UWC schools, colleges and programmes deliver a challenging and transformative education experience to a diverse cross section of students. This inspires them to create a more peaceful and sustainable future.

UWC has twelve schools and colleges across five continents all with distinctive characters but sharing the same mission, ethos and values.

Although strong academic achievement is valued highly at UWC, academic achievements are put into perspective with a demanding mix of community engagement, international affairs, physical activities and creative pursuits.

Our student intake is deliberately diverse and each of the schools and colleges draws together students from many different nations and backgrounds. Our bursaries, scholarships and fee structures aim to ensure a broad socio-economic mix within the student body that adds value to the student experience and the organisation.

UWC depends on the dedication and expertise of a network of volunteers to promote UWC and select future students. These are called national committees and they operate in more than one hundred and forty five countries worldwide.

Each year a national committee will receive from the UWC schools and colleges a specific number of places (which may include a scholarship, bursary/partial scholarship or fee-paying place) for which they select students to study the International Baccalaureate (IB) Diploma. If a national committee exists in your country you must apply through that committee.

The IB Diploma is one of the most well regarded and widely known secondary school qualifications in the world and is recognised by the world's leading universities. Students study six subjects, three at higher level and three at standard level. Subjects are divided into groups and students choose one subject from each group. The groups are: First Language, Second Language, Individuals and Societies, Mathematics and Computer Sciences, Experimental Sciences and Arts.

Challenging the Representation of Ethnically Divided Cities Giulia Carabelli, Aleksandra Djurasovic, Renata Summa, 2021-05-25 The book Challenging the Representation of Ethnically Divided Cities Perspectives from Mostar questions the existing overrepresentation of Mostar as an ethnically divided city While acknowledging the existence of internal borders the chapters in this book assert that they are not solid nor fixed and by exploring how they become material or immaterial the book offers a deeper understanding of the city s complex dynamics Accordingly the chapters in this book are attentive to how ethnic divides materialise or lose importance because of socio political contingencies Events groups and spaces that promote reconciliation from the bottom up are examined not necessarily to assess their success and failures but rather to look at how they create networks gain trust and form platforms that generate novel understandings of ethnic loyalties and party memberships Further and drawing both on the empirical data and theoretical reflections this volume contributes to broader debates about divided cities by suggesting the need to engage with these cities in their complexities rather than reducing them to their ethno national divisions The book engages with socio political and economic complexities in order to shed light on how ethnic conflicts and resulting spatial partitioning are often just the surface of much more complex dynamics that are far less easy to disentangle and represent The chapters in this book were originally published in Space and Polity

The Responsive University and the Crisis in South Africa, 2021-05-31 Around the world higher education is faced with a fundamental question what is the basis for our claim of societal legitimacy In this book the authors go beyond the classical response regarding teaching research and community engagement. Instead, the editor puts forward the proposition that the answer lies in responsiveness: the extent to which universities respond or fail to respond to societal challenges. Moreover, because of its intractable legacy issues and crisis of inequality, the question regarding the societal legitimacy of universities is particularly clearly manifested in South Africa, one of the most unequal countries in the world. The Responsive University brings together contributions on the issue of responsiveness from a number of international university leaders, half of them specifically addressing the South African situation within the context of the international situation as presented by the other authors. In the global discussion about the role of universities in society, this book provides a conceptual framework for a way forward.

New South African Review 6 Devan Pillay, Gilbert M Khadiagala, Roger Southall, Sarah Mosoetsa, Samuel Kariuki, 2018-01-29 Wide ranging essays demonstrate how the consequences of inequality extend throughout society and the political economy. Despite the transition from apartheid to democracy, South Africa is the most unequal country in the world. Its extremes of wealth and poverty undermine intensifying struggles for a better life for all. The wide ranging essays in this sixth volume of the New South African Review demonstrate how the consequences of inequality extend throughout society and the political economy, crippling the quest for social justice, polarising the politics, skewing economic outcomes and bringing devastating environmental consequences in their wake. Contributors survey the extent and consequences of inequality across fields as diverse as education, disability, agrarian reform, nuclear geography and small towns, and tackle some of the most difficult social, political and economic issues. How has the quest for greater equality affected progressive political discourse? How has inequality reproduced itself despite best intentions in social policy to the detriment of the poor and the historically disadvantaged? How have shifts in mining and the financialisation of the economy reshaped the contours of inequality? How does inequality reach into the daily social life of South Africans and shape the way in which they interact?

How does the extent and shape of inequality in South Africa compare with that of other major countries of the global South which themselves are notorious for their extremes of wealth and poverty South African extremes of inequality reflect increasing inequality globally and The Crisis of Inequality will speak to all those general readers policy makers researchers and students who are demanding a more equal world Building the Anti-Racist University Shirley Anne Tate, Paul Bagguley, 2018-12-18 In the new arena for anti racist work in which we find ourselves the neo liberal post race university this interdisciplinary collection demonstrates common global political concerns about racism in Higher Education It highlights a range of issues regarding students academic staff and knowledge systems and all of the contributions seek to challenge the complacency of the post race present that is dominant in North West Europe and North America Brazil s mythical racial democracy and South Africa s post apartheid rainbow nation The collection makes clear that we are not yet past the need for anti racist institutional action because of the continuing impact of coloniality on and in these nations Chapter 7 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license Museum Times Leslie Witz, 2022-06-10 Museums flourished in post apartheid South Africa In older museums there were renovations on the go and at least fifty new museums opened Most sought to depict violence and suffering under apartheid and the growth of resistance These unlikely journeys are tracked as museums became a primary setting for contesting histories From the renowned Robben Island Museum to the almost unknown Lwandle Migrant Labour Museum the author demonstrates how an institution concerned with the conservation of the past is simultaneously a site for changing history Nancy Fraser and Participatory Parity Vivienne Bozalek, Dorothee Hölscher, Michalinos Zembylas, 2020-05-17 Nancy Fraser and Participatory Parity provides a philosophical framework based on the work of Nancy Fraser examining how her ideas can be used to analyse contemporary issues in higher education and reimagine higher education practices Providing a forum for considering Fraser s work in relation to participatory parity in higher education the book shows how her political philosophy is relevant to higher education pedagogies scholarship and practice The recent student protests in South Africa in 2015 and 2016 has created an impetus to think about how to do things differently in higher education in response to economic cultural and political inequities This South African experience is aptly used as a prime example of rethinking issues of coloniality and social injustice in higher education The contributors use of Nancy Fraser s theories provides their analyses and reflections with a particularly sharp lens and clear focus The book also puts her work into conversation with other contemporary writers on social justice and explores the resonances and differentiations of the various approaches This book will be of great interest for academics researchers and post graduate students in the fields of social justice in education and educational policy Linguistic Justice on Campus Brooke R.
