The Longest Line Gary Stevens,1995 Interviews with cast members trace the development of the longest running show in Broadway history Pastoral Cosmopolitanism in Edith Wharton's Fiction Margarida Cadima,2023-07-11

American novelist Edith Wharton 1862 1937 is best known today for her tales of the city and the experiences of patrician New Yorkers in the Gilded Age This book pushes against the grain of critical orthodoxy by prioritizing other species of spaces in Wharton s work For example how do Wharton s narratives represent the organic profusion of external nature Does the current scholarly fascination with the environmental humanities reveal previously unexamined or overlooked facets of Wharton s craft I propose that what is most striking about her narrative practice is how she utilizes adapts and translates pastoral tropes conventions and concerns to twentieth century American actualities It is no accident that Wharton portrays characters returning to or exploring various natural localities such as private gardens public parks chic mountain resorts monumental ruins or country estate follies Such encounters and adventures prompt us to imagine new relationships with various geographies and the lifeforms that can be found there The book addresses a knowledge gap in Wharton and the environmental humanities especially recent debates in ecocriticism The excavation of Wharton s words and the background of her narratives with an eye to offering an ecocritical reading of her work is what the book focuses on

The New Unionism Charles C. Heckscher, 2018-09-05 In his visionary analysis Charles Heckscher argues for associational unionism a model outside the tradition of American labor law Rejecting the usual boundary between workers and management Heckscher defines a genuinely new system of representation that encourages multilateral negotiation involving management different groups of employees and other interested parties such as consumers or environmentalists The New Unionism a Twentieth Century Fund Book was first published in 1988 This edition includes a new introduction by the author in which he reviews the significance of recent economic and political trends and addresses some of the criticisms of the concept of an associational union The New York Times Index, 1914 History and Hope in American Literature

Benjamin Railton, 2016-11-10 Throughout history creative writers have often tackled topical subjects as a means to engage and influence public discourse American authors those born in the States and those who became naturalized citizens have consistently found ways to be critical of the more painful pieces of the country's past yet have done so with the patriotic purpose of strengthening the nation's community and future In History and Hope in American Literature Models of Critical Patriotism Ben Railton argues that it is only through an in depth engagement with history especially its darkest and most agonizing elements that one can come to a genuine form of patriotism that employs constructive criticism as a tool for civic engagement The author argues that it is through such critical patriotism that one can imagine and move toward a hopeful shared future for all Americans Railton highlights twelve works of American literature that focus on troubling periods in American history including John Steinbeck's The Grapes of Wrath David Bradley's The Chaneysville Incident Louise Erdrich's Love Medicine Tony Kushner's Angels in America Junot Diaz's The Brief Wondrous Life of Oscar Wao and Dave Eggers's What Is the What From African and Native American histories to the Depression and the AIDS epidemic Caribbean and Rwandan refugees and immigrants to global climate change these works help readers confront understand and transcend the most sorrowful histories and issues In so doing the authors of these books offer hard won hope that can help point people in the direction of a more perfect union History and Hope in American Literature will be of interest to students and practitioners of American literature and history *Catalog of Copyright Entries.
