American History, 2003      Pageant World History Gerald Leinwand, 1990 Dear students I want to share a dream with you I dreamed that a young person of 14 whom I was going to be teaching would become president of the United States during the first half of the twenty first century As a teacher I was struck by this immense responsibility What should I teach my student about the world as preparation for this awesome task How could my world history class help this person to mature into an intelligent and humane president and leader of the free world      Agricultural Library Notes, 1941

American History James West Davidson, 2002      Reference and Information Services Richard E. Bopp, Linda C. Smith, 2011-05-23 Reflecting the dramatic changes shaped by rapidly developing technologies over the past six years this new fourth edition of Reference and Information Services takes the introduction to reference sources and services significantly beyond the content of the first three editions In Part I Concepts and Processes chapters have been revised and updated to reflect new ideas and methods in the provision of reference service in an era when many users have access to the Web In Part II Information Sources and Their Use discussion of each source type has been updated to encompass key resources in print and on the Web where an increasing number of freely available sources join those purchased or licensed by libraries A number of new authors are contributors to this new edition bringing to their chapters their experience as teachers of reference and as practitioners in different types of libraries Discussions of services in Part I integrate digital reference as appropriate to each topic such as how to conduct a reference interview online using instant messaging Boxes interspersed in the text are used to present scenarios for discussion to highlight key concepts or to present excerpts from important documents Discussions of sources in Part II place more emphasis on designing effective search strategies using both print and digital resources The chapter on selection and evaluation of sources addresses the changing nature of reference collections and how to evaluate new types of sources Each chapter concludes with an updated list of additional readings to guide further study A new companion website will provide links to Web accessible readings and resources as well as additional scenarios for discussion and example search strategies to supplement those presented in the text      Atlas of American Indian Affairs Francis Paul Prucha, 1990-01-01 Provides historical and current information on Native Americans such as culture and tribal areas U S census information land cessions reservations schools hospitals and agencies      The Enigma of the Origin of Portolan Charts Roel Nicolai, 2016-05-30 The sudden appearance of portolan charts realistic nautical charts of the Mediterranean and Black Sea at the end of the thirteenth century is one of the most significant occurrences in the history of cartography Using geodetic and statistical analysis techniques these charts are shown to be mosaics of partial charts that are considerably more accurate than has been assumed Their accuracy exceeds medieval mapping capabilities These sub charts show a remarkably good agreement with the Mercator map projection It is demonstrated that this map projection can only have been an intentional feature of the charts construction Through geodetic analysis the author eliminates the possibility that the charts are original products of a medieval Mediterranean nautical culture which until now they have been widely believed to be      Agricultural Library Notes United States. Department of Agriculture. Library, 1941      Bookseller's catalogues John Gray Bell, 1852      World History Historical Outline Map Book with Lesson Ideas , 1993      Children of the Other Americas Mary Elizabeth Barry, Delia Goetz, Dorothy Conzelman, 1942      A Landscape Transformed Robert Boyd Gordon, 2001 Gordon reveals how the experience in Salisbury shows the powerful role of culture in shaping the way people use their environment Salisbury's history illustrates that while understanding natural science is now an essential part of effecting thoughtful management of our environment it is ultimately values and beliefs that guide decisions about the natural world Jacket      Reflecting a Prairie Town , 1994 Hokanson writing Lakeland College looks at the town of Peterson Iowa its history and our enduring need for a sense of place He synthesizes geography oral history archaeology science and literature in his portrait of this small farming town Includes bandw historical and modern photos of Peterson's faces and landscapes Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR

Handbook of the Linguistic Atlas of the Middle and South Atlantic States William A. Kretzschmar, William A. Kretzschmar Jr., 1993-09-15 Who uses skeeter hawk snake doctor and dragonfly to refer to the same insect Who says gum band instead of rubber band The answers can be found in the Linguistic Atlas of the Middle and South Atlantic States LAMSAS the largest single survey of regional and social differences in spoken American English It covers the region from New York state to northern Florida and from the coastline to the borders of Ohio and Kentucky Through interviews with nearly twelve hundred people conducted during the 1930s and 1940s the LAMSAS mapped regional variations in vocabulary grammar and pronunciation at a time when population movements were more limited than they are today thus providing a unique look at the correspondence of language and settlement patterns This handbook is an essential guide to the LAMSAS project laying out its history and describing its scope and methodology In addition the handbook reveals biographical information about the informants and social histories of the communities in which they lived including primary settlement areas of the original colonies Dialectologists will rely on it for understanding the LAMSAS and historians will find it valuable for its original historical research Since much of the LAMSAS questionnaire concerns rural terms the data collected from the interviews can pinpoint such language differences as those between areas of plantation and small farm agriculture For example LAMSAS reveals that two waves of settlement through the Appalachians created two distinct speech types Settlers coming into Georgia and other parts of the Upper South through the Shenandoah Valley and on to the western side of the mountain range had a Pennsylvania influenced dialect and were typically small farmers Those who settled the Deep South in the rich lowlands and plateaus tended to be plantation farmers from Virginia and the Carolinas who retained the vocabulary and speech patterns of coastal areas With these revealing findings the LAMSAS represents a benchmark study of the English language and this handbook is an indispensable guide to its riches      Walford's Guide to Reference Material: Social and historical sciences, philosophy and religion Albert John Walford, Marilyn Mullay, Priscilla Schlicke, Library Association, 1999 A revised and updated guide to reference material It contains selective and evaluative entries to guide the enquirer to the best source of reference in each subject area be it journal article CD ROM on line database bibliography encyclopaedia monograph or directory It features full critical annotations and reviewers comments and comprehensive author title and subject indexes The contents include philosophy and psychology religion social sciences sociology statistics politics economics labour and employment land and property business organizations finance and banking and economic surveys economic policies and controls trade and commerce business and management and law public administration social services and welfare education customs and traditions geography biography and history Archaeological Illustration Lesley Adkins, Roy Adkins, 1989-08-25 This volume originally published in 1989 is intended as a practical guide to archaeological illustration from drawing finds in the field to technical studio drawing for publication It is also an invaluable reference tool for the interpretation of illustrations and their status as archaeological evidence The book s ten chapters start from first principles and guide the illustrator through the historical development of archaeological illustration and basic skills Each chapter then deals with a different illustrative technique drawing in the field during survey work and excavation drawing artefacts buildings and reconstructions producing artwork for publication and the early uses of computer graphics Information about appropriate equipment as well as a guide to manufacturers is also supplied An obvious and important feature of Archaeological Illustration is the 120 line drawings and half tones which show the right and the wrong way of producing drawings This volume will therefore be of interest to amateur and professional archaeologists alike Catalog of Copyright Entries , 1937-07 Annual Report of the American Historical Association American Historical Association, 1972 No Dig, No Fly, No Go Mark Monmonier, 2010-05-15 Some maps help us find our way others restrict where we go and what we do These maps control behavior regulating activities from flying to fishing prohibiting students from one part of town from being schooled on the other and banishing certain individuals and industries to the periphery This restrictive cartography has boomed in recent decades as governments seek regulate activities as diverse as hiking building a residence opening a store locating a chemical plant or painting your house anything but regulation colors It is this aspect of mapping its power to prohibit that celebrated geographer Mark Monmonier tackles in No Dig No Fly No Go Rooted in ancient Egypt s need to reestablish property boundaries following the annual retreat of the Nile s floodwaters restrictive mapping has been indispensable in settling the American West claiming slices of Antarctica protecting fragile ocean fisheries and keeping sex offenders away from playgrounds But it has also been used for opprobrium during one of the darkest moments in American history cartographic exclusion orders helped send thousands of Japanese Americans to remote detention camps Tracing the power of prohibitive mapping at multiple levels from regional to international and multiple dimensions from property to cyberspace Monmonier demonstrates how much boundaries influence our experience from homeownership and voting to taxation and airline travel A worthy successor to his critically acclaimed How to Lie with Maps the book is replete with all of the hallmarks of a Monmonier classic including the wry observations and witty humor In the end Monmonier looks far beyond the lines on the page to observe that mapped boundaries however persuasive their appearance are not always as permanent and impermeable as their cartographic lines might suggest Written for anyone who votes owns a home or aspires to be an informed citizen No Dig No Fly No Go will change the way we look at maps forever
