Economics, Entrepreneurship and Utopia Estrella Trincado,Manuel Santos-Redondo,2017-07-20 In the early 1800s Robert Owen was a mill owner political figure and an advocate for social reform and his publications attained considerable circulation He believed that people need good working conditions in order to be encouraged to work and motivated to learn

Despite the higher costs associated with this kind of operation compared to the traditional ones Owen's management resulted in increased productivity and profit. His results caught the attention of men of wealth who were interested in social reform. In particular at a similar time Jeremy Bentham was developing his own theories. Owen and Bentham seemed to be based on some similar ideas that the greatest happiness creates the greatest results. Their ideas developed against the backdrop of the Industrial Revolution and growing social and economic problems in England. Owen and Bentham were forerunners of highly relevant current theories of economics, marginalism, entrepreneurship, personnel management, and constructivism. They were acquainted with such important authors as James Mill, Malthus, Ricardo, and John Stuart Mill. However, their economic theories were ruled out by classical economists who actively tried to silence perspectives different from the orthodoxy. This book presents an innovative study of these two social thinkers and reformers who have rarely if ever been studied together. This comparative study provides new context both on the social debate taking place during the Industrial Revolution and on the development of modern social thought, in particular the relationship between socialism and utilitarianism. Economics, Entrepreneurship, and Utopia will be of great relevance to scholars with an interest in the history of economic ideas, the history of entrepreneurship, and social reform in both historical and contemporary contexts. The Author's Guide to Accounting and Financial Reporting Publications, 1996 A Handbook of Malaysian Cases: Contemporary Issues in Marketing & Management Farzana Quoquab, 2016-11-16 This book is appropriate and useful for the college and university lecturers, practitioners, and students who are undertaking courses in business studies. It is widely acknowledged that only theoretical discussion does not provide the comprehensive understanding about the business decision. This book will contribute in teaching as a tool to provide practical knowledge to the students and/or participants. Apart from the lecturers and students, practitioners also can be benefited from this book since it will provide them understanding about the problems and challenges faced by different types of companies. There is a growing need of reading and understanding the challenges faced by the managers from developing country perspective. Compared to the developed countries, the documentation of local cases are very few. As such, the present book taken the initiative to provide a selection of high quality cases on Malaysia-based companies and MNCs operating in Malaysia about their marketing and management related decision making issues. This book is unique in many ways. These cases, not having been published before, provide a pool of fresh cases for teaching purpose. All eleven cases demonstrate different company issues and different managerial problems which certainly will enrich its readers' understanding about the phenomena. At the end of each case, suggested case assignment questions are provided so that the facilitator will have some preliminary understanding about the questions that can be discussed. Lastly, a brief synopsis of all cases is presented at the end of the book. It is hoped that this book will provide the practical knowledge to its readers. Instructor's Guide Farzana Quoquab, Adriana Md Rizal, Maizaitulaidawati Md Husin, Jihad Mohammad, Arif Hassan, 2018-02-01 This book is ideal for teaching subjects related to marketing management.

entrepreneurship and business ethics It can be used as the tool to teach students trainers in advanced undergraduate and MBA MSc classes It is widely acknowledged that only theoretical discussion does not provide the comprehensive understanding about the business decisions that are taken by the managers and or other parties involved And thus use of cases are common in business studies which not only provides students understanding about the practical aspects of the concepts that are being taught in text books but also it introduces students with several aspects of the real life dilemma complexities and challenges while working in a business environment This book contains teaching notes of the book titled A Handbook of Malaysian Cases Contemporary Issues in Marketing Management in which eleven local cases were presented The teaching notes serve as a guide for instructors who intend to utilize these cases in their classes Each teaching note includes a brief synopsis of the case learning objectives the case s target audience information about the case leading strategies relevant concepts subjects suggested assignment questions and their corresponding suggested answers In this way the instructors will have greater understanding about the use and applicability of the said eleven cases It is hoped that university lecturers practitioners and students who are undertaking courses in business studies will benefit from this book
