In this exemplary contribution to the new imperial history, Gregory Mann argues that this shared military experience between France and Africa was fundamental not only to their colonial relationship but also to the reconfiguration of that relationship in the postcolonial era. Mann explains that in the early twenty-first century, among Africans in France and Africa, and particularly in Mali, where Mann conducted his research, the belief that France has not adequately recognized and compensated the African veterans of its wars is widely held and frequently invoked. It continues to animate the political relationship between France and Africa, especially debates about African immigration to France. Focusing on the period between World War I and 1968, Mann draws on archival research and extensive interviews with surviving Malian veterans of French wars to explore the experiences of the African soldiers. He describes the effects their long absences and infrequent homecomings had on these men and their communities he considers the veterans status within contemporary Malian society and he examines their efforts to claim recognition and pensions from France Mann contends that Mali is as much a postslavery society as it is a postcolonial one and that specific ideas about reciprocity mutual obligation and uneven exchange that had developed during the era of slavery remain influential today informing Malians conviction that France owes them a blood debt for the military service of African soldiers in French wars Native Son (MAXNotes Literature Guides) Richard Bucci,2013-01-01 REA s MAXnotes for Richard Wright s Native Son MAXnotes offer a fresh look at masterpieces of literature presented in a lively and interesting fashion Written by literary experts who currently teach the subject MAXnotes will enhance your understanding and enjoyment of the work MAXnotes are designed to stimulate independent thought about the literary work by raising various issues and thought provoking ideas and questions MAXnotes cover the essentials of what one should know about each work including an overall summary character lists an explanation and discussion of the plot the work s historical context illustrations to convey the mood of the work and a biography of the author Each chapter is individually summarized and analyzed and has study questions and answers Richard Wright's Native Son & Black Boy Michael Gallantz,1986 Richard Wright s powerful and bestselling masterpiece reflects the poverty and hopelessness of life in the inner city and what it means to be black in America Richard Wright Keneth Kinnamon,2014-11-04 African American writer Richard Wright 1908 1960 was celebrated during the early 1940s for his searing autobiography Black Boy and fiction Native Son By 1947 he felt so unwelcome in his homeland that he exiled himself and his family in Paris But his writings changed American culture forever and today they are mainstays of literature and composition classes He and his works are also the subjects of numerous critical essays and commentaries by contemporary writers This volume presents a comprehensive annotated bibliography of those essays books and articles from 1983 through 2003 Arranged alphabetically by author within years are some 8 320 entries ranging from unpublished dissertations to book length studies of African American literature and literary criticism Also included as an appendix are addenda to the author s earlier bibliography covering the years from 1934 through 1982 This is the exhaustive reference for serious students of Richard Wright and his critics English Journal ,1999

Perdigao,2016-04-22 How fictional representations of dead bodies develop over the twentieth century is the central concern of Lisa K Perdigao s study of American writers Arguing that the crisis of bodily representation can be traced in the move from modernist entombment to postmodernist exhumation Perdigao considers how works by writers from F Scott Fitzgerald William Faulkner Willa Cather and Richard Wright to Jody Shields Toni Morrison Octavia Butler and Jeffrey Eugenides reflect changing attitudes about dying death and mourning For example while modernist writers direct their plots toward a transformation of the dead body by way of metaphor postmodernist writers exhume the transformed body reasserting its materiality Rather than viewing these tropes in oppositional terms Perdigao examines the implications for narrative of the authors apparently contradictory attempts to recover meaning at the site of loss She argues that entombment and exhumation are complementary drives that speak to the tension between the desire to bury the dead and the need to remember indicating shifts in critical discussions about the body and about the function of aesthetics in relation to materialized violence and loss Power House ,1929 Schools for the Middle Years George C. Stoumbis,Alvin W. Howard,1969 Young Adult and Canonical Literature Paula Greathouse,Victor Malo-Juvera,2021-03-15 In the last decade alone the world has changed in seismic ways as marriage equality has been ruled on by the supreme court social justice issues such as metoo and BlackLivesMatter have arisen and issues of immigration and deportation have come to the forefront of politics across the globe Thus there is a need for an updated text that shares strategies for combining canonical and young adult literature that reflects the changes society has and continues to experience The purpose of our collection is to offer secondary 6 12 teachers engaging ideas and approaches for pairing young adult and canonical novels to provide unique examinations of topics that teaching either text in isolation could not afford Our collection does not center canonical texts and most chapters show how both texts complement each other rather than the young adult text being only an extension of the canonical Within each volume the chapters are organized chronologically according to the publication date of the canonical text The pairings offered in this collection allow for comparisons in some cases for extensions in others and for critique in all Volume 2 covers The Canterbury Tales 1392 through Fallen Angels 1988 Teaching African American Literature Maryemma Graham,Sharon Pineault-Burke,Marianna White Davis,2013-12-16 This book is written by teachers
