Pub Companies Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Business and Enterprise Committee, 2009 This report deals with the relationship between pub companies and their lessees It is interested specifically in those companies which operate a tied estate whose operations have frequently been criticised on the grounds that they are unfair to lessees who not only have to pay rent but are also forced to buy beer at higher prices than those they could obtain elsewhere Those who support the system maintain that the tie gives pubcos an incentive to support their lessees and that the revenue stream from the beer tie means that basic rents are lower than they would otherwise be The Committee prepared a report in 2004 and put forward a number of recommendations and they were interested to see the extent to which those recommendations have been implemented They found that many of the problems identified earlier remain and that the imbalance of bargaining power persists There are strong indications that the existence of the tie pushes up prices not just to lesses but to consumers However they are wary of simply recommending that it be abolished as that may simply put too much power to brewers and distributors The OFT has declined to act in the past and the Committee recommends that the Secretary of State refer the matter to the Competition Commission for urgent investigation Provisionally they feel that the tie should be severely limited

Theology and Human Flourishing Mike Higon, Christopher Rowland, Jeremy Law, 2011-11-04 This collection of essays is a celebration of the work of Timothy Gorringer Like his theology it is animated by a delighted and critical engagement with the diverse facets of human social life and by a passionate concern to wrestle with the Bible and the Christian tradition in pursuit of human flourishing The built environment politics education art these essays by leading Christian theologians ask what it means for Christian theology to concern itself with to immerse itself in and to risk critical commentary on each of these and more The collection follows the same rhythm that animates Gorringer's work insistent attention to the Christian tradition in the light of the particular contexts where human flourishing is imagined fought for embodied and betrayed and a critical constructive and celebratory examination of those contexts in the light of the Christian tradition The contributions are very diverse touching on everything from city life to human curiosity poverty to genocide but they are united by a passion to make theological sense of human flourishing

London's Lost Pubs Sam Cullen, 2025-03-30 The humble pub has played a central role in London's history across centuries Over time many old favourites have been lost because of the ever evolving landscape of the city and changing trends and habits For the first time in print Sam Cullen looks back at a selection of 200 London pubs which have closed in the last twenty five years Thanks to extensive research taking in newspaper articles historic books and even conversations with former patrons of these establishments this book presents some of the most memorable London boozers we've lost in recent years London's Lost Pubs leads readers on a borough by borough guided tour of the city visiting everything from the old haunts of Chelsea bohemians and City workers to favourites on legendary London streets from the Old Kent Road to Fleet Street Each featured pub's listing includes interesting facts and quirky trivia which will bring a smile to readers' faces while also reminding just how much London pubs can reveal about the city's history Along the way readers will encounter pubs which boasted pets pools and even pythons The book is also illustrated throughout with both archive and current photos London's Lost Pubs is an essential read for fans and scholars of local history as well as honouring and celebrating countless colourful pubs which have played a pivotal role in the city's life A fascinating directory of the all too many pubs this city has lost Londonist Despite the sad subject matter this story of London pubs now gone is a thoroughly absorbing read The accounts and anecdotes are wittily told and bring to mind just how varied diverse and wonderful London pubs are Jane Jepchote Chair of London Pubs Group CAMRA

Good Pub Guide, 1998 Alisdair Aird, 1997 A new edition of this independent guide to the best pubs in Britain containing up to date information on over 5000 recommended pubs in

Moral Passion and Christian Ethics Robin Gill,2017-03-06 In this book Robin Gill argues that moral passion and rational ethical deliberation are not enemies and that moral passion often lurks behind many apparently rational ethical commitments He also contends that though moral passion is a key component of truly selfless moral action without rational ethical deliberation it can also be extremely dangerous Gill maintains that a reanalysis of moral passion is overdue He inspects the gap between the purely rational accounts of ethics provided by some moral philosophers and the normative positions that they espouse and or the moral actions that they pursue He also contends that Christian ethicists have not been adept at identifying their own implicit moral passion or at explaining why it is that doctrinal positions generate passionately held moral conclusions Using a range of disciplines including cognitive science and moral psychology alongside the more usual disciplines of moral philosophy and religious ethics Gill also makes links with moral passion in other world faith traditions
