Secularism and Religion-Making Markus Dressler, Arvind Mandair, 2011-10-03 This book conceives of religion making broadly as the multiple ways in which social and cultural phenomena are configured and reconfigured within the matrix of a world religion discourse that is historically and semantically rooted in particular Western and predominantly Christian experiences knowledges and institutions It investigates how religion is universalized and certain ideas social formations and practices rendered religious are thus integrated in and subordinated to very particular mostly liberal secular assumptions about the relationship between history politics and religion The individual contributions written by a new generation of scholars with decisively interdisciplinary approaches examine the processes of translation and globalization of historically specific concepts and practices of religion and its dialectical counterpart the secular into new contexts This volume contributes to the relatively new field of thought that aspires to unravel the thoroughly intertwined relationships between religion and secularism as modern concepts

Ethnographic Discourses on Women and Islam in Turkey Petek Onur, 2024-05-09 This book provides a meta reading of how ethnographic discourses on women and Islam in Turkey have changed since their emergence in 1983 It analyses the published ethnographic works in three discursive periods and shows that paradigm shifts in social sciences processes of neo liberal globalization and globalization of Islamism as well as political social cultural and economic transformations at the local level shape these periods As an exceptional example of modernization in the Middle East and the post imperial states in South East Europe Turkey has been experiencing tensions between Islamic beliefs and practices and Westernization and secularization processes Countless aspects of Muslim women s lives appear as symbols and indicators in this society like in many other Muslim majority societies and to scholars of gender and women s studies in discussing the faith based patriarchy Thus this book exhibits the necessity of developing a critical perspective on ethnographic representations of Muslim women in Turkey

Democracy, Identity and Foreign Policy in Turkey F. Keyman, S. Gumüşçu, Sebnem Gumuscu, 2015-12-04 Through critical analysis of Turkey s transformation under the AKP this book explores the relationship between domestic transformations and global regional dynamics It also discusses the relationship between the Turkish transformation and the Arab uprisings and the implications of the Turkish case for regime transitions in the Arab world

Religious Diversity in Post-Secular Societies Zakaria Sajir, Masculinities and the Law Frank Rudy Cooper, Ann C. McGinley, 2012-08-27 According to masculinities theory masculinity is not a biological imperative but a social construction Men engage in a constant struggle with other men to prove their masculinity Masculinities and the Law develops a multidimensional approach It sees categories of identity including various forms of racialized and classed and sex oriented masculinities as operating simultaneously and creating different effects in different contexts. By applying multidimensional masculinities theory to law this cutting edge collection both expands the field of masculinities and develops new thinking about important issues in feminist and critical race theories. The topics covered include how norms of masculinity influence the behavior of policemen, firefighters and international soldiers on television and in the real world; employment discrimination against masculine cocktail waitresses and all transgendered employees; the legal treatment of fathers in the U.S. and the ways unauthorized migrant fathers use the dangers of border crossing to boost their masculine esteem; how Title IX fails to curtail the masculinity of sport; the racist assumptions behind the prison rape debate; the surprising roots of homophobia in Jamaican dancehall music; and the contradictions of the legal debate over women veiling in Turkey. Ultimately the book argues that multidimensional masculinities theory can change how law is interpreted and applied.

Un-Veiling Dichotomies Georgia Baldi, 2021-09-27 This book analyzes the implication of secular liberal values in Western and human rights law and its impact on Muslim women. It offers an innovative reading of the tension between the religious and secular spheres. The author does not view the two as binary opposites. Rather she believes they are twin categories that define specific forms of lives as well as a specific notion of womanhood. This divergence from the usual dichotomy opens the doors for a reinterpretation of secularism in contemporary Europe. This method also helps readers to view the study of religion vs secularism in a new light. It allows for a better understanding of the challenges that contemporary Europe now faces regarding the accommodation of different religious identities. For instance one entire section of the book concerns the practice of veiling and explores the contentious headscarf debate. It features case studies from Germany, France and the UK. In addition the analysis combines a wide range of disciplines and employs an integrated comparative and interdisciplinary approach. The author successfully brings together arguments from different fields with a comparative legal and political analysis of Western and Islamic law and politics. This innovative study appeals to students and researchers while offering an important contribution to the debate over the role of religion in contemporary secular Europe and its impact on women's rights and gender equality.

Islam, Culture and Women in Asia Firdous Azim, 2013-10-18 An examination of the place of religion especially Islam in political and cultural life took on a special urgency after the events of 9/11. The essays in this volume concentrate on the way that Islam impacts on the everyday lives of people who reside in societies where Islam plays a large part. The relationship between Islam and women has always been seen as problematic and by highlighting women's negotiations with this religion this volume seeks to understand the many and various strategies and connections that are made and their political and cultural ramifications. By keeping an Asian focus the authors also seek to understand the wide panorama that Islamic societies inhabit and the manifold political and cultural expressions that ensue from this. The effort is not only to break the image of a monolithic structure and set of beliefs but also to highlight on the ground negotiations and the ways that women in particular find spaces within Islamic structures and discourses. This book was originally published as a special issue of Inter Asia Cultural Studies

Turkey and the European Union Lucia Najšlová, 2021-01-28 Turkey's EU accession talks which began in 2005 were intended to strengthen Turkey's democracy and the EU's ability to embrace difference. Instead we have seen repeated questioning of Turkey's Europeanness and mutual exploitation of the other's weaknesses. Offering a unique analysis of conversations in and about Turkey and the EU, Lucia Najlov adopts an interdisciplinary ethnographic lens, taking the reader through misunderstandings in the diplomatic framework and into everyday interactions between various protagonists of the relationship. Questions of belonging and recognition underpin the analysis and connect various research sites, including the 2016 refugee deal and the status of Turkish Cypriots. Najlov delves into the temporal dimensions of this dynamic, such as questions surrounding Turkish modernity and nation building, and asks whether there is such a thing as good timing for democracy and what would happen if the diplomatic framework of Turkey-EU relations started moving faster.

The Crisis of Citizenship in the Arab World, 2017-04-24 The Crisis of Citizenship in the Arab World argues that the present crisis of the Arab world has its origins in the historical legal and political development of state-citizen relations since the beginning of modern history in the Middle East and North Africa. The anthology covers three main topics. Part I focuses on the crisis of the social pact in different Arab countries as it became manifest during the Arab Uprisings. Part II concentrates on concepts of citizenship in Islamic doctrine, Islamic movements, Muslim Brotherhood, and Salafism, secular political movements, and Arab thinkers. Part III looks into the practices that support the claims to equal rights as well as the factors that have obstructed full citizen rights, such as patronage and clientelism. Contributors are Ida Almestad, Claire Beaugrand, Assia Boutaleb, Michaëlle Browers, Nils Butenschön, Anthony Gorman, Raymond Hinnebusch, Engin F. Isin, Rania Maktabi, Roel Meijer, Emin Poljarevic, Ola Rifai, James Sater, Rachel Scott, Jakob Skovgaard Petersen, Robert Springborg, Stig Stenslie, Morten Valbjørn, Knut S. Vikør, and Sami Zemni.

Toward New Democratic Imaginaries - İstanbul Seminars on Islam, Culture and Politics Seyla Benhabib, Volker Kaul, 2016-09-23 This volume combines rigorous empirical and theoretical analyses with political engagement to look beyond reductive short hands that ignore the historical evolution and varieties of Islamic doctrine and that deny the complexities of Muslim societies' encounters with modernity itself. Are Islam and democracy compatible? Can we shed the language of Islam vs. the West for new political imaginaries? The authors analyze struggles over political legitimacy since the Arab Spring and the rise of Al Qaeda and ISIS in their historical and political complexity across the MENA (Middle East and North Africa) region. Distinguishing multiculturalism from interculturalism and understanding multiple modernities, philosophers in the volume tease out the complexities of civilizational encounters. The volume also shows how the Paris massacres or the Danish caricature controversy do not remain confined to Europe but influence struggles and confrontations within Muslim societies. Gender and Islam are addressed from a comparative perspective, bringing into conversation not only the experience of different Muslim countries with Islamic law but also by analysing Jewish family law.
