War Reporting For Cowards Chris Ayres:

War Reporting for Cowards Chris Ayres, 2006-06-07 The story of one of the most fascinating women of all time Maria Eva Duarte who rose from poverty to become one of the richest most powerful women in the world War Reporting for Cowards Chris Ayres, 2007-12-01 Imagine George Costanza from Seinfeld being sent off to cover the Iraq War Hilarious Michiko Kakutani The New York Times Chris Ayres is a small town boy a hypochondriac and a neat freak with an anxiety disorder Not exactly the picture of a war correspondent But when his boss asks him if he would like to go to Iraq he doesn't have the guts to say no After signing a one million dollar life insurance policy studying a tutorial on repairing severed limbs and spending twenty thousand dollars on camping gear only to find out that his bright yellow tent makes him a sitting duck Ayres is embedded with a battalion of gung ho Marines who either shun him or threaten him when he files an unfavorable story As time goes on though he begins to understand them and his inexplicably enthusiastic fellow war reporters more and more Each night of terrifying combat brings in the morning something more visceral than he has ever experienced the thrill of having won a fight for survival War Reporting for Cowards tells with self deprecating wit the story of Iraq in a way that is extraordinarily honest and bitterly hilarious The New Yorker Heartbreakingly funny Anthony Swofford author of Jarhead Chris Ayres has invented a new genre a rip roaring tale of adventure and derring don't Toby Young author of How to Lose Friends and Alienate People Darkly entertaining Los Angeles Times Ayres's stories of life with Marines are gripping in part because he's the perfect neurotic foil People The War Correspondent Greg McLaughlin, 2016-02-20 What is the role of the war reporter today Through interviews with prominent war and foreign correspondents such as John Pilger Robert Fisk Mary Dejevsky and Alex Thomson The War Correspondent delves into the most dangerous form of journalism From Crimea to Vietnam the Falklands to the Gulf and Afghanistan Iraq and the War on Terror the book examines the attractions and risks of war reporting the challenge of objectivity and impartiality in the war zone the danger that journalistic independence is compromised by military control censorship and public relations as well as the commercial and technological pressures of an intensely concentrated competitive news media environment As history and ideology return to the reporting of international conflict Greg McLaughlin asks what will that mean for a new generation of war correspondents attuned not to history or ideology but to the politics of the next conflict Death by Leisure Chris Ayres, 2010-01-19 A British journalist's fast and funny account of hedonism and conspicuous consumption in Los Angeles and his attempt to get in on the fun The New York Times From the author of War Reporting for Cowards Death by Leisure is the incisive irreverent and savagely funny story of British journalist Chris Ayres's attempt to infiltrate the American leisure class and find true love in the credit fueled years before the 2008 economic collapse When the bubble bursts however Ayres must learn to live without the billionaire balls supermodel girlfriends foie gras pina colodas and caviar facials to which he's grown accustomed Just like the rest of us alas With dry British wit Ayres skewers American greed L.A. life and his own endless romantic foibles Somehow Ayres knew the fall was coming and kept going anyway So did we Time Were this merely a tale of a stranger in a strange land Ayres s hilariously self effacing manner would make this worth reading But what makes it more than merely clever is the way Ayres turns his own romantic insecurity and material aspiration into a stinging if sympathetic indictment of mindless consumption Yes we re destroying the planet he seems to say but can we help it given how pathetic we are And anyone who can make us laugh at that must be a genius Booklist starred review Represented Reporters Barbara Korte,2015-07-15 War correspondents are prominent actors in the media world They took hold in the cultural imaginary soon after their profession had been created in the mid 19th century With a particular focus on Britain this study investigates the representation of war correspondents from Victorian times to the present in memoirs novels and films Such representations react to prevailing notions that exist about war reporters and participate in their further construction With its cultural approach this book complements studies of war correspondents in media and communication studies history and ethnology Shooting the Messenger Paul Moorcraft,2011-10-31 Wars have dominated politics since history began In the modern era most of what the media reports on foreign conflicts comes from a small band of war correspondents As the furore over the Iraq Afghan and now the Libyan wars demonstrates Western governments and militaries often collude to keep their voters in the dark about the causes and the conduct of wars waged in their name In this entertaining and unspun account of modern war reporting the authors ask whether the media itself drives democracies to war Or does it serve to constrain evil ignorant and messianic leaders Are the heirs of William Howard Russell the first modern war reporter watchdogs or lapdogs In the age of Wikileaks and corrupt media empires what is the political impact of war correspondents Are they the heroes or harlots of their profession Shooting the Messenger Paul L. Moorcraft,Philip M. Taylor,2008-06-30 As the literature on military media relations grows it is informed by antagonism either from journalists who report on wars or from ex soldiers in their memoirs Academics who attempt more judicious accounts rarely have any professional military or media experience A working knowledge of the operational constraints of both professions underscores Shooting the Messenger A veteran war correspondent and think tank director Paul L Moorcraft has served in the British Ministry of Defence while historian by training Philip M Taylor is a professor of international communications who has lectured widely to the U S military and at NATO institutions Some of the topics they examine in this wide ranging history of military media relations are the interface between soldiers and civilian reporters covering conflicts the sometimes grey area between reporters right or need to know and the operational security constraints imposed by the military the military s manipulation of journalists who accept it as a trade off for safer battlefield access the resultant gap between images of war and their reality the evolving nature of media technology and the difficulties and opportunities this poses to the military journalistic performance in reporting conflict as an observer or a participant Moorcraft and Taylor provide a bridge over which each side can pass and a path to mutual understanding Honor James Bowman,2007 From the earliest records of human civilization until the dawn of the twentieth century and in widely separated cultures throughout the world the story of honor was inseparable from the story of mankind Today an acquaintance with the concept of honor is indispensable to understanding the culture of the Islamic world and its sense of grievance against the West where honor has been disregarded or actively despised for three quarters of a century James Bowman draws from an wealth of sources across many centuries to illuminate honor s curious history in our own culture and he discovers that Western honor was always different from that found elsewhere Its idiosyncratic qualities derived partly from the classical tradition but mainly from the Judeo Christian heritage whose emphases on individual morality and more recently on sincerity and authenticity in private and personal life have acted as continual challenges to the traditional notion of honor as it is still maintained in other parts of the world These challenges to honor and the accommodations with it that they ultimately produced are a fundamental theme in our own culture s distinctive history and the eventual collapse of the honor culture in the West is the background against which the War on Terror and the Clash of Civilizations ought to be seen Jacket

Dying for the Truth Paul L. Moorcraft, 2016-11-30 A history and analysis of journalists reporting from the frontlines of war from the mid nineteenth century to the early twenty first century War correspondents are crucial to democracy and the public s discovery of the truth Without the media the temptation to manipulate events with propaganda could be irresistible to politicians of all hues Dying for The Truth examines how journalists have plied their trade from the Crimean War to the present Paul Moorcraft a veteran journalist discusses how correspondents considerable influence has shaped the actions of politicians and military commanders as well as public opinion and reveals how authority figures now view the media as potentially valuable tools Technical developments and the twenty four hour news cycle have inevitably changed the nature of war reporting Today news bureaus are apt to learn of developments before the higher chains of command The author comments on key milestones that have contributed to this evolution Using his own and others experiences in recent conflicts including Korea the Falklands the Balkans Iraq and Afghanistan Moorcraft shares an aspect of warfare that is all too often overlooked but can be crucial to the outcome The public s attitude toward the day to day conduct of war is becoming ever more significant and this fascinating book examines why This is a brilliant history of war reporting from the mid nineteenth century s scribblers and snappers reporters and photographers to today s digital technology and instant communications Military Officer

Representing Genocide Rebecca Jinks, 2016-06-02 This book explores the diverse ways in which Holocaust representations have influenced and structured how other genocides are understood and represented in the West Rebecca Jinks focuses in particular on the canonical 20th century cases of genocide Armenia Cambodia Bosnia and Rwanda Using literature film photography and memorialisation she demonstrates that we can only understand the Holocaust s status as a benchmark for other genocides if we look at the deeper structural resonances which subtly shape many representations of genocide Representing Genocide pursues five thematic areas in turn how genocides are recognised as such by western publics the representation of the origins and perpetrators of genocide how western witnesses represent genocide representations of the aftermath of genocide and western responses to genocide Throughout the book distinguishes between mainstream and other more nuanced and engaged representations of genocide It shows how these mainstream representations the majority largely replicate the representational framework of the Holocaust including the way in which mainstream Holocaust representations resist recognising the rationality instrumentality and normality of genocide preferring instead to present it as an aberrant exceptional event in human society By contrast the more engaged representations often but not always originating from those who experienced genocide tend to revolve around precisely genocide's ordinariness and the structures and situations common to human society which contribute to and become involved in the violence

Global Media Ethics Stephen J. A. Ward, 2013-03-04 Global Media Ethics Global Media Ethics Problems and Perspectives The book pleads convincingly that news media outlets and practitioners should urgently reconsider their practices and norms in a world gone global and digitally convergent The various contributions broach the topic from completely different perspectives to create a very stimulating and constructive framework to identify and face the new ethical challenges of journalism and the news media Fran ois Heinderyckx Universit libre de Bruxelles News that crosses boundaries of culture and geography means rethinking media ethics The demands of role audience digital transmission and an industry under fierce economic pressure require the insightful approach to ethical thinking this volume provides From theory to practice this book has something for scholars and professionals alike Lee Wilkins Journal of Mass Media Ethics Global Media Ethics is a cross cultural exploration of the conceptual and practical issues facing media ethics in a global world Focusing on the ethical concepts principles and questions in an era of major change this unique textbook explores the aims and norms that should guide the publication of stories that impact across borders and which affect a globally linked pluralistic world Through case studies analysis of emerging practices and theoretical discussion a team of leading journalism and communication experts investigate the impact of major global trends on responsible journalism and lead readers to better understand changes in media ethics Chapters look at how these changes promote or inhibit responsible journalism how such changes challenge existing standards and how media ethics can develop to take account of global news media In light of the fact that media journalism is now and will increasingly become multimedia in format and global in its scope and influence the book argues that global media impact entails global responsibilities It is therefore critical that media ethics rethinks its basic notions standards and practices from a more cosmopolitan perspective Soft Weapons Gillian Whitlock,2010-02-15 Azar Nafisi s Reading Lolita in Tehran Marjane Satrapi s comics and Baghdad Blogger Salam Pax s Internet diary are just a few examples of the new face of autobiography in an age of migration globalization and terror But while autobiography and other genres of life writing can help us attend to people whose experiences are frequently unseen and unheard life narratives can also be easily co opted into propaganda In Soft Weapons Gillian Whitlock explores the dynamism and ubiquity of contemporary life writing about the Middle East and shows how these works have been packaged promoted and enlisted in Western controversies Considering recent autoethnographies of Afghan women refugee testimony from Middle Eastern war zones Jean Sasson s bestsellers about the lives of Arab women Norma Khouri s fraudulent memoir Honor Lost personal accounts by journalists reporting the war in Iraq Satrapi s Persepolis Nafisi s book and Pax s blog Whitlock explores the contradictions and ambiguities in the rapid commodification of life memoirs Drawing from the fields of literary and cultural studies Soft Weapons will be essential reading for scholars of life writing and those interested in the exchange of literary culture between Islam and the West Atmosphere Dana Desonie,2007 Air pollution obscures vistas damages ecosystems and compromises human health While some pollutants are regulated as population grows and industries expand intensive solutions are needed to deal with air pollution and its consequences This book tackles these issues and shows readers what they can do to help conserve our planet s atmosphere My Outdoor Life Ray Mears,2013-09-12 If Ray Mears isn t a Great Living Englishman then goodness me who is Ray is a persuader pragmatist and populariser in the Durrell Attenborough Bellamy tradition Robert Crampton The Times Ray Mears is a household name through his television series Tracks World of Survival Bushcraft Survival The Real Heroes of Telemark and many more He is a private individual who shuns publicity whenever possible and would prefer to let his many skills tell their own tale until now In My Outdoor Life Ray tells of his childhood and the formative years when he first developed a passion for both bushcraft and the martial arts skills that are central to his life Having travelled the world several times over he is no stranger to risk and has had more than his fair share of dangerous and life threatening encounters to share with his readers But his life is so much more than a tale of derring do Shortly after he returned to England having narrowly survived a serious helicopter crash his father died Just a year later he had to face the death of his first wife Rachel The book conveys the many

sides of Ray Mears taking us up to the present day including the previously untold story of his involvement in the man hunt for murderer Raoul Moat My Outdoor Life gives us all a chance to share a life story as rich and as inspirational as a walk in woods with the man himself Ray Mears There's No I in Office Jacob Lentz, Paul Koehorst, 2009-04-01 A Simon Schuster eBook Simon Schuster has a great book for every reader Journalists Under Fire Howard Tumber, Frank Webster, 2006-04-18 it will appeal not only to students of journalism and media but also to anyone interested in the world around them Marie Kinsey Times Higher Education Supplement Professor Tumber weaves together traditional and topical themes to produce a comprehensive overview of the media's role at times of conflict Stewart Purvis City University London Presents a vivid picture of what it's like to be working as a journalist on the front line during a modern war Through the eyes of leading correspondents in the field the authors examine their experience and its impact on the audience their profession and their own lives The Information Centre about Asylum and Refugees in the UK ICAR Journalists Under Fire is the first book to combine a conceptually audacious analysis of the changing nature of war with an empirically rich critical analysis of journalists who cover conflict In Journalists Under Fire authors Howard Tumber and Frank Webster explore questions about the information war and journalistic practices Frontline correspondents play a key role in information war but their position is considerably more ambiguous and ambivalent than in the epoch of industrial war They play a central role in the presentation of what is often spectacle to audiences around the world whose actual experience of war is far removed from combat In the era of multi-national journalism of the internet and satellite videophone the book highlights central features of media reporting in contemporary conflict Drawing on over fifty lengthy interviews with frontline correspondents the authors shed light on the motivations fears and practices of those who work under conditions of journalism under fire Journalists Under Fire is designed for undergraduate and postgraduate students and for scholars academics and researchers in the fields of journalism media and communication Media Studies sociology international relations and war studies

Borderland Chrisanthi Giotis, 2022 Every two seconds a person is displaced caught in one of the more than 40 active conflicts around the world that show no sign of ending Since 1994 there has been ongoing war in the Democratic Republic of Congo which has uprooted millions of people and resulted in the deaths of millions more In the West we have entered a political era where our border policies are underpinned by unending wars At this critical juncture how can journalists especially those engaged in foreign correspondence tell these stories How can they make connections across time and space and across politics economics environments and crucially people Given its colonial history are these connections possible for the profession of foreign correspondence In Borderland Chrisanthi Giotis argues that decolonization is possible and necessary for the development of a truly global public sphere New global narratives need to meaningfully include the voices and knowledge of those with the least power who are caught in resource fuelled wars Drawing on insights from postcolonial studies international relations development studies and philosophy which are brought to life through auto ethnographic descriptions and analysis of behind the scenes events Giotis introduces new reporting techniques for foreign correspondents Borderland argues that decolonized reporting techniques will help journalists and their audiences move beyond the sociohistorical and political myopia that prevents us from communicating and understanding the reality of a complex world
