The Hunger Winter Henri A. Van Der Zee,1998-01-01 Germany invaded the Netherlands in the spring of 1940 Life in occupied Holland was hideous enough but for the Dutch the worst was yet to come After the Western Allies lost the Battle of Arnhem in September 1944 the Dutch provinces north of the Rhine and Waal Rivers were in the hands of the Germans and to the south fighting raged for months In the winter of 1944 45 just as other parts of Europe were being liberated the Dutch seemed forsaken by the Allies who bypassed Holland on their drive to Berlin That last winter of the war with its severe food and fuel shortages was a terrible one for the Dutch people who also suffered from episodes of Nazi terrorism In some provinces there was nothing to eat but tulip bulbs and sugar beets and eighteen thousand Dutch civilians actually starved to death Henri van der Zee who was ten years old that winter remembers what happened to his people The Hunger Winter Henri van der Zee,1982 The Hunger Winter Ingrid de Zwart,2020-07-23 In this pioneering study Ingrid de Zwart examines the causes and demographic impact of the Dutch Hunger Winter that occurred in the Netherlands during the final months of German occupation in the Second World War She offers a comprehensive and multifaceted view of the socio political context in which the famine emerged and considers how the famine was confronted at different societal levels including the responses by Dutch German and Allied state institutions affected households and local communities Contrary to highly politicized assumptions she argues that the famine resulted from a culmination of multiple transportation and distribution difficulties Although Allied relief was postponed for many crucial months and official rations fell far below subsistence level successful community efforts to fight the famine conditions emerged throughout the country She also explains why German authorities found reasons to cooperate and allow relief for the starving Dutch With these explorations The Hunger Winter offers a radically new understanding of the Dutch famine and provides a valuable insight into the strategies and coping mechanisms of a modern society facing catastrophe The Hunger Winter Ingrid de Zwart,2020 In this pioneering study Ingrid de Zwart examines the causes and demographic impact of the Dutch Hunger Winter that occurred in the Netherlands during the final months of German occupation in the Second World War She offers a comprehensive and multifaceted view of the sociopolitical context in which the famine emerged and considers how the famine was confronted at different societal levels including the responses by Dutch German and Allied state institutions affected households and local communities Contrary to highly politicized assumptions she argues that the famine resulted from a culmination of multiple transportation and distribution difficulties Although Allied relief was postponed for many crucial months and official rations fell far below subsistence level successful community efforts to fight the famine conditions emerged throughout the country She also explains why German authorities found reasons to cooperate and allow relief for the starving Dutch With these explorations The Hunger Winter offers a radically new understanding of the Dutch famine and provides a valuable insight into the strategies and coping mechanisms of a modern society facing catastrophe Education and the Second World War: Education in England During the Second World War Roy Lowe, 2012 This was the first book which globally surveyed the impact of the Second World War on schooling It offers fascinating comparisons of the impact of total war both in terms of physical disruption and its effects on the ideology of schooling By analysing the effects on the education systems of each of the participant nations the contributors throw new light on the responses made in different parts of the globe to the challenge of world wide conflict      Food and Famine in the 21st Century William A.

Dando, 2012-02-13 This comprehensive two volume encyclopedia examines specific famines throughout history and contains entries on key topics related to food production security and policies and famine giving readers an in depth look at food crises and their causes responses to them and outcomes Famines have claimed more lives across human history than all the wars ever fought This two volume set represents the most comprehensive study of food and famine currently available providing the broadest analysis of hunger and famine causes as well as a detailed examination of the ramifications of cultural and natural hazards upon famine Volume one focuses upon 50 topics and issues relating to the creation of hunger and famines in the world from 4000 BCE to 2100 including an overview of how agriculture has evolved from primitive hunting and gathering that supported limited numbers of people to a worldwide system that now feeds over seven billion people Volume two entitled Classic Famines begins with famines of the past from 4000 BCE to 2100 CE includes ten classic famine case studies and concludes with predictions of famines we could see in the 21st century and beyond      The Social Railway and Its Workers in Europe's Modern Era, 1880-2023 David Welsh, 2025-06-26 This thematically arranged book examines the evolution of rail transport and a number of railway workforces across Europe in the modern era from around 1880 to 2023 Each chapter explores how within the context of a social railway rail workers developed distinct national and international perspectives on the nature of their work and their roles in societies and states David Welsh convincingly argues that workers formed a raft of entirely new and enduring organisations such as trade unions that in turn became ramparts of hope Welsh goes on to consider how the insurgent character of these organisations produced moments of fury during tumultuous periods in the 20th century The Social Railway and its Workers in Europe's Modern Era 1880 2023 explores the national and European contexts in which both characteristics came to the fore including the ecology of fossil fuel technology coal and oil Above all it argues that social economic and political forces are not simply external scene shifting but integral to the history of railway systems The book examines the cultural construction of European railways through literature art and other forms of writing as well as recent oral history It also includes a detailed investigation of the role played by nationalisation and public ownership in Europe In the context of neoliberalism and globalization it proposes a 21st century programme for the social railway      Crucified Island Kai Althoetmar, 2025-05-28 The crucified island How Texel sank in a sea of blood in April 1945 The tragic story of the Georgian legionnaires uprising against the Wehrmacht at the end of World War II      Children during the Holocaust Patricia Heberer, 2011-05-31 Children during the Holocaust from the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum's Center for Advanced Holocaust Studies tells the story of the Holocaust through the eyes and fates of its youngest victims. The ten chapters follow the arc of the persecutory policies of the Nazis and their sympathizers and the impact these measures had on Jewish children and adolescents from the years leading to the war to the roundups, deportations and emigrations to hidden life and death in the ghettos and concentration camps and to liberation and coping in the wake of war. This volume examines the reactions of children to discrimination, the loss of livelihood in Jewish homes and the public humiliation at the hands of fellow citizens and explores the ways in which children's experiences paralleled and diverged from their adult counterparts. Additional chapters reflect upon the role of non-Jewish children as victims, perpetrators and bystanders during World War II. Offering a collection of personal letters, diaries, court testimonies, government documents, military reports, speeches, newspapers, photographs and artwork, Children during the Holocaust highlights the diversity of children's experiences during the nightmare years of the Holocaust.

Conditions of Violence
 Christian Gerlach, 2024-11-04. Mass violence comes not only from states but also from people. By analyzing mass violence as social interaction through survivor accounts and other sources, this book presents understudied agents, aims and practices of direct violence and ways of action of those under persecution. Sound history examining the noises of mass violence and persecution is particularly telling about such practices. This volume shows that violence can become socially hegemonic and some people claim a freedom to kill as a political right. To scrutinize indirect violence, which is often imperialist in character and claims many victims, the book proposes the concept of conditions of violence. These conditions are produced by definable groups of actors and foreseeably harm definable groups, which differs from the anonymous and static structural violence. This is exemplified in a case study concerning famines in World War II and another on COVID-19 as mass violence. Less global in character, other case studies in this volume deal with Rwanda, Bangladesh, East Pakistan and the Soviet Union.

Scientific Research In World War II
 Ad Maas, Hans Hooijmaijers, 2009-01-13. Scientific Research in World War II seeks to explore how scientists managed to cope with the particular circumstances created by the war. The book focuses on both war-waging countries such as the United Kingdom, Japan, Germany and the United States and those under occupation such as the Netherlands and France.

Borys,2021-02-18

Mitigating the destruction and chaos wrought upon the civilian populations of northwest Europe during the latter years of the Second World War became the focus of Civil Affairs a little known branch of the First Canadian Army Comprising a motley collection of civilians turned soldiers too old for combat yet too valuable to remain off the front lines the members of Civil Affairs served as liaisons between Canadian combat forces and the civilians they encountered on the ground Civilians at the Sharp End follows the story of the Civil Affairs branch through France Belgium the Netherlands and Germany in 1944 45 David Borys highlights how Civil Affairs helped civilians caught in the jaws of war by delivering food and medicine providing shelter for refugees and displaced persons establishing law and order dealing with resistance groups and aiding in the reconstruction of infrastructure in damaged urban areas Once in Germany the branch was further challenged as it transformed into a military government and became a force of occupation rehabilitating a war torn Germany and purging the state of its Nazi leadership while at times having to protect German civilians from the recently liberated prisoners of the Nazi state Borys demonstrates that while the Canadian Army was indeed concerned for the welfare of civilians military operations took priority over civilian needs Civil Affairs was forced to negotiate this complex terrain assisting civilian populations while ensuring that they never impeded the work of the Canadian military and the ultimate defeat of Nazi Germany      Life and
