The Fall Musical:

The Fall Musical #1 Peter Lerangis, 2007-09-06 It's a new school year and for Casey Chang it's a chance to make a fresh start away from the bad memories in her old town. But for the Drama Club of Ridgefield High it means a chance to recruit new members. And Brianna Glaser, the Type A co-president of the club, has her sights set on the new girl. But Casey soon finds herself sucked into the excitement and drama. For these kids, Drama Club isn't just about a school play; it's about passion and dreams and the future. All Casey wanted was a new life for herself, but Drama Club has opened up a whole new world.

The Fall Musical Peter Lerangis, 2007-09-01 A new series in the spirit of the Disney Channel's phenomenon High School Musical begins starring the members of the Drama Club of Ridgefield High. For these kids, Drama Club isn't just about a school play; it's about passion and dreams and the future.

Mark E. Smith and The Fall: Art, Music and Politics Mr Benjamin Halligan, Mr Michael Goddard, 2013-01-28 This volume offers a comprehensive range of approaches to the work of Mark E. Smith and his band The Fall in relation to music, art and politics. Mark E. Smith remains one of the most divisive and idiosyncratic figures in popular music after a recording career with The Fall that spans thirty years. Although The Fall were originally associated with the contemporaneous punk explosion, from the beginning they pursued a highly original vision of what was possible in the sphere of popular music. While other punk bands burned out after a few years only to then reform decades later as their own cover bands, The Fall continue to evolve while retaining a remarkable consistency even with the frequent line-up changes that soon left Mark E. Smith as the only permanent member of the group. The key aspect of the group that this volume explores is the invariably creative, unfailingly critical and often antagonistic relations that characterize both the internal dynamics of the group and the group's position in the pop cultural surroundings. The Fall's ambiguous position in the unfolding histories of British popular music and therefore in the new heritage industries of popular culture in the UK, from post-punk to anti-Thatcher politics to the Factory fiction of Manchester and on into Mark E. Smith's current role as ageing enfant terrible of rock, illustrates the uneasy relationship between the band, their critical commentators and the historians of popular music. This volume engages directly with this critical ambiguity. With a diverse range of approaches to The Fall, this volume opens up new possibilities for writing about contemporary music beyond traditional approaches grounded in the sociology of music, Cultural Studies and music journalism, an aim which is reflected in the variety of provocative critical approaches and writing styles that make up the volume.

Music After the Fall Tim

Rutherford-Johnson, 2017-02 Music after the Fall is the first book to survey contemporary Western art music within the transformed political cultural and technological environment of the post Cold War era. In this book Tim Rutherford Johnson considers musical composition against this changed backdrop placing it in the context of globalization digitization and new media. Drawing connections with the other arts in particular visual art and architecture he expands the definition of Western art music to include forms of composition experimental music sound art and crossover work from across the spectrum inside and beyond the concert hall. Each chapter is a critical consideration of a wide range of composers performers works and institutions and develops a broad and rich picture of the new music ecosystem from North American string quartets to Lebanese improvisers from electroacoustic music studios in South America to ruined pianos in the Australian outback. Rutherford Johnson puts forth a new approach to the study of contemporary music that relies less on taxonomies of style and technique than on the comparison of different responses to common themes of permission fluidity excess and loss. The Routledge Companion to Music, Autoethnography, and Reflexivity

Peter Gouzouasis, Christopher Wiley, 2024-12-18 The Routledge Companion to Music Autoethnography and Reflexivity represents a substantial contribution to the field of writing self reflexively about an individual's practice within music studies. In seven sections 22 original chapters by a diverse set of contributors consider writing about personal activities from the points of view of performance composition musicology and pedagogy drawing on a range of traditions from Western art music to popular music to ethnomusicology. A robust critical framework is presented with coverage of historical and critical perspectives different methodologies and their ascendancy within the academy leading debates issues and approaches future directions. The Companion cultivates new modes of engagement in music research enabling scholars and practitioners at all levels to identify and articulate their relationship to the wider sociocultural contexts in which they operate.

Musicking TikTok Juan Bermúdez, 2024-12-12 This ethnographic work about TikTok's musicking in a glocal Austrian context complements and builds upon ethnomusicological assumptions theories and methods for the study of musical practices in digital spaces. An overview of elements that make up TikTok's interface as well as the technical performative possibilities that it allows this book introduces a general categorization of existing performance types and how TikTokers appropriate the platform to make their music. It illustrates how some TikTokers became aware of and began using TikTok and it reviews some of the different strategies TikTokers apply to learn how to use the application and successfully develop their performances. Bermúdez explores how performers move from being ordinary users to becoming TikTokers developing and performing an identity he calls TikTok Persona. Moreover he discusses how some TikTok practices can and have occurred across multiple interconnected platforms and he examines how localities are articulated and negotiated in these contexts. Bermúdez argues for an understanding of musicking as a multimedia practice that different actors create and experience individually in everyday synchronous and asynchronous physical and digital situations. The so called TikTokers create a sense of identity and community through their performances. This study suggests that a digital performance can be aside from a representation of reality an integral part of it serving as a fundamental space for constructing and performing identity Official Gazette of the United States Patent Office United States.
