The House At Seas End:

The House at Sea's End Elly Griffiths, 2011-05-03 The dry humour and intelligence of Elly Griffiths's Ruth Galloway mysteries set in Norfolk England are fresh air in a genre dominated by surly male detectives and gun-totin' female PIs. In the third novel in the Ruth Galloway series, shoreline erosion at the village of Broughton Sea's End has revealed the skeletons of six men, their arms bound. From the mineral content of their bones, forensic archaeologist Ruth Galloway can tell that they were all Germans. Most likely, DCI Harry Nelson reckons they were killed by the local Home Guard when they tried to land during the Second World War. This is just the first complication in a story brimming with surprise twists, not all of them stemming from these murders. Ruth is a new mum of a daughter she adores but whose existence is raising eyebrows and is testing Ruth's assumption that she can be a mum, a professional archaeologist, a teacher, and an adjunct to a murder investigation all at the same time. The House at Sea's End is smart, witty, complex, intriguing, generous, much like its protagonist. HOUSE AT SEA'S END, ELLY. GRIFFITHS, 2016

The House at Sea's End Elly Griffiths, 2016-06 Dr Ruth Galloway is called in by a team of archaeologists investigating coastal erosion on the north Norfolk coast when they unearth six bodies buried at the foot of a cliff. They seem to have been there a very long time. Ruth must help discover how long and how on earth they got there. Ruth and DCI Nelson are drawn together once more to unravel the past. Tests reveal that the bodies have lain preserved in the sand for sixty years. The mystery of their deaths stretches back to the Second World War, a time when Great Britain was threatened by invasion. But someone wants the truth to stay buried and will go to any lengths to keep it that way, even to committing murder.

The House at Sea's End Elly Griffiths, 2012 Forensic archaeologist Dr Ruth Galloway is back this time investigating a gruesome World War II war crime.

The Beach in Anglophone Literatures and Cultures Ursula Kluwick, Virginia Richter, 2016-03-09 From early colonial encounters to the ecological disasters of the twenty-first century, the performativity of contact has been a crucial element in the political significance of the beach. Conceptualising the beach as a creative trope and as a socio-cultural site as well as an aesthetically productive topography, this collection examines its multiplicity of meanings and functions as a natural environment engendering both desire and fear in the human imagination from the Victorian period to the present. The contributors examine literature, film, and art in addition to moments of encounter and environmental crisis to highlight the beach as a social space inspiring particular codes of behaviour and specific discourses as a geographical frontier between land and water as an historical site of contact and conflict and as a vacationscape promising regeneration and withdrawal from everyday life. The diversity of the beach is reflected in the geographical range with essays on locales and texts from Britain, Ireland, the Caribbean, South Africa, the United States, Polynesia, and New Zealand. Focusing on the changed function of the beach as a result of processes of industrialisation and the rise of a modern leisure and health culture, this interdisciplinary volume theorises the beach as a demarcator of the precarious boundary between land and the sea as well as between nature and culture      History, gazetteer, and directory, of Lincolnshire, and the city & diocese of Lincoln William White,1882      Crimes of the House of Austria Against Mankind Elizabeth Palmer Peabody,1852      The Ways of the South Seas Savage Robert Wood Williamson,1914      Thirty Years in the South Seas Richard Parkinson,2010 Richard Parkinson's Thirty Years in the South Seas was first published in 1907 In this 900 page work Parkinson drew together and expanded on the scientific and popular papers he had been publishing since 1887 creating in the process a landmark ethnography of the Bismarck Archipelago Parkinson moved to New Britain in 1879 only seven years after the first trader had established himself in the area Over the next thirty years he employed many local people on the family's expanding plantations and travelled widely in the area trading for produce especially coconuts observing traditional life and buying artefacts for museums in Europe USA and Australia His travels covered the islands now known as New Britain New Ireland New Hanover Manus Buka and Bougainville but he also collected information about the mainland of New Guinea Kaiser Wilhelmsland His observations covered a wide range of topics from religious life and ceremonies to artefacts and language It is clear he talked extensively with people though mostly with a translator and compared accounts He also took many photographs some 200 of which were included in the volume Given the period all his human subjects had to be posed but the range of associated detail probably unconsciously included is substantial What is particularly important about this work is the period in which it was written While Parkinson may never have been the first contact of any local people he was clearly among the first and observed many societies before they were extensively incorporated into the Western economy or missionised Thirty Years in the South Seas is unparalleled in the literature of the Bismarck Archipelago It is an incomparable picture of a time and place now long past      Men Against the Sea - Book Set James Norman Hall,2023-12-23 In Men Against the Sea James Norman Hall masterfully weaves a narrative that captures the harrowing struggles of a group of men cast adrift in the vast unforgiving ocean following a naval catastrophe The prose is marked by a vivid realism and poetic cadence providing a profound exploration of human endurance amid the existential threat of the sea With its intricate character development and philosophical undertones the book not only serves as an adventure tale but also engages with themes of fate camaraderie and the indomitable spirit of survival situating it firmly within the literary tradition of nautical fiction and post war existentialism James Norman Hall an American author and aviator co authored the celebrated Mutiny on the Bounty His personal experiences during World War I and his passion for the sea heavily influenced his writing Hall's own adventures and insights into the human condition lend an authentic depth to the characters in Men Against the Sea as he draws upon both his literary acumen and real life encounters with danger and resilience This compelling book is a must read for those intrigued by themes of survival against nature's wrath and the inner workings of the human psyche Hall's evocative storytelling invites readers to reflect on their own struggles and triumphs making it an enduring classic that resonates with anyone seeking inspiration amid adversity      Modernism on Sea Lara Feigel,Alexandra Harris,2009 These lively and
