Talk about Writing: The Tutoring Strategies of Experienced Writing Center Tutors offers a book-length empirical study of the discourse between experienced tutors and student writers in satisfactory conferences. The study uses a research-driven, iteratively tested framework to help writing center directors, tutors, writing program administrators, rhetoric and composition researchers, first-year composition instructors, and others interested in talk about writing to systematically analyze tutors' talk and to use that analysis to train new tutors. The book strives toward two main goals: to provide an analytical research and assessment tool, the coding scheme that other researchers can use to understand writing center tutor talk, and to provide a close empirical analysis of experienced tutor talk that can facilitate tutor training. The study details tutors' use of three categories of tutoring strategies: instruction, cognitive scaffolding, and motivational scaffolding at macro and microlevels, and results in practical recommendations for improving tutor training.

Developing Chinese EFL Learners' Generic Competence Liming Deng, Qiujin Chen, Yanyan Zhang, 2014-05-28. This work investigates the development of English as a Foreign Language (EFL) learners' generic competence in reading, writing, and translation within the particular Chinese classroom context. It provides a new perspective for the current teaching and research in reading, writing, translation within the EFL contexts and offers an insightful framework for pedagogical applications in language learning and teaching. Its findings will be extremely valuable not only in local situations but also more generally in a wider regional and global context as well. The book employs a series of research tools, including pre-research and post-research questionnaires, pre-test and post-test of reading, writing, translation, multi-faceted writing portfolios, including reflection reports, textual analysis, and in-depth interviews. It involves 209 participants from a primary university in Wuhan, among whom 171 are undergraduates and 38 are postgraduates. And it draws on the analysis of such varied, multi-sourced data, both qualitatively and quantitatively. Genre-based teaching is playing a critical role in initiating EFL learners into the discourse community of the target language. Developing EFL learners' generic competence is viewed as the ultimate goal in the process of teaching and learning This monograph effectively demonstrates that like genre based English for Specific Purposes ESP pedagogies it is also possible to take advantage of already acquired genre knowledge for use in EFL learning contexts It offers an impressive view of the direction in which genre based applications are likely to take in the coming years The ICNALE Guide Shin'ichiro Ishikawa,2023-03-28 This book provides a practical and extensive guide for the International Corpus Network of Asian Learners of English ICNALE a unique dataset including more than 15 000 samples of Asian learners L2 English speeches and essays It also offers approachable introductions to a variety of corpus studies on the aspects of Asian learners L2 English Key topics discussed in the book include background aims and methods of learner corpus research principles designs and applications of the ICNALE vocabulary grammar and pragmatics in Asian learners L2 English and individual differences of Asian learners and assessments of their speeches and essays With many case studies and hands on guides to utilise ICNALE data to the fullest extent The ICNALE Guide is a unique resource for students teachers and researchers who are interested in a corpus based analysis of L2 acquisition
