Dark Matters Simone Browne, 2015-09-17 In Dark Matters Simone Browne locates the conditions of blackness as a key site through which surveillance is practiced, narrated and resisted. She shows how contemporary surveillance technologies and practices are informed by the long history of racial formation and by the methods of policing black life under slavery such as branding, runaway slave notices and lantern laws. Placing surveillance studies into conversation with the archive of transatlantic slavery and its afterlife, Browne draws from black feminist theory, sociology and cultural studies to analyze texts as diverse as the methods of surveilling blackness she discusses from the design of the eighteenth century slave ship Brooks, Jeremy Bentham's Panopticon and The Book of Negroes to contemporary art, literature, biometrics and post 9/11 airport security practices. Surveillance, Browne asserts, is both a discursive and material practice that reifies boundaries, borders and bodies around racial lines so much so that the surveillance of blackness has long been and continues to be a social and political norm.

Close-Up and Macro Photography Adrian Davies, 2012-11-12 In this exhaustive guide to macro photography, respected author and photographer Adrian Davies takes a comprehensive approach to the subject, covering every aspect of the multi-faceted and often complicated world of close-up photography.
