equity and inclusion at higher education institutions around the world Pedagogies of Post-Truth Ahmet Atay, David H. Kahl Jr., 2021-12-06 Pedagogies of Post Truth explores the national and international political developments in what has been called a post truth society specifically in which conservative groups target media outlets claiming fabrication of news and that the veracity of evidence based reporting should be questioned Truth has been reduced to the validation of opinions instead of the presentation of scientific facts This collection responds to these issues by initiating a scholarly dialogue about teaching in the era of post truth in which research based findings that do not align with political viewpoints are judged criticized and often described as fake Contributors evaluate the pedagogical challenges of post truth discourse and how post truth messages negatively affect instructors and students By highlighting ways instructors and students can resist the hegemony of post truth this book creates a dialogue among scholars illustrates the challenges and offers pedagogical techniques to discuss post truth the role of the educator the role of media and the role of other story makers of our society

Refuge and Resilience Laura Simich, Lisa Andermann, 2014-06-05 Taking an interdisciplinary approach and focusing on the social and psychological resources that promote resilience among forced migrants this book presents theory and evidence about what keeps refugees healthy during resettlement The book draws on contributions from cultural psychiatry anthropology ethics nursing psychiatric epidemiology sociology and social work Concern about immigrant mental health and social integration in resettlement countries has given rise to public debates that challenge scientists and policy makers to assemble facts and solutions to perceived problems Since the 1980s refugee mental health research has been productive but arguably overly focused on mental disorders and problems rather than solutions Social science perspectives are not well integrated with medical science and treatment which is at odds with social reality and underlies inadequacy and fragmentation in policy and service delivery Research and practice that contribute to positive refugee mental health from Canada and the U S show that refugee mental health promotion must take into account social and policy contexts of immigration and health care in addition to medical issues Despite traumatic experiences most refugees are not mentally ill in a clinical sense and those who do need medical attention often do not receive appropriate care As recent studies show social and cultural determinants of health may play a larger role in refugee health and adaptation outcomes than do biological factors or pre migration experiences This book's goal therefore is to broaden the refugee mental health field with social and cultural perspectives on resilience and mental health Educational Sovereignty and Transnational Exchanges in

Post-Secondary Indonesian Education Anita Abbott, 2017-08-03 This book examines the effects of education exchange on educational sovereignty in Indonesia Since independence Indonesia has increasingly relied on the education programs of foreign providers The author draws from critical education dependency and transnational and interdependence theories to highlight the defining features of educational sovereignty and demonstrate the role of state and non state actors in its maintenance Food System Transparency Gabriela Steier, Adam Friedlander, 2021-06-09 This book brings together an international group of agriculture and food lawyers and scientists to define the field of Food System Transparency in three parts the big picture food safety and health and the global view Each part adds to the whole but zooms in through a unique lens Investigating social economic political scientific and legal frameworks this comprehensive volume addresses topics such as food authenticity agroecological evaluations and consumer protection Interwoven themes of transparency contextualize concepts of food safety information sharing and regulatory opportunities at a local and global scale Editors notes provide blended legal and scientific commentary to facilitate further discussion and context within the classroom Advantages of this volume include Chapters written by foremost international experts in their fields Editors notes written for classroom use and background information Figures and tables providing illustrations of important concepts Case studies delivering practicality and in depth analysis to current events A special chapter on COVID 19 and its implications for the food system This book is important reading for graduate level students legal scholars nonlegal academics advocates for food system transparency and resilience agroecology and environmental conservation and practitioners in any cross disciplinary areas relating to food policy It will be of interest to all those who seek to deepen their understanding of the concepts and trends surrounding the information that centers around our food system both domestically in the United States and the European Union as well as in many major trading nations such as China Check out the Support Materials tab on www.routledge.com/9780367440367 for a short video previewing some the key themes in the book

In Pursuit of World-Class Universities Marcelo Rabossi, K.M. Joshi, Saeed Paivandi, 2018-03-10 The pursuit to construct world class universities is an ongoing global obsession across the world which lays emphasis on the development of competitive higher education and research systems as core national economic approach The portrayal world class is more contextual rather than absolute the expression world class university has an irrefutable cachet There is no solo clear cut definition of what organises a world class university WCU but there are few common attributes that majority of the experts point towards The three attributes stated by Philip Altbach and Jamil Salmi that focus on a high concentration of talent abundant resources and favourable governance have been widely discussed in writings and practice Both in developing and developed countries policymakers and higher education leaders are attempting to identify and outline their desires and plans aimed at achieving global ranking for their university universities Despite condemnation of the methodology the choice of indicators and weightings and the reliability and quality of data used for comparing performance the obsession for constructing world class universities has increased over the period of time But how much do we really discern or comprehend regarding the ranking systems What do the rankings really measure Do rankings measure the quality and help in attaining the broad assignment of higher education Does the competition as outcome of ranking raise standards Is the ranking system an apposite instrument to frame higher education policies This edited volume tries to look at the concept of world class universities in milieu of different countries of the world and explore their experiences either in existing WCUs or constructing WCU or attempting to create WCU The country based chapters show differentiated paths of achievements and their approach towards the concept of WCU Articulations of Resistance
