

Histoire 2 : Comment Madame M est devenue prof de français

Madame M n'avait jamais pensé devenir prof de français. Au lycée, elle voulait être astronaute ! Mais un jour, elle a eu une nouvelle prof de français très drôle et passionnée. Grâce à elle, Madame M a commencé à aimer la langue française.

Elle écrivait des poèmes et lisait des romans tout le temps. À l'université, elle a décidé d'étudier le français et un jour, elle a donné un cours pour la première fois. Les élèves ont adoré à la fin du cours ! Ce moment-là, elle ne l'oubliera jamais.

Questions de compréhension

1. Quel métier voulait être Madame M au lycée ?
2. Qu'est-ce qui a changé son opinion ?
3. Que faisait-elle tout le temps à l'université ?
4. Quand a-t-elle donné son premier cours ?
5. Comment ont réagi les élèves ?

The Fictions of Language and the Languages of Fiction Monika Fludernik, 2003-12-16 Monika Fludernik presents a detailed analysis of free indirect discourse as it relates to narrative theory and the crucial problematic of how speech and thought are represented in fiction Building on the insights of Ann Banfield s Unspeakable Sentences Fludernik radically extends Banfield s model to accommodate evidence from conversational narrative non fictional prose and literary works from Chaucer to the present Fludernik s model subsumes earlier insights into the forms and functions of quotation and aligns them with discourse strategies observable in the oral language Drawing on a vast range of literature she provides an invaluable resource for researchers in the field and introduces English readers to extensive work on the subject in German as well as comparing the free indirect discourse features of German French and English This study effectively repositions the whole area between literature and linguistics opening up a new set of questions in narrative theory

Eloquent Obsessions Marianna Torgovnick, 1994 Out of the core of experience these essays began as obsessions Whether founded in some strongly lived moment deeply held conviction long term interest or persistent and unanswered question these essays reveal the writer s voice personal often passionate full of conviction certainly unmistakable Marianna Torgovnick has drawn together writings by leading contemporary scholars in the humanities representing fields of literary criticism American and Romance studies anthropology and art history Eloquent Obsessions presents cultural criticism at its thoughtful and writerly best This collection explores a wide range of issues at the intersection of personal and social history from growing up in the South to exploring a love for France or Japan from coming of age as a feminist to mapping the history of National Geographic from examining the cultural we to diagnosing class structures in Israel or showing how photography deals with AIDS The authors here bring writerly genres autobiography memoir or travel narrative to intellectual tasks such as textual readings or investigating the histories of institutions Continuing a tradition of cultural criticism established by writers such as Samuel Johnson Zora Neale Hurston Edmund Wilson Hannah Arendt or Raymond Williams these essays seek to make a difference to have an impact and are based on the fundamental premise that writers have something to say about society Simply put this collection offers models for writing eloquently about culture models that are intellectually and socially responsible but attuned to the critic's voice and the reader's ear. Aimed not just at academics but also at a more general audience alive to the concerns and interests of society today. Eloquent Obsessions a revised and expanded version of a special issue of South Atlantic Quarterly Winter 1992 will extend beyond the academy contemporary ways of writing about culture. Miller, Linda Orr, Andrew Ross, Henry M. Sayre, Jane Tompkins, Marianna Torgovnick. Teaching French Grammar in Context Stacey Katz, Bourns, Stacey L. Katz, Carl Stewart Blyth, 2007-01-01. Something needs to be done about grammar. Katz and Blyth have written this book with the hope of changing the way French instructors teach and conceive of grammar. Intended to help teachers and teacher trainers develop an understanding of French discourse that is grounded in recent theoretical and sociolinguistic research, this book is devoted to informing teachers in training as well as experienced teachers about cutting edge methods for teaching grammar. It also describes the grammatical features of the French language in its social context. At the same time it provides suggestions for applying such abstract knowledge in practical pedagogical ways, for example how to structure grammatical explanations, devise classroom activities and take advantage of resources that give students greater exposure to French as it is truly used in various discourse environments. Dynamic Assessment Matthew

E. Poehner, 2008-03-06. Dynamic Assessment (DA) reconceptualizes classroom interactions by arguing that teaching and assessment should not be distinct undertakings. This book offers a much needed coherent framework for co-constructing a ZPD with learners in order to simultaneously reveal the full range of their abilities and promote development. DA has a long history in education but it is new to the L2 field. This book provides the first book-length treatment of DA in the language classroom. Comparative Stylistics of French and English Jean-Paul Vinay, Jean Darbelnet, 1995-12-01. The Stylistique comparée du français et de l'anglais has become a standard text in the French-speaking world for the study of comparative stylistics and the training of translators. This updated first English edition makes Vinay and Darbelnet's classic methodology of translation available to a wider readership. The translation-oriented contrastive grammatical and stylistic analyses of the two languages are extensively exemplified by expressions, phrases and texts. Combining description with methodological guidelines for translation, this volume serves both as a course book and through its detailed index and glossary as a reference manual for specific translation problems. Foreign Language Units for All Proficiency Levels Carl Falsgraf, 2007. Language students learn best when given the opportunity to communicate meaningful content in realistic settings. See how technology can help. Narrative Development in a Multilingual Context Ludo Verhoeven, Sven Strömquist, 2001-12-31. In this volume the results of a number of empirical studies of the development of narrative construction within a multilingual context are presented and discussed. It is explored what operating principles underlie the process of narrative production in L1 and L2. Developmental relations between form and function will be studied across a broad range of functional categories.

such as temporality perspective connectivity and narrative coherence Moreover a variety of language contact situations is considered with broad variation in the typological distances between the languages in order to enable cross linguistic comparison The analysis of learner data in various cross linguistic settings may thus offer new information on the role of the structural properties of unrelated languages on the process of narrative acquisition In the present volume an attempt is also made to find out how transfer from one language to the other is facilitated Finally the effects of input on narrative construction in children s first and second language are examined in several studies

Medieval Narratives and Modern Narratology Evelyn Birge Vitz,1989 This is a very interesting collection of topics that centers on critical methodologies and the central problems of medieval alterity

French Fiction into the Twenty-First Century Simon Kemp,2010-07-15 Explores the state of French fiction through an examination of the work of five major French writers Annie Ernaux Pascal Quignard Marie Darrieussecq Jean Echenoz and Patrick Modiano This book deals with some of the writers on British and American university French courses

A Linguistic Handbook of French for Translators and Language Students Paul Boucher,2018-04-03 A Linguistic Handbook of French for Translators and Language Students offers the reader an in depth contrastive study of French and English based on recent theories of linguistics and discourse analysis At the same time it is a practical manual for the advanced language student or the translator with dozens of exercises in analyzing and translating French along with detailed corrections Organized in three sections Structure Perspective and Coherence the handbook first explores French word formation and syntax then moves on to the use of tense and aspect illocution and speech styles in various text types Finally problems concerning textual coherence and cohesion in both languages are discussed anaphora and ellipsis relevance and equivalence and information structure Each chapter is followed by a list of suggested readings for further discussion and a detailed glossary at the end of the book explains all technical terms used The handbook is designed to be used either as a textbook or for individuals working at home

Relative Tense and Aspectual Values in Tibetan Languages Bettina Zeisler,2011-06-24 This study presents a comparative approach to a universal theory of TENSE ASPECT and MOOD combining the methods of comparative and historical linguistics fieldwork text linguistics and philology The parts of the book discuss and describe i the concepts of TENSE ASPECT and MOOD ii the Tibetan system of RELATIVE TENSE and aspectual values with main sections on Old and Classical Tibetan Lhasa Tibetan and East Tibetan Amdo and Kham and iii West Tibetan Ladakhi Purik Balti Part iv presents the comparative view Discussing the similarities and differences of temporal and aspectual concepts the study rejects the general claim that ASPECT is a linguistic universal A new linguistic concept FRAMING is introduced in order to account for the aspect like conceptualisations found in e g English The concept of RELATIVE TENSE or taxis may likewise not be universal Among the Tibetan varieties West Tibetan is unique in having fully grammaticalized the concept of ABSOLUTE TENSE West Tibetan is compared diachronically with Old and Classical Tibetan documented since the mid 8th century and synchronically with several contemporary Tibetan varieties

The grammaticalized forms of each variety are described on the basis of their employment in discourse The underlying general function of the Tibetan verbal system is thus shown to be that of RELATIVE TENSE Secondary aspectual functions are described for restricted contexts A special focus on the pragmatic or metaphorical use of present tense constructions in Tibetan leads to a typology of narrative conventions The last part also offers some suggestions for the reconstruction of the Proto Tibetan verb system The Development of Past Tense Morphology in L2 Spanish M. Rafael Salaberry,2001-02-12

This book presents an extended analysis of the development of L2 Spanish past tense morphology among L1 English speaking learners The study addresses three major questions 1 what is the developmental pattern of acquisition of past tense verbal morphology among tutored learners 2 what are the relevant factors that may account for the particular distribution of morphological endings especially at the beginning stages and 3 how does instruction affect the movement from one stage to the next The analysis provides a reassessment of the general claim of Andersen s lexical aspect hypothesis and proposes minor changes that may render the hypothesis more appropriate for especially L2 classroom learning The study includes an overview of theoretical positions on the notion of lexical versus grammatical aspect and a comparison of the findings from previous empirical studies on the development of past tense verbal morphology among both classroom and naturalistic learners

The Acquisition of the Present Dalila Ayoun,2015-10-15 This is the first edited volume that tackles the acquisition of the present tense aspect temporality an under researched area particularly compared to the acquisition of past temporality The first two chapters focus on the L1 acquisition of English from the perspective of the Aspect hypothesis and the Verb Island hypothesis Wang Shirai and the L1 acquisition of French from the perspective of the zero tense hypothesis Demirdache Lungu The remaining chapters tackle the L2 acquisition of English Liszka Al Thubaiti Vraciu French Ayoun Saillard Spanish Gabriele et al Russian Martelle and Japanese Shirai Li by learners of different L1s French English Arabic Chinese and Korean testing various semantic and syntactic hypotheses The last chapter presents a summary of the findings and offers a few conclusions as well as broad directions for future research The Story of French Jean-Benoît
