The Different Between Nfsas And Other Student Loan:

Fees Must Fall Susan Booysen, 2016-10-01 This book explores the student discontent a year after the start of the 2015 South African FeesMustFall revolt. FeesMustFall the student revolt that began in October 2015 was an uprising against lack of access to and financial exclusion from higher education in South Africa. More broadly it radically questioned the socio-political dispensation resulting from the 1994 social pact between big business, the ruling elite and the liberation movement. The 2015 revolt links to national and international youth struggles of the recent past and is informed by black consciousness politics and social movements of the international left. Yet its objectives are more complex than those of earlier struggles. The student movement has challenged the hierarchical top down leadership system of university management and its double speak of professing to act in workers and students interests yet entrenching a regressive system for control and governance. University managements while on one level amenable to change have also co-opted students into their ranks to create co-responsibility for the highly bureaucratised university financial aid that stands in the way of their social revolution. This book maps the contours of student discontent a year after the start of the FeesMustFall revolt. Student voices dissect colonialism, improper compromises by the founders of democratic South Africa, feminism, worker rights and meaningful education. In depth assessments by prominent scholars reflect on the complexities of student activism, its impact on national and university governance and offer provocative analyses of the power of the revolt.

Social Justice and Education in the 21st Century Willie Pearson Jr., Vijay Reddy, 2021-04-10 The world is not an equal place. There are high and low income countries and high and low income households. For each group there are differential educational opportunities leading to differential educational outcomes and differential labor market opportunities. This pattern often reproduces the privileges and inequalities of groups in a society. This book explores this differentiation in education from a social justice lens. Comparing the United States and South Africa, this book analyzes each country's developmental thinking on education from human capital and human rights approaches in both primary and higher education. The enclosed contributions draw from different disciplines including legal studies, sociology, psychology, computer science and public policy.

Financing Higher Education Worldwide D. Bruce Johnstone, Pamela N. Marcucci, 2010-06-07 No issue in higher education is as salient or as controversial as finance. As demand for higher education around the world grows, so do the costs associated with it, especially as governments shoulder less of the burden. Tuition fees rise and student loan debt grows. Who pays for these surging costs? Who should pay? D. Bruce Johnstone and Pamela N. Marcucci examine the universal phenomenon of cost sharing in higher education where financial responsibility shifts from governments and taxpayers to students and families. They find that growing costs for education far outpace public revenue streams that once supported it. Even with financial aid and scholarships defraying some of these costs, students are responsible for a greater share of the cost of higher education. Featuring comprehensive economic and policy data, the authors' international comparative approach shows how economically diverse countries all face similar cost sharing challenges So who should pay for higher education While cost sharing is both politically and ideologically debated Johnstone and Marcucci contend that for almost all countries it is imperative for the financial health of colleges and universities bringing better efficiency equity and responsiveness Financing Higher Education Worldwide combines sophisticated economic explanations with sensitive political and cultural analyses of the financial pressures facing higher education throughout the world Pretoria Student Law Review 2021-15 Phenyio Nomasonto Morweši Sekati, 2022-01-01 About the publication I am delighted to present to you the reader the fifteenth edition of the Pretoria Student Law Review PSLR with its Special Section on Social Justice and COVID 19 This year's Annual Edition together with the developments made during the year is a testament to the growth resilience and adaptability of this student driven initiative especially during these turbulent times This year has also been one of reflection and remembrance as we publish this edition in tribute to the late Professor Christof Heyns whose instrumentality in the establishment of the Pretoria University Law Press PULP has brought us to where we are today Fourteen years since its inception and the PSLR still continues to grow and evolve whilst remaining true to its thriving legacy in fostering excellence and innovation through legal writing This publication's uniqueness is also presented through its diverse contributions all addressing contemporary societal and legal issues under a broad range of legal disciplines In an era of many continued firsts the PSLR has strived to build on the legacy of its predecessors by expanding on the Journal's visibility and accessibility The PSLR's digital presence has now grown substantially leading to an increase in quality submissions from institutions across the country This year the PSLR launched its first independent website and developed an official logo for the Journal and its online platforms Authors are now able to submit their papers through the Open Journals System platform track their workflow manage their submissions and submit at any time outside of the PSLR's official call for submissions We can firmly submit that we have in pursuance of being a DHET accredited journal fulfilled the standards set out by the Department of Higher Education and Training Many thanks are extended to Makone Maja for developing the website Your patience guidance and geniality are truly appreciated Thank you also to Jakolien Strydom and ClickCreate for your charitable assistance in developing and designing the logo To the authors this year has in many respects been challenging with many of those challenges affecting students directly We appreciate the dedicated efforts put into your submissions and your wholehearted cooperation throughout the entire process Much appreciation is also extended to the reviewers who have selflessly committed to assisting the PSLR during the peer review process To all of the reviewers your input guidance and recommendations are greatly appreciated Phenyio Nomasonto Morwesi Sekati Editor in Chief 2020 Discrimination in an Unequal World Miguel Angel Centeno, Katherine S. Newman, 2010-09 Is globalization making our world more equal or less Proponents of globalization argue that it is helping and that in a competitive world no one can afford to discriminate except on the basis of skills Opponents counter that globalization does nothing but provide a meritocratic patina on a consistently unequal distribution of opportunity Yet despite the often deafening volume of the debate there is surprisingly little empirical work available on the extent to which the process of globalization over the past quarter century has had any effect on discrimination Tackling this challenge Discrimination in an Unequal World explores the relationship between discrimination and unequal outcomes in the appropriate geographical and historical context Noting how each society tends to see its particular version of discrimination as universal and obvious the editors expand their set of cases to include a broad variety of social relations and practices However since methods differ and are often designed for particular national circumstances they set the much more ambitious and practical goal of establishing a base with which different forms of discrimination across the world can be compared Derived from a broad array of methods the book draws many important lessons on the new means by which the world creates social hierarchies the democratization of inequality and the disappearance of traditional categories

South Africa Can Work Frans Rautenbach, 2017-08-18 What will it take to turn South Africa

around In this insightful and provocative book Frans Rautenbach proposes a complete overhaul of policy thinking and provides fresh arguments that effectively address South Africa's unemployment, race problems and lack of education. Rautenbach examines the fundamental problem of rent seeking to which he proposes two antidotes: the free market and decentralisation of government. Along the way he tackles holy cows such as affirmative action, trade unions, labour law and welfare payments. He also addresses contentious topics such as racism, white privilege, political correctness, state funding of higher education and mounting evidence that trade unions substantially suppress employment growth. Written by a labour lawyer with a proven track record in a range of policy issues, South Africa Can Work speaks effectively to a cross section of readers of all disciplines and brings sorely needed good news. Knowledge Beyond Colour Lines Monwabisi K.

Ralarala, Salochana Lorraine Hassan, Rajani Naidoo, 2021-05-25 Knowledge remains timely in education. The need for academics to contemplate its relevance, worth, use and everything in between, deems a continuous intellectual project rather than a conundrum to be solved. This book takes the South African context by the horns as it challenges the often dormant and traditionalist ways in which higher education spaces see knowledge. Through original research and the voices of academics and students, this book argues for repurposing knowledge generation, knowledge sharing and critical pedagogy so that more inclusive teaching and learning environments can be both imagined and sustained. The contentious tensions that this creates for LoLT and SoTL in particular are unlocked so as to trouble the South African higher education landscape with the intent to proffer alternative pathways for a knowledge beyond colour lines. Prof Shan Simmonds PhD NWU. This edited volume bristles with fresh scholarly approaches and insights of an emergent generation of engaged scholars grappling with the issues and problems of higher education in South Africa. The issues dealt with here are varied and encompassing. They are treated with intellectual delicacy and probing sensitivity, articulating informed data and bold conclusions. They serve well. Prof Kwesi Kwaa Prah, Emeritus Professor of Sociology, University of the Western Cape, Founder of the Centre for Advanced Studies of African Society. Organisational Communication in Africa Sam Erevbenagie Usadolo, Blessing

Makwambeni, Queen Emwenkeke Usadolo, 2024-11-09 This book delves comprehensively into organisational communication in Africa in the digital age alongside other organisational changes. This makes it a valuable resource for scholars, practitioners and students in organisational communication, corporate communication, public relations and development communication both within Africa and across the globe. Through diverse perspectives and evidence-based insights, the book equips readers with the knowledge and tools needed to navigate the ever-changing organisational landscape and achieve success in our rapidly evolving world. Access to Success and Social Mobility through Higher Education Stuart
