Kingdom looked round about him through the smoke of his cigarette and felt moodily that this was a flat world despite the geographers and that he was very much alone in it He felt old If it is ever allowable for a young man of twenty six to give himself up to melancholy reflections Jimmy Pitt might have been excused for doing so at that moment Nine years ago he had dropped out or to put it more exactly had been kicked out and had ceased to belong to London And now he had returned to find himself in a strange city Jimmy Pitt s complete history would take long to write for he had contrived to crowd much into those nine years Abridged it may be told as follows There were two brothers a good brother and a bad brother Sir Eustace Pitt the latter married money John his younger brother remained a bachelor It may be mentioned to check needless sympathy that there was no rivalry between the two John Pitt had not the slightest desire to marry the lady of his brother's choice or any other lady He was a self-sufficing man who from an early age showed signs of becoming some day a financial magnate Matters went on much the same after the marriage John continued to go to the city Eustace to the dogs Neither brother had any money of his own the fortune of the Pitts having been squandered to the ultimate farthing by the sportive gentleman who had held the title in the days of the regency when White's and the Cocoa Tree were in their prime and fortunes had a habit of disappearing in a single evening Four years after the marriage Lady Pitt died and the widower having spent three years and a half at Monte Carlo working out an infallible system for breaking the bank to the great contentment of Mons Blanc and the management in general proceeded to the gardens where he shot himself in the orthodox manner leaving many liabilities few assets and one son The good brother by this time a man of substance in Lombard Street adopted the youthful successor to the title and sent him to a series of schools beginning with a kindergarten and ending with Eton Unfortunately Eton demanded from Jimmy a higher standard of conduct than he was prepared to supply and a week after his seventeenth birthday his career as an Etonian closed prematurely John Pitt thereupon delivered an ultimatum Jimmy could choose between the smallest of small posts in his uncle's business and one hundred pounds in banknotes coupled with the usual handwashing and disowning Jimmy would not have been his father's son if he had not dropped at the money The world seemed full to him of possibilities for a young man of parts with a hundred pounds in his pocket He left for Liverpool that day and for New York on the morrow For the next nine years he is off the stage which is occupied by his Uncle John proceeding from strength to strength now head partner next chairman of the company into which the business had been converted and finally a member of Parliament silent as a wax figure but a great comfort to the party by virtue of liberal contributions to its funds It may be thought curious that he should make Jimmy his heir after what had happened but it is possible that time had softened his resentment Or he may have had a dislike for public charities the only other claimant for his wealth At any rate it came about that Jimmy reading in a Chicago paper that if Sir James Willoughby Pitt baronet would call upon Messrs Snell Hazlewood and Delane solicitors of Lincoln's Inn Fields London he would hear of something to his advantage had called and heard something very much to his advantage

Forty second Street with half an hour to wait because the fear of missing her had sent him there too early sitting in Central Park with her while the squirrels came down and begged for nuts walking Damn Spike He speedily made friends among them Lady Jane Blunt the still youthful widow of a man about town who after trying for several years to live at the rate of ten thousand per annum with an income of two and a half had finally given up the struggle and drank himself peacefully into the tomb leaving her in sole charge of their one son Spencer Archbald Lady Jane who had fallen in love with the abbey some years before during a visit to the neighborhood had prevailed upon her square shouldered lord to turn his twinkling gray eye in that direction and the captain of industry with the remark that here at last was a real bully old sure fire English stately home had sent down builders and their like not in single spies but in battalions with instructions to get busy Im afraid said Spennie in an abject manner as they left the station that it will be rather a bit of a frightful squash what I mean to say is I hardly think we shall all find room in the auto Im on my way to stay with a man Ive only known a few days and his people whom I dont know at all and a bunch of other guests whom Ive never heard of and his uncle whos a sort of human icicle and his aunt who makes you feel like thirty cents directly she starts to talk to you and the family watchdog who will probably bite me
