Danto, 2021-06-08 The classic and provocative account of how art changed irrevocably with pop art and why traditional aesthetics can't make sense of contemporary art A classic of art criticism and philosophy After the End of Art continues to generate heated debate for its radical and famous assertion that art ended in the 1960s Arthur Danto a philosopher who was also one of the leading art critics of his time argues that traditional notions of aesthetics no longer apply to contemporary art and that we need a philosophy of art criticism that can deal with perhaps the most perplexing feature of current art that everything is possible An insightful and entertaining exploration of art's most important aesthetic and philosophical issues conducted by an acute observer of contemporary art After the End of Art argues that with the eclipse of abstract expressionism art deviated irrevocably from the narrative course that Vasari helped define for it in the

Renaissance Moreover Danto makes the case for a new type of criticism that can help us understand art in a posthistorical age where for example an artist can produce a work in the style of Rembrandt to create a visual pun and where traditional theories cannot explain the difference between Andy Warhol's Brillo Box and the product found in the grocery store After the End of Art addresses art history pop art people's art the future role of museums and the critical contributions of Clement Greenberg whose aesthetics based criticism helped a previous generation make sense of modernism Tracing art history from a mimetic tradition the idea that art was a progressively more adequate representation of reality through the modern era of manifestos when art was defined by the artist's philosophy Danto shows that it wasn't until the invention of pop art that the historical understanding of the means and ends of art was nullified Even modernist art which tried to break with the past by questioning the ways in which art was produced hinged on a narrative

No God but Man Atiya Husain, 2024-12-16 Reconceptualizing the relationship between race and Islam in the United States No God but Man theorizes race as an epistemology using the FBI's post 9/11 Most Wanted Terrorist list and its posters as its starting point Atiya Husain traces the origins of the FBI wanted poster form to the work of nineteenth century social scientist Adolphe Quetelet specifically his overvalued type of human called average man Husain argues that this notion of the human continues to structure wanted posters as well as much contemporary social scientific thinking about race Focusing on the curious representations on the Most Wanted Terrorist list that range from Muslims who lack a race category on their posters to the 2013 addition of Black revolutionary Assata Shakur Husain demonstrates the ongoing influence of the average man and its relevance even today proposing a counterweight to the category by engaging Shakur's turn to Islam in the 1970s in the legal context In doing so Husain shows the limitations of race as an analytical category altogether

Andy Warhol, Poetry, and Gossip in the 1960s Reva Wolf, 1997-12-08 Reva Wolf investigates the underground culture of poets artists and filmmakers who interacted with Warhol during his apotheosis in the turbulent 1960s She claims that Warhol understood the literary imagination of his generation and that a study of Warhol's literary activities is essential to understanding his art
