Falcons Nest on Skyscrapers Priscilla Belz Jenkins,1996-01-01 Describes peregrine falcons and the efforts to increase their numbers and shares the story of a female who made her home on the ledge of a Baltimore office building Falcons Nest on Skyscrapers Priscilla Belz Jenkins,1996-05-16 Not only can falcons dive at 200 miles per hour and build nests atop skyscrapers but the peregrine falcon has fought its way back from near extinction in parts of the United States With a ban on DDT and the help of dedicated ornithologists the peregrine has made a phenomenal comeback This book tells the inspiring story of Scarlett a peregrine falcon who lived on a Baltimore skyscraper It also includes a list of the best places to falcon watch Grand Junction Resource Area Resource(s) Management Plan (RMP) ,1985 Hawks and Owls of Eastern North America Donald S. Heintzelman,2004 Annotation An essential illustrated resource on the hawks owls of Eastern North America Alaska's Threatened and Endangered Species ,1994 The Prairie Falcon Stanley H. Anderson,John R. Squires,2014-10-03 Skillful hunters beautiful in flight Prairie Falcons inhabit the rocky cliffs of the American West These raptors range from southern Canada and northern North Dakota to Baja California Arizona New Mexico western and northern Texas and southeastern Coahuila Mexico This is the first book for a wide audience devoted exclusively to the Prairie Falcon Stanley Anderson and John Squires cover all aspects of the falcon s life history from mating and rearing young to hunting behaviors and the yearly migration cycle They provide complete descriptive characteristics for identifying Prairie Falcons and also compare them to other raptors especially the closely related Peregrine Falcon In addition the authors recount the long association of falcons with people which may extend back as far as 2000 BC They describe the practice of falconry from the Middle Ages until today And they assess the threats to Prairie Falcons posed by human activities from pesticide use and destruction of habitat to disruption of the breeding cycle by careless birdwatchers Outer Continental Shelf Natural Gas and Oil Resource Management Comprehensive Program, 1992-1997 United States. Glinski,2021-11-16 Thousands of birdwatchers come to Arizona each year seeking rare or intriguing species and for those watching the skies the additional sighting of a bird of prey is a reward in itself The Grand Canyon state boasts the most dramatic assortment of raptors in North America hawks eagles falcons kites and owls plus vultures and condors Here can be found nearly all the raptor species of the continental United States and also established populations of species associated with Mexico such as the Gray Hawk Common Black Hawk Zone tailed Hawk and Whiskered Screech Owl Arizona's raptors are found in an unrivaled diversity of habitats from saguaro cactus forests where tiny Elf Owls nest to the Vermilion Cliffs where the gigantic California Condor was introduced in 1996 Yet many species live in habitats that are now jeopardized by degradation or development making an understanding and appreciation of raptors crucial to their survival The Raptors of Arizona brings together the knowledge and insights of 29 raptor and wildlife authorities who provide original information and syntheses on Arizona's 42 raptor species with an emphasis on aspects of their natural history in Arizona A chapter on each bird includes its description a range map and information on its distribution habitat life history and status Additional chapters cover conservation habitats where and when to watch raptors and the sport of falconry The book is enhanced by 42 full color illustrations by Richard Sloan one of the premier wildlife artists in North America whose paintings were commissioned by the Arizona Wildlife Foundation specifically for this project Co published with the Arizona Game and Fish Department

Neotropical Birds of Prey David Whitacre,2013-05-15 Until recently surprisingly little has been known about the biology and behavior of tropical forest raptors including such basic aspects as diets breeding biology habitat requirements and population ecology information critical to the development of conservation efforts The Peregrine Fund conducted a significant eight year long research program on the raptor species including owls in Tikal National Park in Guatemala to learn more about Neotropical birds of prey Impressive and unprecedented in scale this pioneering research also involved the development of new methods for detecting enumerating and studying these magnificent but often elusive birds in their forest home Beautifully illustrated with photographs of previously little known species the resulting book is the most important single source for information on the lowland tropical forest raptor species found in Central America Neotropical Birds of Prey covers twenty specific species in depth including the Ornate Hawk Eagle the Barred Forest Falcon the Bat Falcon and the Mexican Wood Owl offering thorough synopses of all current knowledge regarding breeding biology and behavior diet habitat use and spatial needs Contributors to this landmark work also show how the populations fit together as a community with overlapping habitat and prey needs that can put them in competition with reptiles and mammalian carnivores as well yet differ from one another in their nesting or feeding behaviors and population dynamics The work s substantive original data offer interesting comparisons between tropical and temperate zone species and provide a basis for establishing conservation measures based on firsthand research Making available for the first time new data on the biology ecology behavior and conservation of the majestic owls and raptors of the New World tropics this book will appeal to a wide ornithological readership especially the many raptor enthusiasts around the world
