

Why is water conservation important?

Preserving a Vital Resource

Water is essential for life, but it is a limited resource. Conserving water helps ensure there is enough clean water for everyone to use now and in the future.

Reducing Environmental Impact

Using less water reduces the energy needed to treat and distribute it, which in turn lowers greenhouse gas emissions and helps protect the environment.

Saving Money

Conserving water at home can lower your utility bills and reduce the overall demand, which helps keep costs down for everyone.
