Experiences of Islamophobia James Carr, 2015-09-07 Since 9 11 interest in Islamophobia has steadily increased as has the number of academic publications discussing the phenomenon However theoretical expositions have dominated the field Lived experiences of Islamophobia by contrast have received little attention In recognition of the importance of addressing this imbalance this book provides theoretically informed analyses alongside everyday testimonies of anti Muslim racism set comparatively in an international context Carr argues that the failure of the neoliberal state to collect data on anti Muslim racism highlights the perpetuation of race blindness within governance Not only does this mean that the salience of racism is denied in the lives of those who experience it but this also enables the state to absolve itself from challenging the issue and providing the necessary supports to Muslim communities Offering original empirical research and theoretical engagement with the concept of race blind neoliberal governance this book will appeal to students and scholars across the social sciences in addition to policymakers and activists working in this topical area

Policy Making and Southern Distinctiveness John C. Morris, Martin K. Mayer, Robert C. Kenter, R. Bruce Anderson, 2021-09-12 Policy Making and Southern Distinctiveness examines the uniqueness of southern politics and their policy choices While decades of scholarship on the politics of the American South have focused on partisanship and electoral outcomes as the primary elements of interest in southern politics few works have focused on the more practical outcomes of these political processes specifically comparing state policy choices of southern states to non southern states This book examines six different policy arenas voting access gun control health care reproductive rights water and COVID 19 pandemic response comparing policy choices in states in the South with states in the non South The authors find that the South is distinct in several but not all of the policy arenas examined They conclude that the South as a region is unique because of the exceptional degree of one party control evident in the South coupled with a long standing preoccupation with partisanship and race based politics Policy Making and Southern Distinctiveness provides valuable insights into how and why states behave in the manner they do and where southern states may diverge from the rest of the country It will be of interest to scholars of southern politics state comparative policy public policy American politics and federalism intergovernmental relations Police Time and Cost Associated with Administrative License Revocation (ALR). ,1993 O. Ziman,2022-06-01 Exploring the basic meaning of police power and how it must be redefined My ultimate objective is uncovering the dynamics of the police citizen contact including the emotional nature of not only the police officer but also the private citizen and probing those wounds of discontent frustration and anger We have to do it now This is the year 2021 and we have to realize that nothing has changed We see the failings of the police citizen contact with no relief in sight I hope to have an impact on all who read these practical insights that I have gained over forty five years I will help you recognize that it is necessary for the private citizens in the community to accept the fact that the police have a very difficult job The police have to intercede in the citizens personal issues of domestic violence the acts of gangs and drugs that create victims and other criminal acts in general that make the community feel unsafe However the demeanor in which an officer responds to these issues must be taught and controlled We have seen that there is a cost to neglecting to teach the police self reliance Police officers sense of self reliance must become a foundation of police training Just as we teach our children how to get dressed use a fork properly and drive a car the police must be taught to be prepared beyond reading a book self defense and shooting a pistol There is a necessity for the police to not only prepare for resistance defiance and physical attacks but also to teach guide reinforce and provide constant remedial training on the recognition and control of their reactions to their emotions This cannot be a basic training subject it must be an occupational necessity with daily reminders of advice guidance and support It must also be recognized that it is not just an individual responsibility to work at such a complex nature of human reaction to emotions but a team effort It begins at the top with recognition education and guidance It must filter down with complete support for the man and woman wearing the badge and facing the onslaught of verbal attacks of overzealousness callousness and even racism at a time that emotions are strained and unpredictable Self reliance is only up to you It creates your future and will reflect your success My motivation has been to make clear that the small components in law enforcement are actually important Failure to acknowledge their importance creates a sequence of events that perpetuate a lack of emotional control at a time that control is most important Hopefully this information will help in understanding the root of our failure to deal with our reactions to our emotions This book is a must have practical reference for both the police and the public alike Looking Beyond Suppression Erika Gebo, Brenda J. Bond-Fortier, 2012-05-31 This edited book significantly contributes to the knowledge on how to address gang problems from a broad community perspective which takes into account criminal justice agencies social service providers and community leaders along with police who have implemented collaborative anti gang policies and practices As community wide efforts become more common it is increasingly important to investigate effective strategies to address social problems Beyond Suppression Community Strategies to Reduce Gang Violence explores a demonstration project of one state s efforts to reduce gang and youth violence through use of a comprehensive initiative the Comprehensive Gang Model CGM The relevance of the CGM as a conceptual framework to guide gang policy and practice is illustrated throughout the book and tailored gang reduction strategies derived from that framework and rooted in the ecological constitution of communities are showcased The chapters highlight implementation strategies employed by various communities using a case study methodology that assists in garnering an in depth perspective of implementation issues and key dimensions of the CGM This book answers important questions about how communities operationalize the CGM The results of these investigations are important for scholars learners and practitioners who seek to address gang violence using a customized response
