Professional Journal of the United States Army, 2014-11 Moving Beyond Personal Loss to Societal Grieving

Michelle M. Falter, Steven T. Bickmore, 2018-11-23 Moving Beyond Personal Loss to Societal Grieving considers how secondary English language arts teachers and teacher educators can sensitively and thoughtfully teach pieces of literature in their classrooms in which large scale deaths are a significant if not central aspect of the texts. As mass shootings and violence against black and brown bodies increase and issues such as AIDS, war, and genocide remain important to discuss as part of a shared critical and social consciousness, this book provides resources for educators to directly tackle and discuss these topics through the texts they read in their ELA classrooms. Whether it is canonical or contemporary literature, middle grades or young adult literature, fiction, nonfiction, or graphic novels, literature provides a vehicle to have these difficult but needed conversations about not only the personal but social effects of death and grief in our society. Each chapter in this book focuses on 1-2 texts and provides practical activities that ask students to engage with death, dying, and loss through writing, assignments, projects, activities, and discussion prompts in order to build empathy, understanding, and develop critically minded and engaged students. Moving Beyond Personal Loss to Societal Grieving will be of interest to English language arts teachers, teacher educators, librarians, and scholars who wish to explore with their students the complex emotions that revolve around discussing deaths that occur in literature.

Teaching for a Tolerant World, Grades 9-12 Leatrice Rabinsky, 1999 A collection of essays and a resource to help high school English teachers adapt their own classroom lessons for teaching about genocide and intolerance. Inspirational and provocative essays by teachers reflect on classroom experiences and present approaches to teaching various works exploring topics such as racial prejudice, the Salem witch trials, and the Holocaust. Methods used include conflict resolution and peer dialogue journals. A final section offers lists of print, nonprint, electronic, and organizational resources. Readings on Night Wendy Mass, 2000 Elie Wiesel

Long Night's Journey into Day Alice L. Eckardt, A. Roy Eckardt, Irving Greenberg, Franklin H. Littell, 2016-11-08 Long Night's Journey into Day is a stimulating and provocative attempt to deal with the impact and meaning of the Holocaust within contemporary Christian and Jewish thought. To Jews, the Holocaust is the most terrible happening in their history, but it must also be seen as a Christian event. The Eckardts call for a radical rethinking of the Christian faith in the light of the Holocaust, examining such issues as the relation between human and demonic culpability, the charge of God's guilt, and the reality of forgiveness. They clarify the theological meaning of the Holocaust and the responsibility that must be borne for it by the Christian Church and discuss possible responses to it as exemplified in the writings of selected modern theologians and church councils. This enlarged and revised edition takes into account new topics and developments, including the issue of Austrian responsibility for the Holocaust, the significance and aftermath of Bittelburg.

and antisemitism in German feminism More detailed attention is also given to other modern genocides and occasions of humanly caused mass death Additional literary historical and religious works are considered and appropriate quotations incorporated The new edition also includes a revised preface an updated bibliography and two new appendices

Holocaust Narratives Thorsten Wilhelm, 2020-06-09 Holocaust Narratives Trauma Memory and Identity Across Generations analyzes individual multi generational frameworks of Holocaust trauma to answer one essential question How do these narratives change to not only transmit the trauma of the Holocaust and in the process add meaning to what is inherently an event that annihilates meaning but also construct the trauma as a connector to a past that needs to be continued in the present Meaningless or not unspeakable or not unknowable or not the trauma in all its impossibilities and intractabilities spawns literary and scholarly engagement on a large scale Narrative is the key connector that structures trauma for both individual and collective The Struggle for Understanding Victoria Nesfield, Philip Smith, 2019-08-01 An in depth look at Elie Wiesel s writings from his earliest works to his final novels Elie Wiesel 1928 2016 was one of the most important literary voices to emerge from the Holocaust The Nazis took the lives of most of his family destroyed the community in which he was raised and subjected him to ghettoization imprisonment in Auschwitz and Buchenwald and a death march It is remarkable not only that Wiesel survived and found a way to write about his experiences but that he did so with elegance and profundity His novels grapple with questions of tradition memory trauma madness atrocity and faith The Struggle for Understanding examines Wiesel s literary religious and cultural roots and the indelible impact of the Holocaust on his storytelling Grouped in sections on Hasidic origins the role of the Other theology and tradition and later works the chapters cover the entire span of Wiesel s career Books analyzed include the novels Dawn The Forgotten The Gates of the Forest The Town Beyond the Wall The Testament The Time of the Uprooted The Sonderberg Case and Hostage as well as his memoir Night What emerges is a portrait of Wiesel s work in its full literary richness This is a marvelous collection The essays are written by a new generation of scholars who have probed Elie Wiesel s work deeply and used the manifest tools of their many disciplines to explore some of the most pressing questions relating to the Holocaust to memory and to Wiesel himself I was deeply impressed Michael Berenbaum American Jewish University Resources in Education , 1998-04

Teaching Death and Dying Christopher M Moreman, 2008-10-03 The academic study of death rose to prominence during the 1960s Courses on some aspect of death and dying can now be found at most institutions of higher learning These courses tend to stress the psycho social aspects of grief and bereavement however ignoring the religious elements inherent to the subject This collection is the first to address the teaching of courses on death and dying from a religious studies perspective

Comic Books as History Joseph Witek,1989 This first full length scholarly study of comic books as a narrative form attempts to explain why comic books traditionally considered to be juvenile trash literature have in the 1980s been used by serious artists to tell realistic stories for adults

There are no Right Answers to Wrong Questions Peter C. Wilcox, 2016-06-28 Abraham Joshua Heschel said that We are closer to God when we are asking questions than when we have the answers He believed that to be a Christian is not to be a person who knows all the answers but one who lives in the part of the self where the question is constantly being born Most of us don't think very much about our questions In our culture we are accustomed to being able to find out answers to nearly any question just by typing it into Google search or asking Siri But behind any answer there is always a question Sometimes the question isn't clear to us sometimes it is not very well articulated even to ourselves But it is always there In over thirty years as a psychotherapist and spiritual director Peter C Wilcox has seen how the questions people ask themselves have shaped their lives in some very important ways This book is an invitation to see how important it is to learn how to ask the right questions about our lives This is because our choice of questions leads us on a path of discovery towards answers that help us to grow spiritually and psychologically Our questions orient our lives and give direction to us We will see that they enable us to make fifteen choices that have a tremendous impact on the kind of person we become The Routledge Handbook to Auschwitz-Birkenau Sarah M. Cushman, Joanne Pettitt, Dominic Williams, 2025-08-12 This handbook examines Auschwitz Birkenau as both a site and a symbol of Nazi genocide Scholars from a range of disciplinary perspectives consider Auschwitz's history by engaging with Holocaust historiography and its place in Holocaust memory and representation illustrating their mutual influence The chapters bring new insights to topics that other studies of Auschwitz have explored before such as the Sonderkommando the Czech family camp and literary representations of Auschwitz Other chapters cover recent developments and more neglected areas such as the experience and memory of Romani prisoners the fate of Soviet prisoners of war and Auschwitz's presence on social media The handbook also responds to a number of recent trends and new paradigms in Holocaust Studies including contributions from the fields of Environmental Studies Spatial Studies and Gender Studies As a crucial overview of the topic of Auschwitz Birkenau and an introduction to its most recent and fruitful scholarly approaches this handbook will be a valuable resource for undergraduates from second year and up as well as for graduate students and researchers seeking a survey of the field The Spirit that Moves Us Laura R. Petovello, Lorry Stillman, Rachel Quenk, Holocaust Human Rights Center of Maine, 1994 For high school students who can be both impassioned and impressionable the study of the Holocaust encourages discussion about prejudice and justice shame and dignity hopelessness and faith and engages them in debate about the moral and ethical behavior of humankind Introducing students to the personal narrative fiction and poetry allows them to hear a narrative voice recount not only the facts of this historical time but also helps them understand the emotions surrounding the events of the Holocaust The chapters on music and art act as supplemental material for lessons on the literature By sharing their ideas debating the issues and researching the historical facts students learn to find their true and honest voices and to listen to the voices
