

Using the PRAXIS Template to Improve Essay Writing

Teachers must use the template as a microcosm for essays.

Sentence 1: Thesis statement → Opening Paragraph

Sentence 2: First supporting example. → 2nd Paragraph Sentence 3: Answers the questions or explains how the first identified example supports the student's point and/or answers the question.

3rd Paragraph

4th Paragraph

Sentences 4-7: Repeat sentences 2 and 3 using two different examples.

Closing: Once you have made your arguments, it is appropriate to close the paper with your conclusions. Do not use your concluding remarks merely to "sum up" what you have already written; that's repetitious. You do not have to sum up a well-written paper, because you have made your points clearly the first time. Instead, use your conclusion to speculate on the larger implications of your argument. Here is a chance to ask yourself, if my argument is true, what else might be true?

Zawacki, 2019-03-15 Re Writing the Center illuminates how core writing center pedagogies and institutional arrangements are complicated by the need to create intentional targeted support for advanced graduate writers Most writing center tutors are undergraduates whose lack of familiarity with the genres preparatory knowledge and research processes integral to graduate level writing can leave them underprepared to assist graduate students Complicating the issue is that many of the graduate students who take advantage of writing center support are international students The essays in this volume show how to navigate the divide between traditional writing center theory and practices developed to support undergraduate writers and the growing demand for writing centers to meet the needs of advanced graduate writers Contributors address core assumptions of writing center pedagogy such as the concept of peers and peer tutoring the emphasis on one to one tutorials the positioning of tutors as generalists rather than specialists and even the notion of the writing center as the primary location or center of the tutoring process Re Writing the Center offers an imaginative perspective on the benefits writing centers can offer to graduate students and on the new possibilities for inquiry and practice graduate students can inspire in the writing center Contributors Laura Brady Michelle Cox Thomas Deans Paula Gillespie Mary Glavan Marilyn Gray James Holsinger Elena Kallestinova Tika Lamsal Patrick S Lawrence Elizabeth Lenaghan Michael A Pemberton Sherry Wynn Perdue Doug Phillips Juliann Reineke Adam Robinson Steve Simpson Nathalie Singh Corcoran Ashly Bender Smith Sarah Summers Molly Tetreault Joan Turner Bronwyn T Williams Joanna Wolfe EdSpeak and Doubletalk Diane Ravitch, Nancy E. Bailey, 2019-12-27 While this glossary will be an indispensable dog eared reference to terminology across the field of education for aspiring teachers and education leaders and should be a required supplemental text for all introductory course the value that Diane Ravitch renowned spokesperson for public education and for the best possible education for all children adds is that she addresses the real profit centered and privatization drivers that lie behind so many organizations and models that have perverted the term reform and purport to care for students but in fact often harm or exploit them a kind of whistleblower book on organizations programs and practices that are not what they seem often branded with positive promotional names masking programs for profit panacea programs with little real benefit to students some like accountability actually harmful to the most financially disadvantaged students through constant testing prep at the expense of learning In Diane s words This book is not simply a glossary of easily defined terms that can be looked up on the Internet It is a judgmental evaluative appraisal of terms and organizations that would not be easily gleaned on the Internet It guides readers through the thickets of jargon and hype that are often sales pitches to unwary consumers It shines a light on the language related to groups and practices that are seriously endangering democratic public schools and the teaching profession K-12 Math and Science Education United States. Handsfield, 2015-10-01 This comprehensive textbook introduces readers to the most influential theories and models of reading and literacy ranging from behaviorism and early information processing theories to social constructionist and critical theories Focusing on how these theories connect with different curricular approaches to literacy instruction pre K to grade 12 the author shows how they both shape and are shaped by everyday literacy practices in classrooms Readers are invited to explore detailed vignettes that offer a practice based view of theories as they are brought to life in the classroom Unlike other books on literacy theories this one devotes substantial attention to linguistically and culturally diverse classrooms and 21st century technologies Book Features Descriptions of well known curricular models and assessment approaches Detailed examples from specific areas of reading and literacy instruction that are prominent in today s schools Textbox discussions exploring histories terminology and debates relevant to the theories presented Examination of how theories and practices relate to current policy initiatives such as the Common Core State Standards User friendly text features such as charts reference lists and inset boxes to help clarify complex concepts In these times when teachers are maligned in both the popular press and professional literature a volume such as this offers the potential to provide intellectual freedom in the complex work of teaching From the Foreword by Annemarie Sullivan Palincsar University of Michigan Finally a text that brings together and honors multiple perspectives and makes clear the power of a good theory for making sense of our worldviews Handsfield provides elegant demonstrations of the relations of literacy theories to actions decisions and practices A must read for literacy educators and researchers Victoria Risko Vanderbilt University

Writing Theology Well Lucretia B. Yaghjian, 2006-11-24 In its creative integration of the disciplines of writing rhetoric and theology Writing Theology Well provides a standard text for theological educators engaged in the teaching and mentoring of writing across the theological curriculum As a theological rhetoric it will also encourage excellence in theological writing in the public domain by helping to equip students for their wider vocations as writers preachers and communicators in a variety of ministerial and professional contexts

Balkan Transnationalism at the Time of Neoliberal Catastrophe Dušan I. Bjelić, 2019-03-27 Offering a fresh look at the ways in which neoliberalism has claimed to cure the Balkan region of its ethnic particularities under the pretext of Europeanization this book shows how the reconfiguration of the economic political and cultural landscape of the region has resulted in its functioning as Europe s neocolony The contributors to this volume engage in postcolonial analysis of the Balkans past and present coloniality by way of interrogating race racism trauma film and global capitalism They challenge the idea of a United Europe that rests on the assumption that the European Union s newness represents both a clean slate and the right to shift ownership of its colonial histories to former colonial subjects and their national histories Taken as a whole the volume seeks to transform Europe s colonial amnesia into postcolonial awareness and to speak from within the Balkans as a site of Europe s neocolony As it critically interrogates a neocolonial reconfiguration of the Balkans as a massive social overhaul which includes at once global integration and local social disintegration this book will be of interest to those studying the region as well as postcolonialism in general This book was originally published as a special issue of
