Niger 2005. Une catastrophe si naturelle Abdou Fall, 2007-10-01 Et 2005 les images d'enfants nigériens affamés envahissent les écrans des télévisions occidentales Dans cet ouvrage collectif chercheurs consultants et praticiens de l'action humanitaire proposent différentes lectures de la crise de 2005 au Niger et de ses enjeux Ils appellent une réflexion renouvelée sur les idées reçues qui conditionnent encore aujourd'hui les relations d'assistance et de secours en Afrique Niger 2005 Crombé Xavier, Jézéquel Jean-Hervé, 2007-10-01 Et 2005 les images d'enfants nigériens affamés envahissent les écrans des télévisions occidentales Dans cet ouvrage collectif chercheurs consultants et praticiens de l'action humanitaire proposent différentes lectures de la crise de 2005 au Niger et de ses enjeux Ils appellent une réflexion renouvelée sur les idées reçues qui conditionnent encore aujourd'hui les relations d'assistance et de secours en Afrique , A Not-so Natural Disaster Xavier Crombé, Jean-Hervé Jézéquel, 2009 In 2005 a famine ravaged the country of Niger From the outset the media focused more on the supposed natural causes of the food shortage the droughts and locust infestations that have always plagued the region rather than the political issues that kept NGOs and the government from adequately addressing the crisis In fact a more comprehensive study would have revealed that drought and locusts overtook the Sahel region a year before the famine began and that the death of tens of thousands from malnutrition was not a natural phenomenon Through the diligent work of Médecins Sans Frontières MSF the humanitarian organization also known as Doctors Without Borders a more accurate picture of the 2005 Niger crisis can now take shape MSF treated more than 60 000 children for severe malnutrition during the famine one of the most ambitious operations in the organization's history Struggling to mobilize others to intervene in this emergency situation the MSF sparked controversy among a variety of actors trying to manage the crisis which led to an intense argument over the exact nature of the situation they confronted The public nature of the MSF's involvement outside of the zones in which it traditionally operates led to new routes of reflection and insight The wisdom and knowledge the organization gained informs the essays contained in this book a balanced multifaceted account of the factors that allowed a preventable disaster to occur This unique volume also details the necessary steps Niger should take to prevent this tragedy from happening again The Politics of Fear Michiel Hofman, Sokhieng Au, 2017 The Politics of Fear is Médecins sans Frontières's commissioned analysis of the politics surrounding the 2014 Ebola epidemic and response Comprising eleven topic based chapters and four eyewitness vignettes from contributors inside and outside MSF all of whom have been given access to MSF Ebola archives from Guinea Sierra Leone and Liberia for research it aims to provide a politically agnostic account of the defining health event of the 21st century so far a resource that will inform current opinions and foster effectual cooperative response to the future epidemics From Empires to NGOs in the West African Sahel Gregory Mann, 2015 This book explains the shift from the government of empires to that of NGOs in the region just south of the Sahara It describes the ambitions of newly independent African states their political experiments and the challenges they faced No other book places

Christianity and Public Culture in Africa Harri Englund, 2011-04-26 Christianity and Public Culture in Africa takes the reader beyond Africa's apparent exceptionalism African Christians have created new publics often in ways that offer fresh insights into the symbolic and practical boundaries separating the secular and the sacred the private and the public and the liberal and the illiberal Critical reason and Christian convictions have combined in surprising ways when African Christians have engaged with vital public issues such as national constitutions and gender relations and with literary imaginings and controversies over tradition and HIV AIDS The contributors demonstrate how the public significance of Christianity varies across time and place They explore rural Africa and the continent's major cities and colonial and missionary situations as well as mass mediated ideas and images in the twenty first century They also reveal the plurality of Pentecostalism in Africa and keep in view the continent's continuing denominational diversity Students and scholars will find these topical studies to be impressive in scope Contributors Barbara M Cooper Harri Englund Marja Hinfelaar Nicholas Kamau Goro Birgit Meyer Michael Perry Kweku Okyerefo Damaris Parsitau Ruth Prince James A Pritchett Ilana van Wyk

The Demographics of Empire Karl Ittmann, Dennis D. Cordell, Gregory H. Maddox, 2010-10-05 The Demographics of Empire is a collection of essays examining the multifaceted nature of the colonial science of demography in the last two centuries The contributing scholars of Africa and the British and French empires focus on three questions How have historians demographers and other social scientists understood colonial populations What were the demographic realities of African societies and how did they affect colonial systems of power Finally how did demographic theories developed in Europe shape policies and administrative structures in the colonies The essays approach the subject as either broad analyses of major demographic questions in Africa's history or focused case studies that demonstrate how particular historical circumstances in individual African societies contributed to differing levels of fertility mortality and migration Together the contributors to The Demographics of Empire question demographic orthodoxy and in particular the assumption that African societies in the past exhibited a single demographic regime characterized by high fertility and high mortality

Disputed Desert Baz Lecocq, 2010-11-15 This book deals with the relation between the Malian state and the Tuareg people in the late 20th century which has been characterized by three violent uprisings against Malian authority by Tuareg nationalists between 1963 and 1964 between 1990 and 1996 and again between 2006 and 2009 In presenting a detailed history of this conflict between an African state and a people inhabiting it involuntarily a number of social and political tensions are brought to the fore which haunt all of the Sahel today the heritage of slavery local and European concepts of race and the racialisation of social and political relations colonial rule the inchoate

Cooper, 2019-07-01 A study of pregnancy and childbirth customs in Niger and how it has both a high fertility rate and high rates of maternal and infant mortality How do women in Niger experience pregnancy and childbirth differently from women in the United States or Europe Barbara M Cooper sets out to understand childbirth in a country with the world's highest fertility rate and an alarmingly high rate of maternal and infant mortality Cooper shows how the environment slavery and abolition French military rule and the rapid expansion of Islam have all influenced childbirth and fertility in Niger from the nineteenth century to the present day She sketches a landscape where fear of infertility generates intense competition between communities ethnicities and co wives and creates a culture where concerns about infertility dominate concerns about overpopulation where illegitimate children are rejected and where the education of girls is sacrificed in the name of avoiding shame Given a medical system poorly adapted to women's needs a precarious economy and a political context where it is impossible to address sexuality openly Cooper discovers that it is little wonder that pregnancy and birth are a woman's greatest pride as well as a source of grave danger Beautifully written insightful and full of empathy A must read for anyone seeking to understand the damaging consequences of neglecting women's and infants' health Johanna Schoen author of Abortion after Roe Few experiences are more potent than reproduction Countless Blessings brilliantly unwinds the full import of this potency tracing a history of demography bodily peril parental joy and social religious and political meaning Cooper's tremendous skill and creativity as a scholar enable us to see the political stakes of reproduction even as they are grounded in the intimacies of embodied experience Julie Livingston author of Self Devouring Growth A Planetary Parable as Told from Southern Africa Countless Blessings shows how women in Niger and in West Africa have long navigated the various states of social value personhood spirituality and childbirth and it paints a remarkable picture of how contested and embodied the social and material concerns of childbirth remain for women today Ampson Hagan University of North Carolina Chapel Hill IJAHS

La Politique de la peur Au Sokhieng, 2017-02-20 D CEMBRE 2013. Guinée un petit pays où succombe une maladie non diagnostiquée. Ce décès mystérieux marque le début d'une pandémie d'Ebola de deux ans qui va faire trembler le monde et menacer nombre de pays riches et pauvres confondus en divers endroits de la planète. Le 31 mars 2014, Médecins Sans Frontières MSF lance un avertissement : cette pandémie qui s'est d'abord manifestée en Guinée, en Sierra Leone et au Liberia, est sans précédent hors de contrôle. Il faudra cependant attendre le 8 août pour que l'OMS finisse par déclarer que la pandémie est une urgence de santé publique de portée internationale. En septembre, lorsqu'un cas est diagnostiqué aux États-Unis, la majeure partie du monde tourne enfin son attention sur ces trois petits pays d'Afrique de l'Ouest et la machine médiatique s'emballe produisant en série des scénarios catastrophes. Au cours des mois suivants, la pandémie entame un recul et le 29 mars 2016, l'OMS en déclare officiellement la fin. La maladie virus Ebola aura contaminé 28 646 personnes et fait 11 308 morts. Le maître mot de cette pandémie, la peur. Peur naturelle liée à une maladie mortelle, peur alimentée par les tenants du pouvoir afin d'obtenir des bénéfices politiques. Peur d'urgence sur les autres continents, mais aussi peur des malades. Au sein d'un tel chaos, une situation inédite pour l'organisation MSF s'est retrouvée contrainte d'agir. Cette pandémie a non seulement mis rude preuve ses valeurs éthiques, mais a aussi montré les limites de ses capacités en termes d'infrastructures médicales et logistiques. C'est pour examiner le rôle de l'organisation et tirer les enseignements de cette crise sans précédent que MSF a consulté La Politique de la peur ouvrant même ses archives internes aux contributeurs. De façon impitoyable, la maladie a mis au jour la fragilité du corps humain, de la société et du corps politique. Les textes de cet ouvrage racontent les pans de cette histoire à travers le prisme de diverses disciplines : anthropologie, médecine, histoire, mais aussi de quatre témoignages narrants une expérience personnelle de la pandémie. Car ce qui importe, c'est ce qui se passera demain et la manière dont ceux qui auront fait des choix difficiles pourront bénéficier des leçons du passé.

Human variation represented a central research topic for life scientists and posed challenging administrative issues for colonial bureaucrats in the first half of the 20th century. Vincent Bonnet, Julien Brachet, 2013 Le Dossier Crises et chuchotements au Sahel Coordonné par Vincent Bonnet et Julien Brachet avec les contributions de Raphaële Chevrillon, Guibert Barbara, M. Cooper, Daouda Gary Tounkara, Julien Gavelle, Adam Higazi, Johanna Simant Laure Traor. Nul ne doute que le Sahel est aujourd'hui une région en crise. Cette crise apparaît d'autant plus visible aux yeux du monde que l'Afrique sahélienne n'est plus considérée comme une simple périphérie déshéritée mais comme une région hautement stratégique théâtre de transformations sociales dont les enjeux économiques, politiques et sécuritaires dépassent largement le cadre de ses frontières et dont la stabilisation pourrait avoir des répercussions lointaines. Ce dossier de Politique africaine place le regard des seuls faits matériels qui mettent actuellement en lumière le Sahel et interroge les crises locales de la vie quotidienne et des perceptions locales des populations ainsi que celle des pratiques des acteurs institutionnels et des effets des politiques qu'ils mettent en œuvre. Ces politiques de crise constituent actuellement des outils majeurs de gouvernement des populations sahéliennes. Recherches O. Governo Est. Aqui. Post war State Making in the Angolan Periphery. Dans les premiers jours de l'indépendance de l'Algérie un groupe d'ingénieurs de jeunes Algériens qui se comptaient sur les doigts d'une main des Pieds Noirs qui avaient choisi de rester dans le pays qui les avait vus naître les uns et les autres sortis meurtris d'une guerre sans nom des Français métropolitains indépendantistes ou de jeunes volontaires mobilisés pour la construction du jeune État nation vont faire démarquer les centrales électriques gérer et maintenir les aéroports les routes les barrages et les quelques entreprises stratégiques. Nécessaires hier au développement du capitalisme colonial elles devaient désormais fonctionner pour le bien du plus grand nombre. Solidaires et engagés ils participèrent à l'aventure de la construction de l'économie d'un pays exsangue où tout était à faire. Ils ont donné mais aussi beaucoup appris. Innovent et réussissent. Parfois de courage ils ont remis l'ouvrage sur le métier. Les témoignages de leurs expériences livrés ici sur un moment qui fut une vraie école de vie et de formation humaine et marqua le destin de chacun apparaissent comme autant de leçons d'une autre manière de concevoir les relations entre la France et l'Algérie de concevoir la coopération de penser le transfert de technologie et de les refonder aujourd'hui. L'ultime défi du modèle industrialiste algérien dont rendent compte ici quelques points de vue distancés relativise sans doute ces expériences mais ne peut-on pas penser au contraire que cet échec est justement de l'absence d'accompagnement et d'approfondissement d'une telle expérience dans un contexte qui s'est considérablement transformé entretemps. Sans vouloir apporter une réponse ce questionnement en mettant au jour une mémoire jusque-là occultée le présente.
