Zavaliy,2024-12-16 Motivation in the Ancient Greek Ethos Punishment Shame and Moral Guilt explores motivational techniques that were utilized in the Ancient Greek culture from Archaic to Classical periods to channel the reluctant agent s behavior in a desirable direction Structured around several types of appeal to fear strategies including an appeal to fears of divine retribution earthly punishment public disgrace or oblivion this book analyzes these strategies with regard to their efficiency practical applicability and normative priority In addition Andrei G Zavaliy argues that towards the end of the Classical period of Greek history the repertoire of the standard motivational strategies was enriched by a new possibility an appeal to fear of self shaming and in general to fear of painful inner qualms as a consequence of misbehavior The latter type of incentive was clearly present in Democritus and appeared somewhat tangentially in Plato but was emphatically restated by Aristotle Zavaliy further suggests that the type of psychic discomfort experienced by a wrongdoer according to Aristotle is structurally similar to the pangs of conscience in the way this phenomenon was developed during the late Hellenistic period and this Aristotelian psychic discomfort can thus be reasonably correlated with the feeling of moral guilt The Prayer

The Road to Sleeping Dragon Michael Meyer, 2017-10-10 From the highly praised author of The Last Days of Old Beijing a brilliant portrait of China today and a memoir of coming of age in a country in transition In 1995 at the age of twenty three Michael Meyer joined the Peace Corps and after rejecting offers to go to seven other countries was sent to a tiny town in Sichuan Knowing nothing about China or even how to use chopsticks Meyer wrote Chinese words up and down his arms so he could hold conversations and per a Communist dean's orders jumped into teaching his students about the Enlightenment the stock market and Beatles lyrics Soon he realized his Chinese counterparts were just as bewildered by China's changes as he was Thus began an impassioned immersion into Chinese life With humor and insight Meyer puts readers in his novice shoes winding across the length and breadth of his adopted country from a terrifying bus attack on arrival to remote Xinjiang and Tibet into Beijing's backstreets and his future wife's Manchurian family and headlong into efforts to protect China's vanishing heritage at places like Sleeping Dragon the world's largest panda preserve In the last book of his China trilogy Meyer tells a story both deeply personal and universal as he gains greater if never complete assurance capturing what it feels like to learn a language culture and history from the ground up Both funny and relatable The Road to Sleeping Dragon is essential reading for anyone interested in China's history and how daily life plays out there today

INTRODUCTION There comes a time when the elastic snaps When you push yourself to breaking point and everything crashes down My breaking point came on a gloomy Monday morning commute in 2015 Sitting in my car waiting for the lights to change I looked at two guys in their cars on either side of me They looked as miserable as I felt At that moment I burst into tears What the fuck was I doing with my life I was unhappy in my personal life and hated my job I couldn't see a way out I was too invested in my career too old to start again Looking back I didn't know jack shit about building a fitness business Corporate marketing is one thing Doing everything from scratch alone in a different industry is another I didn't have a creative agency or a multimillion pound budget All I had was a Personal Trainer certificate and the ironparadisefitness.com domain name Nevertheless I started building my online empire Or as I now refer to it pissing in the wind for two years I would write lousy articles post selfies and wonder why clients weren't beating down my virtual door Desperate to carve a way out of corporate life I vowed not to quit My business was my obsession Going out meeting friends and taking a break were a rarity I thought it was the only way to be successful I became a hermit A recluse Like the creepy guy kids fear in horror movies That's Old Man Mitchell from No 29

He never leaves the house Some say he only goes outside to dispose of the dead bodies I wasn't that bad but my social life went on ice I studied nutrition and learned the intricacies of exercise mechanics I read books and invested in courses on social media copywriting and web design Iron Paradise Fitness had consumed my entire life and I loved it It was the fire in my belly I'd been missing The passion I needed Although it did make for awkward conversations on Tinder dates What do you like to do in your spare time The innocent question would come Well I'm building my own business right now so that's my main focus Ah cool But what do you like to do for fun Work on my business Yeah but what about when you're not doing that I'm either working on my business thinking about working on my business or eating Oh
