

Tropism:

Tropism is the growth (or turning movement) of a plant or part of a plant in response to an external (environmental) stimulus.

Phototropism:

Phototropism is the growth of a plant in the direction of a light source.

Geotropism:

Geotropism is the growth of a plant in response to gravity.

RESPONDING TO THE ENVIRONMENT: PLANTS

Role of Auxins in Phototropism: STEM

- Produced at the tip of stem/shoot
- Auxins move downwards evenly
- The even distribution brings about equal growth on all sides of the stem
- As a result the stem grows upward

Describe what happens when the stem receives unilateral light.

- The auxin concentration will be high on the dark side - light stimulates auxin
- More growth occurs on the dark side because auxin stimulates growth on the dark side
- As a result, the stem bends towards the light

Role of Auxins in Geotropism: ROOT

- Produced at the tip of roots
- Auxins move upwards evenly
- The even distribution brings about equal growth on all sides of the root
- As a result the root grows downward

Describe what happens when the root is placed horizontally.

- The auxin concentration will be high on the lower side of the root - gravity stimulates auxin
- More growth occurs on the upper side of the root because auxin on the lower side inhibits growth
- As a result the root bends downwards

Describe the use of hormones in farming industry:

Auxins	Gibberellins
• Cell-based hormones are used to delay senescence	• Used to regulate growth, which causes cell, e.g. elongation
• Promotes shootless cut development from cuttings	• Development of seeds, development of buds, flowers and fruit

Describe the control of growth using plant hormones:

1.	1. Plant defense mechanisms Auxin: Inhibition against herbivores, as they are unable to escape
2.	2. Chlorophyll Auxin: The chlorophyll content of plants is enhanced in some regions

Describe the role of Ethylene Acid

1. Which type of tropism is illustrated above? Geotropism / Gravitropism
2. Explain the advantage that the upward bending of the stem could have for the plant. Stems will be exposed to maximum sunlight for photosynthesis. Upward flowers more favourable for pollination / seed dispersal

The diagrams below shows two plants at the start of an investigation

- The diagrams were made to start 1
- The seed box in plant B was inverted
- Both plants were covered with a box with a single opening, as shown in the diagram, and placed in a dark room

2.1 Name the growth movement investigated. Phototropism

2.2 Tabulate 100% difference between plants A and B you would expect after two weeks

Plant A	Plant B
100% difference	100% difference
100% difference	100% difference
100% difference	100% difference
100% difference	100% difference
100% difference	100% difference
100% difference	100% difference
100% difference	100% difference
100% difference	100% difference
100% difference	100% difference
100% difference	100% difference

2.3 Plant B was later upright with gibberellins. Explain the effect gibberellins would have on plant B

Gibberellins causes the plant to grow taller, as gibberellins promotes elongation / growth of the internodes

3. Explain why it is not advisable to use auxin-based herbicides on bean plants, which are dicotyledonous

It would kill the leaves, thus reducing the yield. Auxin-based herbicides kill dicotyledonous weeds / plants

4. Name the phenomenon where buds at the tip of the plant regulates the growth of lateral buds. Apical dominance

5. Draw a labeled diagram to show the position of the plumule and the radicle of the seedling after one week
