Readers who wish to learn more about this topic can refer to Artificial Intelligence and Human Agency in Education Volume Two Ethics in the Anthropology of Business Timothy de Waal Malefyt, Robert J. Morais, 2017-05-02. Ethics in business is a major topic both in the social sciences and in business itself. Anthropologists long attendant to the intersection of ethics and practice are particularly well suited to offer vital insights on the subject. This timely collection considers a range of ethical issues in business through the examination of anthropologically informed theory and case examples. The meaning of ethical values, practices and education are explored as well as practical ways of implementing them while the specific ethical challenges of industries such as advertising, market research and design are considered. Contributions from anthropologists in business and academia promise a broad range of perspectives and add to the growing discussion on the ways anthropologists study, work, teach and engage in a variety of industry settings. Engagingly written, Ethics in the Anthropology of Business will be of interest to a wide variety of audiences including practicing anthropologists, current and future business leaders and scholars and students from a range of social sciences.

Intersectionality and Creative Business Education Bhabani Shankar Nayak, 2023-06-29. Creative Business Education is emerging rapidly to address the needs of the creative industries including digital media, journalism, advertisement, music, marketing, films, fashion and sports business etc. Inclusive educational praxis, decolonial knowledge, traditions and diverse curriculums are central to egalitarian economic development and human empowerment. As such, this edited volume explores how creative business education specifically can help to build a more diverse and inclusive environment for an increasingly diverse body of students and faculty. It discusses how students can be encouraged to succeed and excel, reflecting on the need for academic pedagogies to embrace greater inclusivity for diverse cultures. Advancing different theoretical trends within intersectionality and the limits of its praxis, contributors deal with different forms of inequalities based on class, gender, race, religion and belief, sexual orientation and disabilities in teaching and learning. It is important to articulate and outline the critical lineages of intersectionality within creative business education and its progressive potentials for pedagogical transformation. The Subject Index to Periodicals, 1920 Digital Business and Electronic Commerce Bernd W. Wirtz, 2024-06-04. This textbook introduces readers to digital business from a management standpoint. It provides an overview of the foundations of digital business with basics, activities and success factors and an analytical view on user behavior. Dedicated chapters on mobile and social media present fundamental aspects, discuss applications and address key success factors. The Internet of Things (IoT) is subsequently introduced in the context of big data, cloud computing and connecting technologies with a focus on industry 4.0 and the industrial metaverse. In addition, areas such as smart business services, smart homes, and digital consumer applications, as well as artificial intelligence, quantum computing, and automation based on artificial intelligence, will be analysed. The book then turns to digital business models in the B2C business-to-consumer and B2B business-to-business sectors. Building on the business model concepts, the book addresses digital business strategy, discussing the strategic digital business environment and digital business value activity systems (dVAs) as well as strategy development in the context of digital business. Special chapters explore the implications of strategy for digital marketing and digital procurement. Lastly, the book discusses the fundamentals of digital business technologies and security and provides an outline of digital business implementation. A comprehensive case study on Google Alphabet explains Google's organizational history, its integrated business model, and its market environment. rounds out the book Assessment, Bureaucracy, and Consolidation Donald Parkerson, Jo Ann Parkerson, 2015-06-09 American education has changed dramatically over the last century. The small, locally controlled school supported by a concerned educational village fostered learning, personal accountability, patriotism, and economic growth for a young nation. Today, however, American schools are typically large, consolidated, bureaucratic organizations controlled by state and/or municipal governments. The administration of these schools is hierarchical and corporate in form, while its curriculum is oriented toward the needs of the business community. Assessment through standardized testing, moreover, has become the cornerstone of American education.

Assessment, Bureaucracy, and Consolidation: The Issues Facing Schools Today examines this remarkable transformation in the form and function of education and assesses the problems and possibilities for the future of schools and our nation. Additional key features of this book include:

- A clear, comprehensive history of the modern American school from the nineteenth century to the present and its impact on teachers, students, parents, and the community at large.
- An explanation of the impact of bureaucratic organization and the movement toward large schools.
- Critiques of past reform experiments in public education.
- A placement of the contemporary standardized assessment movement in historical context.
- A reevaluation of the relationship between education and business.
- An evaluation of returning education to locally controlled schools.
- Reconnecting educational practitioners with the educational village.
