Nickel Metal Hydride (NiMH) Batteries

Observe the following guidelines when using Nikon EN-ELH1 and EN-ELH2 NiMH batteries.

- Do not interchange batteries between cameras or chargers, as this may lead to changes in the 15- or 20- or 30-minute battery life test run.

⚠ Battery may become hot when charged. Observe this caution after handling batteries during or after charging. Batteries may become hot due to heating and to other performance-related factors after charging under some conditions. This is normal and does not indicate a problem.

- New batteries and batteries that have been left unused for an extended period tend to lose their charge rapidly; this is normal for NiMH batteries and the batteries will reach a charge after being used and recharged several times.

Batteries will benefit from recharging to reach a higher state of charge if:

- The battery and charger terminals are cleaned thoroughly with a clean dry cloth before charging to remove fingerprints and other contaminants that can physically reduce battery performance.
- They are charged at an ambient temperature of 10-30°C (50-86°F).
- They are fully recharged until fully extended (just until the orange light turns green) (EN-ELH1) or until the light turns red (EN-ELH2) before recharging.
