The Great God Pan, And, the Inmost Light.* By: Arthur Machen Arthur Machen, 2018-02-08. The Great God Pan is a novella by Welsh writer Arthur Machen. A version of the story was published in the magazine The Whirlwind in 1890, and Machen revised and extended it for its book publication together with another story, The Inmost Light, in 1894. On publication, it was widely denounced by the press as degenerate and horrific because of its decadent style and sexual content, but it has since garnered a reputation as a classic of horror.

1. Machen's story was only one of many at the time to focus on the Greek God Pan as a useful symbol for the power of nature and paganism. The title was possibly inspired by the poem A Musical Instrument published in 1862 by Elizabeth Barrett Browning, in which the first line of every stanza ends with the great god Pan.

Synopsis: edit Clarke agrees somewhat unwillingly to bear witness to a strange experiment performed by his friend Dr. Raymond. The ultimate goal of the doctor is to open the mind of man so that he may experience the spiritual world, an experience he calls seeing the great god Pan. He performs the experiment, which involves minor brain surgery on a young woman named Mary. She awakens from the operation awed and terrified but quickly becomes a hopeless idiot. Years later, Clarke learns of a beautiful but sinister girl named Helen Vaughan, who is reported to have caused a series of mysterious happenings in her town. She spends much of her time in the woods near her house and takes other children on prolonged twilight rambles in the countryside that disturb the parents of the town. One day, a young boy stumbles across her playing on the grass with a strange naked man; the boy becomes hysterical and later after seeing a Roman statue of a satyr's head becomes permanently feeble minded Helen also forms an unusually close friendship with a neighbour girl Rachel whom she leads several times into the woods On one occasion Rachel returns home distraught half naked and rambling Shortly after explaining what happened to her mother never revealed in the story she returns to the woods and disappears forever Years later Villiers happens across his old friend Herbert who has become a vagrant since they last met When asked how he has fallen so low Herbert replies that he has been corrupted body and soul by his wife After some investigation with Clarke and another character Austin it is revealed that Helen was Herbert's wife and that the two had been involved rather suspiciously in the death of a well to do man Herbert is later found dead Helen disappears for some time supposedly taking part in disturbing orgies somewhere in the Americas She eventually returns to London under the pseudonym Mrs Beaumont her appearance followed by a series of suicides Villiers and Clarke each learning of Mrs Beaumont's true identity band together and confront Helen in her house They persuade her to hang herself and Helen has a very abnormal death transforming between human and beast before finally dying It is finally revealed that Helen is the child of Mary and the great god Pan who was let in when Dr Raymond opened her mind up to him Arthur Machen 3 March 1863 15 December 1947 was a Welsh author and mystic of the 1890s and early 20th century The Great God Pan - the Original Classic Edition Arthur Machen, 2012-06 I came to know about Arthur Machen and his work through the brilliant mastermind of H P Lovecraft his references both in fiction The Dunwich Horror makes a very clear statement about Machen's influence in his body of work and non fiction Supernatural Horror in Literature ultimately inspired me to go search something about this author Needless to say I found virtually nothing in any bookstore It was during a trip to Madrid Spain where I finally found a book by Machen containing The Great God Pan and many others I was shocked The Great God Pan was the first story I read by Arthur Machen and I only had to read the first few pages to know I was going to like it Indeed I did although it was a little short for my taste The ideas Machen makes you travel through are some of the finest in horror literature and the Cosmic view of Pan is very near the likes of Lovecraft One can easily see where the influence Machen exerted over Lovecraft is The only difference is that Machen did believe in some supernatural force existing within the Universe whereas Lovecraft was the complete opposite Dark Pagan Horror is what Machen delivers and he does so with such a style elegance and wit you just can't help but to stay with it until you are done Chambers's Cyclopaedia of English Literature Robert Chambers, David Patrick, 1903 Young Citizen, 1907
