Americans All Diana Selig, 2008 From the 1920s era decade marked by racism and nativism through World War II hundreds of thousands of Americans took part in a vibrant campaign to overcome racial ethnic and religious prejudices They celebrated the multicultural gifts that immigrant and minority groups brought to society learning that ethnic identity could be compatible with American ideals Diana Selig tells the neglected story of the cultural gifts movement which flourished between the world wars Progressive activists encouraged pluralism in homes schools and churches across the country Countering racist trends and the melting pot theory of Americanization they championed the idea of diversity They incorporated new thinking about child development race and culture into grassroots programs yet they were unable to address the entrenched forms of discrimination and disfranchisement faced by African Americans in particular This failure to grasp the deep social and economic roots of prejudice ultimately limited the movement's power In depicting a vision for an inclusive American identity from a diverse citizenry Americans All is a timely reminder of the debates over difference and unity that remain at the heart of American society

Natural Visions Finis Dunaway, 2016-12-20 Walden Pond The Grand Canyon Yosemite National Park Throughout the twentieth century photographers and filmmakers created unforgettable images of these and other American natural treasures Many of these images including the work of Ansel Adams continue to occupy a prominent place in the American imagination Making these representations though was more than a purely aesthetic project In fact portraying majestic scenes and threatened places galvanized concern for the environment and its protection Natural Visions documents through images the history of environmental reform from the Progressive era to the first Earth Day celebration in 1970 showing the crucial role the camera played in the development of the conservation movement In Natural Visions Finis Dunaway tells the story of how visual imagery such as wilderness photographs New Deal documentary films and Sierra Club coffee table books shaped modern perceptions of the natural world By examining the relationship between the camera and environmental politics through detailed studies of key artists and activists Dunaway captures the emotional and spiritual meaning that became associated with the American landscape Throughout the book he reveals how photographers and filmmakers adapted longstanding traditions in American culture the Puritan jeremiad the romantic sublime and the frontier myth to literally picture nature as a place of grace for the individual and the nation Beautifully illustrated with photographs by Ansel Adams Eliot Porter and a host of other artists Natural Visions will appeal to a wide range of readers interested in American cultural history the visual arts and environmentalism
