Backpackers Guide To Making Water Safe For Drinking

1

Boiling

The longer the water stays at a "rolling boil" the more likely it is that any dangerous bacteria will be killed off. The minimum suggested period of rolling boil is one minute but 10 is recommended to be safe.

Recommended
Highly effective at filtering
Protozoa-Cryptosporidium,
Protozoa Giardia Intestinalis,
Bacteria and Viruses

2

Filtration

Filters require you to manually pump water through a filtration device. They can be clunky and a little fiddly due to the number of parts they contain, but, if used effectively, can filter upwards of 1.5 liters per minute.

Effective at filtering
Protozoa-Cryptosporidium,
Protozoa Giardia Intestinalis
but not as effective with bacteria and viruses.

3

Chlorine

Chlorine can be found in house hold bleach. Eight drops of bleach with a 5-6% concentration of sodium hypochlorite will purify one gallon of warm, clear water.

Effective at filtering Bacteria,
Viruses and Protozoa Gi-ardia Intestinalis but not
Protozoa-Cryptosporidium

4

Iodine

Five drops of 2% tincture of Iodine should be added per quart of clear water to purify it; ten drops should be used if the water is cloudy.

Effective at filtering Bacteria and Viruses but not Protozoa-Cryptosporidium
or Protozoa Giardia Intestinalis

5

Purification Tablets or Drops

Water purification tablets and drops make use of chemicals to kill off bacteria lurking in your water. Iodine, chlorine and chlorine-dioxide are the most common chemicals used.

Effective at filtering Bacteria,
Viruses and Protozoa Gi-
ardia Intestinalis but not
Protozoa-Cryptosporidium

6

Combination of Filtering and Disinfection

Other than boiling, filtration and disinfection used in combination provide the most effective pathogen reduction in untreated water.

Recommended
Highly effective at filtering
Protozoa-Cryptosporidium,
Protozoa Giardia Intestinalis,

The Knowledge Lewis Dartnell,2014-04-17 How would you go about rebuilding a technological society from scratch If our technological society collapsed tomorrow what would be the one book you would want to press into the hands of the postapocalyptic survivors What crucial knowledge would they need to survive in the immediate aftermath and to rebuild civilization as quickly as possible Human knowledge is collective distributed across the population It has built on itself for centuries becoming vast and increasingly specialized Most of us are ignorant about the fundamental principles of the civilization that supports us happily utilizing the latest or even the most basic technology without having the slightest idea of why it works or how it came to be If you had to go back to absolute basics like some sort of postcataclysmic Robinson Crusoe would you know how to re create an internal combustion engine put together a microscope get metals out of rock or even how to produce food for yourself Lewis Dartnell proposes that the key to preserving civilization in an apocalyptic scenario is to provide a quickstart guide adapted to cataclysmic circumstances The Knowledge describes many of the modern technologies we employ but first it explains the fundamentals upon which they are built Every piece of technology rests on an enormous support network of other technologies all interlinked and mutually dependent You can t hope to build a radio for example without understanding how to acquire the raw materials it requires as well as generate the electricity needed to run it But Dartnell doesn t just provide specific information for starting over he also reveals the greatest invention of them all the phenomenal knowledge generating machine that is the scientific method itself The Knowledge is a brilliantly original guide to the fundamentals of science and how it built our modern world
