Advances in Computer, Information, and Systems Sciences, and Engineering Khaled Elleithy,Tarek Sobh,Ausif Mahmood,Magued Iskander,Mohammad A. Karim,2007-06-06 The conference proceedings of International Conference on Industrial Electronics Technology not only the reviewing submissions and registration processes but also the actual conference Conference participants authors presenters and attendees only needed an internet connection and sound available on their computers in order to be able to contribute and participate in this international ground breaking conference The on line structure of this high quality event allowed academic professionals and industry participants to contribute work and attend world class technical presentations based on rigorously refereed submissions live without the need for investing significant travel funds or time out of the office Suffice to say that CISSE received submissions from more than 50 countries for whose researchers this opportunity presented a much more affordable dynamic and well planned event to attend and submit their work to versus a classic on the ground conference The CISSE conference audio room provided superb audio even over low speed internet connections the ability to display PowerPoint presentations and cross platform compatibility the conferencing software runs on Windows Mac and any other operating system that supports Java In addition the conferencing system allowed for an unlimited number of participants which in turn granted CISSE the opportunity to allow all participants to attend all presentations as opposed to limiting the number of available seats for each session The implemented conferencing technology starting with the submission review system and ending with the online conferencing capability allowed CISSE to conduct a very high quality fulfilling event for all participants See www.cissee2005.org sections IETA TENE EIAE

Corrupted Jonathan D Jansen,2023-02 Through investigatory reports and interviews Jonathan Jansen reveals the structural conditions for chronic dysfunction in a sample of South African universities He reveals the political economy at work and the intense competition for resources on campuses He also provides interventions for these fragile institutions Why do some universities seem to be in a constant state of turmoil and dysfunction Jonathan Jansen explores the root causes of chronic instability in a sample of South African universities Through scrutiny of investigatory reports and interviews with more than 100 university managers and government officials Jansen finds that at the heart of the dysfunction in universities is an intense and sometimes deadly competition for resources especially on campuses located in impoverished communities It is not the lack of institutional resources but their concentration in a university that draws a mix of corrupt actors from local politicians and taxi operators to members of council and management into a never ending run on the material such as money for infrastructure and symbolic namely graduation certificates for sale assets of these institutions Jansen argues that the problem won t be solved through investments in capacity building alone because the combination of institutional capacity and institutional integrity contributes to serial instability in universities Jansen makes an important intervention to understanding the root causes and offers interventions to produce stabilities such as the depoliticisation of university councils and appointing academics of integrity and capacity in the management and leadership of these fragile institutions This groundbreaking and long overdue study will offer a promising way forward for universities to better serve their communities and the country more broadly
