The new sixth edition of Ecotourism focuses on an array of economic social and ecological inconsistencies that continue to plague ecotourism in theory and practice and examines the sector in reference to other related forms of tourism impacts conservation sustainability education and interpretation policy and governance and the ethical imperative of ecotourism as these apply to the world's greenest form of tourism Building on the success of prior editions the text has been revised throughout to incorporate recent research including ecotourism taking place in underrepresented world regions It includes new case studies on important themes in research and practice as well as learning objectives in each chapter David A Fennell provides an authoritative and comprehensive review of the most important issues including climate change and UN Sustainable Development Goals Ecotourism continues to be embraced as the antithesis of mass tourism because of its promise of achieving sustainability through conservation mindedness community development education and learning and the promotion of nature based activities that are sensitive to both ecological and social systems The book debates to what extent this promise has been realised An essential reference for those interested in ecotourism the book is accessible to students but retains the depth required for use by researchers and practitioners in the field This book will be of interest to students across a range of disciplines including geography economics business ethics biology and environmental studies

Language Learning Online: Towards Best Practice Uschi Felix, 2003-01-01 This important and accessible book identifies the key elements in the quest for best practice in online language teaching The authors all of them international experts who have made significant contributions to the debate about how to exploit the new technologies consider online language teaching from three crucial perspectives design tools and pedagogy Their recommendations are such that they can actually be realised in spite of the limitations of today's educational environments The book demonstrates that the new technologies offer far greater potential for authentic encounters and constructivist learning than even the best classroom simulations that automated exercise and feedback structures can be individualised and meaningful and that if we have to teach fully by distance these ventures no longer need to represent impoverished versions of live classes but can engender a strong sense of community To achieve this we need to understand what elements constitute good design both in technical and pedagogical terms to think seriously about providing the best feedback possible and to have the courage to take the risks associated with letting go of traditional learner teacher relationships
