The Generative Study Of Second Language Acquisition:

The Generative Study of Second Language Acquisition Suzanne Flynn, Gita Martohardjono, Wayne O'Neil, 2014-01-14
The vast majority of work in theoretical linguistics from a generative perspective is based on first language acquisition and performance. The vast majority of work on second language acquisition is carried out by scholars and educators working within approaches other than that of generative linguistics. In this volume this gap is bridged as leading generative linguists apply their intellectual and disciplinary skills to issues in second language acquisition. The results will be of interest to all those who study second language acquisition regardless of their theoretical perspective and all generative linguists regardless of the topics on which they work.

Second Language Acquisition Roumyana Slabakova, 2016-04-15
This textbook approaches second language acquisition from the perspective of generative linguistics. Roumyana Slabakova reviews and discusses paradigms and findings from the last thirty years of research in the field focussing in particular on how the second or additional language is represented in the mind and how it is used in communication. The adoption and analysis of a specific model of acquisition, the Bottleneck Hypothesis, provides a unifying perspective. The book assumes some non-technical knowledge of linguistics but important concepts are clearly introduced and defined throughout, making it a valuable resource not only for undergraduate and graduate students of linguistics but also for researchers in cognitive science and language teachers.

Research Methods in Generative Second Language Acquisition Roumyana Slabakova, Tania Leal, Laura Domínguez, 2024-09-04
This timely text provides a comprehensive overview of the research methods used by the Generative Second Language Acquisition framework. The authors lay out the history and state of the art in the field, explain the theoretical underpinnings of this work, and offer practical hands-on guidance for developing, conducting, and understanding studies related to L2 grammatical competence using a rich array of techniques and advancing key insights into the rationale and circumstantial pros and cons of each method. With useful features in a consistent chapter structure including diverse case studies and discussion questions, the book will be an invaluable resource to students and researchers of SLA, applied linguistics, theoretical linguistics, education, and related areas.

The New Handbook of Second Language Acquisition William C. Ritchie, Tej K. Bhatia, 2009

The work is divided into six parts, each devoted to a different aspect of the study of SLA. Part I includes a recent history of methods used in SLA research and an overview of currently used methods. Part II contains chapters on Universal Grammar, emergentism, variationism, information processing, sociocultural, and cognitive linguistics. Part III is devoted to overviews of SLA research on lexicon, morphosyntax, phonology, pragmatics, sentence processing, and the distinction between implicit and explicit knowledge Part IV examines neuropsychology of SLA another on child SLA and the effects of age on second language acquisition and use Part V is concerned with the contribution of the linguistic environment to SLA including work on acquisition in different environments through the Internet and by deaf learners Finally Part VI treats social factors in SLA including research on acquisition in contact circumstances on social identity in SLA on individual differences in SLA and on the final state of SLA bilingualism

Second Language Acquisition and Universal Grammar Lydia White, 2003-03-06 This authoritative 2003 textbook provides an overview and analysis of current second language acquisition research conducted within the generative linguistic framework Lydia White argues that second language acquisition is constrained by principles and parameters of Universal Grammar The book focuses on characterizing and explaining the underlying linguistic competence of second language learners in terms of these constraints Theories as to the role of Universal Grammar and the extent of mother tongue influence are presented and discussed with particular consideration given to the nature of the interlanguage grammar at different points in development from the initial state to ultimate attainment Throughout the book hypotheses maintaining that second language grammars are constrained by universal principles are contrasted with claims that Universal Grammar is not implicated relevant empirical research is presented from both sides of the debate This textbook is essential reading for those studying second language acquisition from a linguistic perspective

Third Language Acquisition and Universal Grammar Yan-kit Ingrid Leung, 2009-01-16 Third Language Acquisition and Universal Grammar contains nine chapters on adult third language L3 or multilingual acquisition from the Universal Grammar UG perspective A variety of languages other than English are involved in the studies reported in the papers including Cantonese Chinese French German Italian Japanese Kazakh Mandarin Chinese Norwegian Russian Spanish Tagalog and Thai with acquisition cases taking place in a number of different geographical locations such as Canada Germany Hong Kong Norway Taiwan Thailand the UK and the USA This volume will appeal to those studying L3 acquisition from a variety of theoretical perspectives and should encourage scholarly exchange between the fields of bi multilingualism and SLA

Representational Deficits in SLA Neal Snape, Yan-kit Ingrid Leung, Michael Sharwood Smith, 2009 The main focus of this collection is to explore the question of representational deficits in second language acquisition currently a much debated topic The volume is intended as a tribute to Roger Hawkins a leading scholar in generative second language acquisition whose research has been devoted to explaining lack of native like success in terms of representational deficits The papers in this volume feature a range of studies all undertaken within a generative linguistic framework which investigate various properties of L2 grammar bearing on the question of whether or not there are representational deficits in the post critical period L2 learners grammar The significance of such deficits if their existence can be confirmed is that they provide support for the claim at least for the type of L2 learner under investigation that there are insurmountable obstacles to ultimate attainment
