

Series 20 Differential Pressure Switches

General Instructions

Explosion Proof

Weatherproof

These instructions provide information for installation, electrical connection, process connection and calibration of SOR® Series 20 Differential Pressure Switches.

Series 20 Differential Principle Basic construction is a Static "O" Ring diaphragm and piston pressure sensor. Process pressure acts on the diaphragm to produce force F_D against the piston. F_D is counteracted by two forces: F_L which comes from the Lo side Pressure port through the electrical housing, and F_S which comes from the adjustable range spring. Since the Lo side process media pressurizes the electrical housing, Lo side process media is limited to clean, dry air or inert gas.
