The Company of Wolves James Gracey, 2017-08-01 Co written by Irish filmmaker Neil Jordan and British novelist Angela Carter and based on several short stories from Carter s collection The Bloody Chamber The Company of Wolves 1984 is a provocative reinvention of the fairy tale of Little Red Riding Hood Unraveling a feverish metaphor for the blossoming of a young girl's sexuality and her subsequent loss of innocence the film entwines symbolism and metaphor with striking visuals and grisly effects Released in the early 1980s a time which produced several classic werewolf films including An American Werewolf in London and The Howling The Company of Wolves sets itself apart from the pack with its overtly literary roots feminist stance and art house leanings The film's narrative takes the form of a puzzle box unfolding as dreams within dreams and stories within stories which lead further into the dark woods of the protagonist's psyche as she finds herself on the cusp of womanhood This Devil's Advocate explores all these aspects as well as placing the film in the context of the careers of its creators and its position as an example of the Female Gothic

Gender, Generations, and Communism in Central and Eastern Europe and Beyond Anna Artwińska, Agnieszka Mrozik, 2020-06-03 Communism in twentieth century Europe is predominantly narrated as a totalitarian movement and or regime This book aims to go beyond this narrative and provide an alternative framework to describe the communist past This reframing is possible thanks to the concepts of generation and gender which are used in the book as analytical categories in an intersectional overlap The publication covers twentieth century Poland Czechoslovakia Czech Republic the Soviet Union Russia former Yugoslavia Turkish communities in West Germany Italy and Cuba as a comparative point of reference It provides a theoretical frame and overview chapters on several important gender and generation narratives about communism anticommunism and postcommunism Its starting point is the belief that although methodological reflection on communism as well as on generations and gender is conducted extensively in contemporary research the overlapping of these three terms is still rare The main focus in the first part is on methodological issues The second part features studies which depict the possibility of generational gender interpretations of history The third part is informed by biographical perspectives The last part shows how the problem of generations and gender is staged via the medium of literature and how it can be narrated Lindsay Anderson Diaries Lindsay Anderson, 2013-11-12 The extraordinary and revealing diaries of the revolutionary British film and theatre director who became one of the major cultural figures of his time As a director critic writer and actor Lindsay Anderson established a reputation as one of the most innovative impassioned and fiercely independent British artists of the twentieth century In directing films such as If This Sporting Life and O Lucky Man he championed a new wave of social responsiveness in British cinema while as director at the Royal Court he was responsible for establishing the reputation of a number of groundbreaking plays Throughout his life Anderson stood in opposition to the establishment of his day Published for the first time his diaries provide a uniquely personal document of his artistic integrity and vision his work and his personal and public struggles Peopled by a myriad of artists and stars Malcolm McDowell Richard Harris Albert Finney Anthony Hopkins Brian Cox Karel Reisz Arthur Miller George Michael the Diaries provide a fascinating account of one of the most creative periods of British cultural life Gripping Daily Express Vicious and velvety in roughly equal measure Demands reading at a single sitting Daily Telegraph the reader of this book is richly rewarded Daily Mail
