Literature of Scotland Roderick Watson, 2006-11-24 Critics hailed the first edition of The Literature of Scotland as one of the most comprehensive and fascinatingly readable accounts of Scottish literature in all three of the country's languages Gaelic Scots and English In this extensively revised and expanded new edition Roderick Watson traces the lives and works of Scottish writers in a beautiful and rugged country that has been divided by political and religious conflict but united too by a democratic and egalitarian ideal of nationhood The Literature of Scotland The Twentieth Century provides a comprehensive account of the richest ever period in Scottish literary history From The House with the Green Shutters to Trainspotting and far beyond this companion volume to The Literature of Scotland The Middle Ages to the Nineteenth Century gives a critical and historical context to the upsurge of writing in the languages of Scotland Roderick Watson covers a wide range of modern and contemporary Scottish authors including MacDiarmid MacLean Grassie Gibbon Gunn Robert Garioch Iain Crichton Smith Alasdair Gray Edwin Morgan James Kelman Irvine Welsh Alan Warner A L Kennedy Liz Lochhead John Burnside Jackie Kay Kathleen Jamie and many many more Also featuring an extended list of Further Reading and a helpful chronological timeline this is an indispensable introduction to the great variety of Scottish writing which has emerged since the start of the twentieth century

Superhero Comics and Scottish Identity David John Boyd, Julie Briand-Boyd, 2025-06-25 Superhero Comics and Scottish Identity explores the life and career of Glasgow born Eisner Award winning and internationally acclaimed Marvel DC and Image Comics artist Frank Quitely With a prolific career spanning more than three decades Quitely played a pivotal role in the British superhero renaissance of the 1990s and 2000s and in the explosive emergence of the Scottish new wave of comics a movement that included peers like Alan Grant Mark Millar and Grant Morrison but has been underrepresented in both comics studies and Scottish studies This work investigates questions of historical and contemporary expressions of Scottishness in transcultural comics genres such as superhero science fiction and fantasy Framed through the lens of comics and literary genres as well as their British and American editors Quiteley's approach to Scottishness is oblique and self-reflexive; his expressions of Scottishness are tensely bound to current nuanced examinations of Scottish national literary and historical subjectivity. His work oscillates between two axiomatic antipodes: the regional/provincial and local versus the transnational/cosmopolitan and global. This comprehensive study also features an in-depth interview with Quiteley as well as unearthed archives, sketchbooks, notes, and donated or personal artworks not available elsewhere.

Alasdair Gray Rodge Glass, 2012-04-05 Alasdair Gray, author of the modern classics Lanark and Poor Things (1982), is without doubt Scotland's greatest living novelist. Since trying unsuccessfully to buy him a drink in 1998, Rodge Glass first tutor and then secretary to the author takes on the role of biographer, charting Gray's life from unpublished and unrecognised son of a box-maker to septuagenarian little grey deity as Will Self has called him. A Jewish Mancunian Boswell to Gray's Johnson, Glass seamlessly weaves a chronological narrative of his subject's life into his own diary of meeting, getting to know, and working with the artist, writer, and campaigner to create a vibrant and wonderfully textured portrait of a literary great.

Edinburgh Companion to Contemporary Scottish Literature Berthold Schoene, 2007-04-11 The Edinburgh Companion to Contemporary Scottish Literature examines the ways in which the cultural and political role of Scottish writing has changed since the country's successful referendum on national self-rule in 1997. In doing so, it makes a convincing case for a distinctive post-devolution Scottish criticism. Introducing over forty original essays under four main headings: Contexts, Genres, Authors, and Topics, the volume covers the entire spectrum of current interests and topical concerns in the field of Scottish studies and heralds a new era in Scottish writing, literary criticism, and cultural theory. It records and critically outlines prominent literary trends and developments, the specific political circumstances and aesthetic agendas that propel them, as well as literature's capacity for envisioning new and alternative futures. Issues under discussion include class, sexuality, and gender, nationhood and globalisation, the New Europe, and cosmopolitan citizenship/postcoloniality.
