Pavlov Daniel Philip Todes, 2014 This is a definitive, deeply researched biography of Russian physiologist Ivan Pavlov (1849-1936) and is the first scholarly biography to be published in any language. The book is Todes's magnum opus, which he has been working on for some twenty years. Todes makes use of a wealth of archival material to portray Pavlov's personality, life times and scientific work. Combining personal documents with a close reading of scientific texts, Todes fundamentally reinterprets Pavlov's famous research on conditional reflexes. Contrary to legend, Pavlov was not a behaviorist; a misimpression captured in the false iconic image of his training a dog to salivate to the sound of a bell. Rather, he sought to explain not simply external behaviors but the emotional and intellectual life of animals and humans. This iconic objectivist was actually a profoundly anthropomorphic thinker whose science was suffused with his own experiences, values, and subjective interpretations. This book is also a traditional life and times biography that weaves Pavlov into some 100 years of Russian history, particularly that of its intelligentsia from the emancipation of the serfs to Stalin's time. Pavlov was born to a family of priests in provincial Ryazan before the serfs were emancipated, made his home and professional success in the glittering capital of St. Petersburg in late imperial Russia, suffered the cataclysmic destruction of his world during the Bolshevik seizure of power and civil war of 1917-1921, rebuilt his life in his 70s as a prosperous dissident during the Leninist 1920s, and flourished professionally as never before in 1929-1936 during the industrialization revolution and terror of Stalin. Todes's story of this powerful personality and extraordinary man is based upon interviews with surviving coworkers and family members along with never before analyzed taped interviews from the 1960s and 1970s, examination of hundreds of scientific works.
